Wilkinson Case Leaves JP Jarman Unruffled

By FRED C. SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown's dog-catcher case may have put Schwenksville Justice of the Peace Walter Jarman "on the spot," but he seemed to be taking it in his stride yesterday.

A justice of the peace for nearly 12 years, Jarman held a hearing a week ago on charges that Willard Wilkinson, Pottstown's dog-catcher, was guilty of cruelty to animals.

Four Pottstown area police chiefs, one minor police official and Burgess William A. Griffith testified, all on Wilkinson's side.

Jarman thought the case over, listened to all the testimony again on a wire recorder and listened to all major parts of it still a third time.

The past Monday, he gave his decision. He found Wilkinson guilty and fined him $20 and costs.

Wilkinson's attorney, Louis Sager, is appealing.

DID JARMAN, who like every justice of the peace is to a large extent dependent on police for the volume of cases he gets, feel "on the spot" because he ruled against the police's side in this case?

"No, I didn't feel 'on the spot' at all," Jarman answered yesterday. "I don't care what side police are on. I wouldn't care if Judge Knight or Judge Corson had testified for him. I base my decision on what I hear, on the evidence and only the evidence."

Jarman also emphasized he didn't "have any axe to grind" in the case.

"I didn't know a thing about it until it came walking in here," he asserted.

While he's naturally hopeful that the Montgomery county court will uphold his decision, he isn't worried about it. In fact, he's already offered to give the SPCA or Sager the use of his wire recording of the testimony, or to let them have it transcribed by a stenographer.

Jarman pointed out that a justice of the peace hearing is not a court of record, that he is under no legal obligation to make a record of all the testimony.

He was philosophic about the possibility of his decision being overruled by the court. It happened to him before, in a dog-poisoning case the past year, when a Montgomery county judge followed the precedent of a Bucks county judge.

While he isn't arguing with the judges about that case, he wasn't upset by the reversal. He felt he had done his best in that case, too.

HEARING AND acting on Wilkinson's case meant long hours for Jarman, but they're no novelty to him. Every week he's in his Main street office 105 hours—8 a. m. to 11 p. m. seven days a week.

Jarman closes his office only one night a month, when he attends meetings of the Montgomery County Justices of the Peace association.

In addition, he's attended all schools conducted by the association since he became a JP on Jan. 1, 1942, which was his 44th birthday. On the walls of his office he has seven certificates of attainment from these schools.

Jarman now is the only justice of the peace in Schwenksville. He handles 400 traffic cases a year, plus civil actions, plus his real estate and insurance business.

For nine years, he was in highway work. From 1929 to 1952, he was in the quarry business, most of the time as a superintendent.

He gave up quarry work on doctor's orders, because rock dust was affecting his lungs. His health has been good since.

He and his wife, Della, have a son, John W. S. Jarman Jr., who's a captain in the Army, who served in Europe during World War II and more recently in Korea.

Of his work, he said: "I enjoy it—any of it, no matter what."

He intends to keep right on in it.

He's up for re-election this Fall.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR BIG RALLY

Religious Demonstration Okay Awaited by Society

Although local Holy Name society members are awaiting official confirmation, plans for holding the largest religious demonstration ever in the Philadelphia area are steadily progressing.

In preparation for the demonstration, delegates from 270 Catholic churches in the five-county Philadelphia area will meet on Sunday, Sept. 13, at St. Richard's Roman Catholic church, 18th and Pollock streets to discuss final plans.

Monsignor John J. McKenna, spiritual director of the Holy Name Union will give the details. Scheduled for Sunday evening, Oct. 11, the general committee expects 80,000 members of the Holy Name societies of several parishes in the line of march from Broad street (center of city) to the Benjamin Franklin parkway.

At the parkway at 9 p. m. the first evening open-air solemn pontifical mass in the history of the church in the US will be celebrated by the Most Rev. Joseph McShea, auxiliary bishop of Philadelphia.

Archbishop John F. O'Hara, CSC, will deliver the sermon and will impart the Papal Blessing with a plenary indulgence after the Last Gospel of the mass.

THE SPCA has been seeking Wilkinson's dismissal for months. Six weeks ago an unofficial hearing was held before the Burgess. In effect, Wilkinson was acquitted by the Burgess.

After this "hearing," Wilkinson reversed a previous statement and announced he would not resign as dog-catcher.

Attorney Sager yesterday affirmed his intention of filing the appeal this morning in Montgomery county courthouse.

"I'm drawing up the papers now," he asserted.

He indicated that Wilkinson could continue as dog catcher, at least for the time being, if he wanted to. Wilkinson said yesterday, "I have no statement to make."

College-Bound

YEAR-OFF GOOD, COLLEGE-BOUND GIRL AFFIRMS

Will Continue Education After Working For Year

A young Pottstown area woman entering college this month had some advice yesterday for young people leaving high school who don't have a clear idea of education's value—Do as she's done, deliberately take a year off between high school and college.

Jolyn Stone, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Stone, Pottstown RD 1, near Brownback's church, will work her last day today as general clerk at Spicer Manufacturing division's plant.

She'd intended to go to college immediately upon her graduation from Spring City High school in June of 1952 but she's worked for a year instead, first for Jones Motor company, near Spring City, then since March, for Spicer's.

Sept. 13 she'll enter Westhampton college, part of the University of Richmond, Va., the start of what she believes will be the eight-year quest for a Ph.D. degree in biology.

MISS STONE was too late in applying to Westhampton the year she graduated. "I could have gone to some other colleges," she said, "but I decided to work a year, then go to a good college."

Of her unusual year-off, she said, "For me, I think it was good. You really don't appreciate it (college) if you go straight out of high school. You don't appreciate what you would have to do without an education. You might not know it's pretty near impossible to get ahead without an education."

While for her the year-off was good, she said it might not be good for everyone. "If they really know what they want and know what it means, then they should go ahead. You can forget an awful lot in a year."

What she will miss most at Spicer's, she said, will be "the people—they're wonderful." What she'll miss least is "getting up at 6 o'clock in the morning."

After she stops work, she said, "I'm going to look for clothes. I am a woman, you know."

AT THE END of eight years of college and graduate school, she hopes to become a laboratory biologist. "I'd like to have my own laboratory."

The year-off hasn't done a thing to weaken her resolve to get the Ph.D. in biology. She said she's been interested in it "ever since I was large enough to know what it is."

Miss Stone's hobbies include sketching and oil painting. She has a brother, Arthur, 20, who graduated this year from Pennsylvania State college.

12-Year-Old Boy Injured As Auto Strikes Bicycle

A 12-year-old boy was injured slightly yesterday when he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle.

Treated at a doctor's office was Donald Myers, 12, 119 South Penn street. He was struck while riding near York and Manatwny streets about 5:40 p. m.

The operator of the car was Marshall Kauffman, 251 Walnut street. The boy suffered a bruised right leg.

Lower Frederick Board Discusses Road Work

At a business meeting of the Lower Frederick road board last night several bills were ordered paid.

Meeting at the home of Samuel Krupp, he and the other member of the board, Raymond Sauter, discussed the resurfacing of several roads and the possible construction of another road.

Heat Wave Soaks Pottstonians; Record Broken for Fourth Day

By NORMAND POIRIER (Mercury Staff Writer)

For the seventh straight day yesterday, a record-breaking heat wave continued sapping at heat-groggy Pottstonians as temperatures soared to another all-time high.

The highest mark reached was 97, one higher than the record 96 set on Sept. 1, 1946. It was the fourth day in a row that new records have been set.

The wave entered its eighth day today with no sign of a let-up, either.

The weatherman said the high would be between 92 and 98.

According to Mathew I. Peacock, Reading weatherman, rain couldn't be expected until the weekend.

"There might be a few light showers tomorrow or Friday," he said, "but it won't bring the temperature down any."

THE HEAT WAVE already had outstripped several other waves in intensity. For instance in 1948, new records also had been set on four consecutive days of a July heat wave.

But the temperature didn't stay above 90 for seven days in a row as it has now.

Peacock said the worst heat wave in the area was in July of 1901. "The temperature stayed above 90 for 13 days straight."

But from the weatherman's predictions and the strength of the sun these days, it looked

KUZMECH TELLS OF RED METHODS

Says Communists Denied Pronouncing Man Dead

Lt. Frank J. Kuzmecz, Gilbertsville area airman just freed by the Korean Reds, had some harsh words to say about his captors yesterday.

"They wouldn't even bring a doctor in (the prison camp) to pronounce a man dead," he remarked. The Associated Press said that Kuzmecz described Red medical treatment as practically non-existent.

The 25-year-old Air Force officer was interviewed by reporters at Freedom Village, Korea, after his release there in a prisoner exchange.

Another airman in the same group of prisoners with Kuzmecz mentioned the constant questioning of the prisoners by the Reds.

Kuzmecz added that "the questions they asked seemed pretty stupid."

"They used pressure on us but it was poorly organized," he commented.

OTHER ex-POW's in Kuzmecz's group mentioned being "slapped around and kicked."

They were questioned constantly on many military subjects, they said. One American officer in the (Continued on Page Five)

New Road Is Built In Limerick Township

Completion of a new road at the east end of the township was reported last night by Roadmaster Roy T. Miller of the Limerick road board supervisors.

The board also heard a report that about one mile of road has been resurfaced and plans are now underway for the resurfacing of another two-mile strip.

President Raymond G. Scheffey presided at the meeting which was held at the home of Miller.

No Room For Dad

SCHOOL'S START CAN MEAN ANYTHING, EVEN EATING BREAKFAST IN RESTAURANT

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP)—Labor Day, to most people, means the end of Summer vacation and the return of children to school, but to Thomas Brennan it means he has to have breakfast in a restaurant after next week's holiday.

Seven of Brennan's 11 children will start school next week.

Long ago, the 39-year-old fuel oil dealer learned he couldn't compete with his hungry youngsters for a chair at the breakfast table before school time. So after Labor Day, Brennan takes breakfast at a nearby restaurant. During the Summer, however, he has break-as if this heat wave might at least challenge that all-time torrid-champ.

Meanwhile, as the wave continued to roll over the borough, its muggy weight was being felt more every day.

Farmers and fruit growers are becoming increasingly disappointed by both the heat and the lack of water.

Residents in the borough's North End were experiencing a serious water shortage again.

But while some were trying to get enough water to wash their bodies, cook their meals, and do their laundry, others were concerned about their lawns and plants.

Still others were thinking only of keeping cool—by swimming, by sitting in a pool, by taking baths, by fanning, and by more unique air-conditioning methods.

MOST SERIOUS was the situation facing farmers and fruit growers in the area.

Farmland was turning to dust, plants were wilting, crops burning. The peach industry was having its troubles. Daniel Unger, Boyertown fruit grower, explained the situation this way:

"The heat and sun are ripening the fruit much faster. We're way ahead of schedule as far as ripening is concerned."

"But the situation is this: The fruit ripen faster but the heat makes the pickers work slower. Everybody has a lot of ripe fruit on their hands. The man who has good fruit is getting a nice price for them."

Unfortunately, however, many growers seem to be left with a lot of fruit that's too ripe to ship. These are being shipped to processors.

BUT THE peach industry didn't seem to be Unger's main concern. "It's apples I'm worried about," he said. He explained that the lack of rain causes apples to "stop growing."

"But then in the Fall when it rains and they start growing again they stand a good chance of cracking."

Cracked apples are sold as pecklers. If they aren't too badly cracked, and for juice otherwise. Both mean a lot less money for a crop.

As a result, fruit growers stand to lose thousands of dollars if the current heat wave persists and the drought continues.

YESTERDAY'S weather followed the pattern of each day in the heat wave. Temperatures rose sluggishly through the morning hours until the sun showed itself. Then zoom!

At 8 a. m. it was 73. Two hours later it was 81. At noon the mercury was up to 88. The 90 mark was hit at 1 p. m.

The hottest time of the day was shortly before 6 p. m., when the 97 was registered.

Peacock, the weatherman, said that last night, for the first time he saw "clouds start building up."

"There wasn't much there, though. Might result in a few showers. But there won't be enough clouds for anything to happen until Friday or Saturday."

MEANWHILE, Pottstonians struggled to keep cool. Sticky clothes were worn in favor of bathing suits, sun suits and sun dresses, T-shirts and shorts.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis, 154 North Evans street, bought 300 pounds of ice, in 100-pound blocks, and set them in front of electric fans. Keep the rooms cool, they said.

Two Area Exhibitors Awarded Top Prizes At Exton Pig Show

Two Pottstown area youngsters were first and second prize winners in the Chester-Delaware county 4-H club pig roundup yesterday.

They were Judy Keeley and Kermit Steffey, both of Spring City RD 1. The two are members of Brownback's 4-H club.

JUDY'S 18-year-old brother, William, was one of the 30 other exhibitors in the show. He showed a 200-pound Berkshire.

At the end of the afternoon show, held at Exton (Chester county) the pigs were auctioned off. The first prize winner brought 65 cents a pound; the second place pig, 60 cents.

Mrs. William Keeley, mother of the prize exhibitor and advisor to the 13-member Brownback's club, said that judging of the show was done by State college livestock experts.

New Road Completed In Washington Township

Roadmaster William W. Becker last night told members of the Washington Township road board that the new strip of road stretching from Heydt's school to the district township line has been completed.

President Ammon B. Hoffman presided at the meeting held at the Bario Fire company hall. Also present was Clayton E. Meist.

Parked Car Struck In Trappe Collision

A parked car along Route 422 in Trappe was damaged considerably last night when struck by a car operated by a Collegeville RD 2 youth.

America DiDomenico, 19, of Collegeville RD 8, told State police he was traveling west on Route 422 when his car swerved and struck another car owned by Gerald N. Swartley, 27, of 177 Main street, Trappe.

Troopers Raymond Beninato and Alfred Kissinger of the Jeffersonville State police barracks investigated. Time of the accident was set at 6:10 p. m.

High Street Light Timing Will Begin Again Monday

Edward Borowy, general maintenance man for the borough, said yesterday he is satisfied with timing of High street traffic lights for the time being but plans a renewed attack on the problem Monday.

He and his assistant, William Hurley, began the past Monday a program of timing the non-synchronized lights as well as possible, paying particular attention to keeping westbound traffic flowing.

The readjustments were scheduled for Monday because a third man will be available then.

UN TRIBUNAL HOLD EMPLOYEES FIRED ILLEGALLY

Nine Dismissals Upheld;
Seven to Receive
Damages

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—A United Nations tribunal held today that 11 American employees of the UN were fired illegally in connection with US loyalty investigations. Four were ordered reinstated to their jobs here and seven others were awarded a total of $122,500 damages.

The decision of the four-member tribunal, highest appeals court for the UN staff, was expected to revive in full force the red-hot controversy over alleged subversives in the UN. The controversy plagued former Secretary Trygve Lie during the months before his resignation took effect this year.

The present secretary general, Dag Hammarskjöld, declined to comment. Associates said he was studying the findings and would make his decision as soon as possible on the reinstatement of the four. He has the option of giving them their jobs again or paying them heavy damages.

The United States delegator had nothing to say except that it was studying the tribunal's report.

SENATOR MCCARTHY (R-Wis.) who often has attacked alleged American Communists in the United Nations, said:

"I think we should refuse the appropriation of money for the salaries of employees of the United Nations who are Communists—that is, American nationals—or (refuse) to give them indemnities."

The United States would be expected to pay approximately 33 percent of the amount awarded the dismissed employees, under the present basis for sharing United Nations overall costs.

Today's findings grew out of appeals of 21 staff members, most of whom had invoked the fifth amendment (relating to self-incrimination) in refusing to answer Senate or Federal grand jury questions as to whether they were Communists.

Two of the 21 were listed as having been discharged for non-political reasons.

The dismissals of nine were upheld and the case of another was referred back to the staff joint appeals board.

Only one of the group ever admitted any Communist connections. Ruth Crawford, one of the four ordered reinstated, said she was a member of the party for a year in 1935. She was fired by Lie for refusing to tell the Senate Internal Security subcommittee who had invited her to join the party.

Returned Lieutenant Colonel Tells How Reds Forced Propaganda Broadcast

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Wednesday, Sept. 2 (AP)—A returned lieutenant colonel said yesterday he and 19 others were forced to make a propaganda broadcast over the North Korean radio under threat of a "death march."

Lt. Col. Paul V. Liles, a West Pointer from Columbus, Ga., told for the first time how at least some of the prisoners were made to lend their names to propaganda broadcasts from Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Liles and the 19 other surviving men were brought 100 miles south from the Pyoktong prison camp to Pyongyang under the pretext of being allowed to broadcast an appeal to the US Air Force to drop food packages at their camp.

The men were allowed to write their own speeches, but at the last minute the North Koreans added phrases attacking "American imperialism" and inserted other anti-American propaganda.

"I objected," Liles said, "but a Korean major said anyone who failed to make a speech would be marched back to Pyoktong (near the Manchurian border) on foot." Liles said this was "tantamount

REDS ARRESTED IN ELECTION TERROR PLOT

Seize 4500 Crossing
Border

BONN, Germany, Sept. 1 (AP)—The West German Government charged today that armed Communist terrorists are filtering in from the East to wage a terror campaign against Sunday's crucial election by wrecking polling booths and assassinating political leaders.

The West German border police have arrested 4500 Red agents trying to sneak in from the Soviet-occupied East, but thousands of others are believed to have slipped by.

Some top Reds who were arrested as they entered West Germany, reported today that Communist thugs had orders to destroy election booths and frighten voters from casting ballots for the new 481 member parliament.

The Government said at least three of the agents were directed by their Russian and East German bosses to "eliminate" West German political figures.

IN OTHER MAJOR developments today in the bitter election campaign:

1. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned that Moscow has launched an "all out offensive" to keep West Germany from rearming in defense of Western Europe. He declared that an election defeat of his Government which advocates this rearmament would mean that Russian has won the cold war.

2. Adenauer's government moved to squelch the threat of a Nazi comeback by deciding to file suit in the constitutional court to outlaw the Nazi-like German Reich party (DRP).

3. Erich Ollenhauer, head of the chief opposition party, the Socialists, demanded that West Germany stay out of any "military bloc" so that all Germany can be reunited through a four-power agreement.

These conflicting arguments by Adenauer and Ollenhauer drew clearly the battle lines for the Sept. 6 parliamentary voting. The vital issue they raised makes it one of the most important elections in Europe since World War II.

Lt. Col. James P. Carnes, who commanded the first battalion of the famed Gloucester regiment and was the highest ranking British captive, said he spent 19 months in solitary.

While he was not starved or beaten, Carnes said he was charged with "subversive activities" and once was forced to read a "public confession" before his men.

Capt. Harry F. Hedlung of Fullerton, Calif., was one of four airmen cuffed and kicked around and questioned by a Russian near Pyongyang. The Russian wanted information on new US warplanes and air bases and had maps and drawings of both.

Once, pretending to co-operate, Hedlung said he drew a bogus map of a US base in Japan but Chinese questioners "pulled out an engineers map of the field and called me a liar."

Heat Affects Clerk

DETROIT, Sept. 1 (AP)—A citizen in suburban Ecorse went to city hall today to register for a coming election.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Dean's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 30 years. It's amazing how many times Dean's gives happy relief from these discomforts—helps the 15 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Dean's Pills today!

Reading Plant Blaze Asphyxiates Worker

READING, Sept. 1 (AP)—George Mason, 78, an employee of the Keystone Badge company, died of asphyxiation this afternoon when he was trapped on the second floor of the plant which was swept by a flash fire. Dr. Paul D. Good, Berks county coroner said, Mason also suffered severe burns of the upper part of the body.

A Reading fireman, James Dampman, was injured when he was cut by jagged glass while entering the second floor of the building to help remove the body of Mason.

Fire Chief Edward C. Dell, who said the flash blaze could have been started by highly inflammable celluloid used near small gas heaters in forming badges, estimated the loss at $15,000.

Charles B. Miller, 78, another employee had a narrow escape, when he was warned by Mason to turn back as he was mounting the stairway for the second floor to return to work after lunch.

Six fire companies fought the blaze for more than a half-hour before it was brought under control.

Yugoslavia

ROME, Sept. 1 (AP)—Italy tonight denied responsibility for the current crisis over Trieste, in a formal reply to Yugoslav charges that Italian troops had violated the Yugoslav border.

The reply from Premier and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella cited a "new and threatening attitude and proposals" by Yugoslavia and said Italy "retains the right to consider any measures whatsoever of a precautionary and protective character." It made no direct mention of Yugoslav charges of border incidents.

President Tito's Government in a note delivered earlier today in Rome protested "most energetically" against the armed demonstrations of Italian Army units along the Yugoslav-Italian border.

Yugoslavia described the weekend Italian troops movement in border areas as a provocation and said she might bring the Trieste dispute before an international forum.

ITALY HAS maintained that the troops were engaged in routine exercises. An Italian foreign office spokesman said tonight Italy "after all has the full and indisputable right to take within its own territory any measures considered necessary under such circumstances."

Pending the Italian reply, tempers seemed to be cooling in Rome in the fourth day of the crisis.

The round began Saturday when the Italian Government heard of a Yugoslav semi-official news agency dispatch that Tito was expected to change his policy toward Trieste.

Italians took this to mean that he would announce outright annexation of Zone "B" of the Trieste free territory—a zone south of the port city of Trieste. Yugoslavia already supervises the zone.

Share the Drudgery Movement Gains As More Hubbies Head for Kitchen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Bad news today for all us husbands.

The experts say that from here on out we're apt to be spending more and more of our time working in the kitchen.

Some 1300 delegates to the Eighth International Congress on Home Economics, meeting in Edinburgh, Scotland, debated this question:

How can we free women from household drudgery?

Their answer, stripped to the bare bones of horrible reality, appears to be this:

Shift the chores over to their husbands.

A Scandinavian delegate—a female, of course—went so far as to insist that kitchenery should be taught innocent schoolboys.

"When they marry," said the Scandinavian lady smugly, "they might as well be used to working in the kitchen and drying the dishes."

Teaching 'em to Talk Spoils 'em for Love, States Pathologist

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 1 (AP)—A Yale pathologist, reporting today on a study of parakeets, discloses that "when you teach a female budgie to talk, she is no longer any good for love-making."

Dr. Leon F. Whitney, a veterinarian, says "this high-brow little parakeet, if she has any human vocabulary to speak of, doesn't know what to do with eggs even if she lays them."

"You can teach her to sing 'Cuddle Up a Little Closer, Honey,' or 'Kiss Me Again,' but it won't do a bit of good," insists Dr. Whitney. "If a male tries to woo her at this stage, she will reel back like a terrified turkey in a windstorm and merely squawk at the wolf in parakeet feathers."

Explains Dr. Whitney. "Only wild, silent budgies make love and reproduce. The female is not the only one who talks herself out of a mate, however."

The male budgie, while he makes a better pet when he learns to talk, becomes a bust as a petter. Only the strong, silent males are successful Casanovas."

Dr. Whitney's report is developed in a new book, "All About Parakeets," which he wrote with Earl Schneider, New York pet expert. The book, to be published here Sept. 8, was written as a guide for breeding, raising, training and giving first aid to pet parakeets.

President Eisenhower Assures Iran Of US Consideration of Aid Request

FRASER, Colo., Sept. 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower tonight made public a message to the Prime Minister of Iran assuring him of "sympathetic" US consideration of Iran's request for economic aid.

The Eisenhower message to Premier Fazollah Zahedi, dated Aug. 26, said in part:

"In an effort to assist you in dealing with your immediate problems, I have authorized my ambassador to Iran (Loy Henderson), to consult with you regarding the development of our aid programs there.

"I recognize your needs are pressing. Your request will receive our sympathetic consideration and I can assure you that we stand ready to assist you in achieving the aspirations for your country which you have outlined."

WHITE HOUSE Press Secretary James C. Hagerly told newsmen that it was his understanding American funds for additional aid to Iran are available, but he had no specific information on that.

Hagerly also said, in reply to a question, that he believed funds could be provided without waiting for authorization by Congress.

Eisenhower made public Zahedi's message, also dated Aug. 26, appealing for aid.

Eisenhower's message was his second to Iranian officials since the recent Royalist overthrow of the Government of deposed Premier Mossadegh.

The past week the President made public a message to Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi congratulating him on his return to power. That message and the new one to Premier Zahedi obviously were US moves to bind Iran closer to the Western Nations and halt any trend toward Iranian alignment with Russia.

THE SHAH said immediately after his return to power that Iran was broke and needed financial assistance right away. He said in reply to a question that Iran would be willing to accept aid from any country, including Russia.

In his appeal to Eisenhower, Zahedi wrote:

"Iran needs immediate financial help to enable it to emerge from a state of economic and financial chaos."

While there was no mention of amounts of money in the President's announcement, reports in Washington said the sum was expected to be around 30-million dollars. In Iran, newspapers had been guessing the figure would be as high as 100-million.

Shoppers Unruffled By State Sales Tax

HARRISBURG, Sept. 1 (AP)—Pennsylvanians took the State's new 1 percent sales tax in stride today as the board base levy went into effect.

There were many reports of the expected confusion as to just what is taxed but, on the whole, merchants said most shoppers paid the extra pennies with a shrug of the shoulders.

The tax, designed to raise 135 million dollars for the Commonwealth during the next two years, went into effect at midnight. It applies to most sales over 10 cents with food and clothing the principal exemptions.

Meanwhile, the state revenue department received its first money from the new tax when Howard Gordon sold a used car to his Harrisburg neighbor Bruce Thompson for $100. Thompson paid the $1 tax to the department when he applied for a motor vehicle license.

Motor vehicle sales between non-dealers are the only type of so-called isolated sales that are subject to the tax.

UN TRIBUNAL HOLDSEMPLOYEES FIRED ILLEGALLY

Nine Dismissals Upheld;
Damages

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP)—A United Nations tribunal held today that 11 American employees of the UN were fired illegally in connection with US loyalty investigations. Four were ordered reinstated to their jobs here and seven others were awarded a total of $122,500 damages.

The decision of the four-member tribunal, highest appeals court for the UN staff, was expected to revive in full force the red-hot controversy over alleged subversives in the UN. The controversy plagued former Secretary Trygve Lie during the months before his resignation took effect this year.

The present secretary general, Dag Hammarskjöld, declined to comment. Associates said he was studying the findings and would make his decision as soon as possible on the reinstatement of the four. He has the option of giving them their jobs again or paying them heavy damages.

The United States delegation had nothing to say except that it was studying the tribunal's report.

SENATOR MCCARTHY (R-Wis.), who often has attacked alleged American Communists in the United Nations, said:

"I think we should refuse the appropriation of money for the salaries of employees of the United Nations who are Communists—that is, American nationals—or (refuse) to give them indemnities."

The United States would be expected to pay approximately 35 percent of the amount awarded the dismissed employees, under the present basis for sharing United Nations overall costs.

Today's findings grew out of appeals of 21 staff members, most of whom had invoked the fifth amendment (relating to self-incrimination) in refusing to answer Senate or Federal grand jury questions as to whether they were Communists.

Two of the 21 were listed as having been discharged for non-political reasons.

The dismissals of nine were upheld and the case of another was referred back to the staff joint appeals board.

Only one of the group ever admitted any Communist connections. Ruth Crawford, one of the four ordered reinstated, said she was a member of the party for a year in 1935. She was fired by Lie for refusing to tell the Senate Internal Security sub-committee who had invited her to join the party.

Returned Lieutenant Colonel Tells How Reds Forced Propaganda Broadcast

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Wednesday, Sept. 2 (AP)—A returned lieutenant colonel said yesterday he and 19 others were forced to make a propaganda broadcast over the North Korean radio under threat of a "death march."

Lt. Col. Paul V. Liles, a West Pointer from Columbus, Ga., told for the first time how at least some of the prisoners were made to lend their names to propaganda broadcasts from Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Liles and the 19 other surviving men were brought 100 miles south from the Pyoktong prison camp to Pyongyang under the pretext of being allowed to broadcast an appeal to the US Air Force to drop food packages at their camp.

The men were allowed to write their own speeches, but at the last minute the North Koreans added phrases attacking "American imperialism" and inserted other anti-American propaganda.

"I objected," Liles said, "but a Korean major said anyone who failed to make a speech would be marched back to Pyoktong (near the Manchurian border) on foot." Liles said this was "tantamount to a death sentence" because it was the bitter Winter of 1950-51 and the men were so weak "they couldn't even march around the yard."

SO LILES AND the others made the broadcast and "felt very bad" about it. Their only consolation was they were allowed to give the location of the Pyoktong camp and thus would be spared the risk of accidental bombing and strafing. The Reds had given no information on the location of the camps up to that time.

Lt. Col. James P. Carnes, who commanded the first battalion of the famed Gloucester regiment and was the highest ranking British captive, said he spent 19 months in solitary.

While he was not starved or beaten, Carnes said he was charged with "subversive activities" and once was forced to read a "public confession" before his men.

Capt. Harry F. Hedlung of Fullerton, Calif., was one of four airmen cuffed and kicked around and questioned by a Russian near Pyoktong. The Russian wanted information on new US warplanes and air bases and had maps and drawings of both.

REDS ARRESTED IN ELECTION TERROR PLOT

Border

BONN, Germany, Sept. 1 (AP)—The West German Government charged today that armed Communist terrorists are filtering in from the East to wage a terror campaign against Sunday's crucial election by wrecking polling booths and assassinating political leaders.

The West German border police have arrested 4500 Red agents trying to sneak in from the Soviet-occupied East, but thousands of others are believed to have slipped by.

Some top Reds who were arrested as they entered West Germany, reported today that Communist thugs had orders to destroy election booths and frighten voters from casting ballots for the new 484 member parliament.

The Government said at least three of the agents were directed by their Russian and East German bosses to "eliminate" West German political figures.

IN OTHER MAJOR developments today in the bitter election campaign:

1. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned that Moscow has launched an "all out offensive" to keep West Germany from rearming in defense of Western Europe. He declared that an election defeat of his Government which advocates this rearmament would mean that Russian has won the cold war.

2. Adenauer's government moved to squelch the threat of a Nazi comeback by deciding to file suit in the constitutional court to outlaw the Nazi-like German Reich party (DRP).

3. Erich Ollenhauer, head of the chief opposition party, the Socialists, demanded that West Germany stay out of any "military bloc" so that all Germany can be reunited through a four-power agreement.

These conflicting arguments by Adenauer and Ollenhauer drew clearly the battle lines for the Sept. 6 parliamentary voting. The vital issue they raised makes it one of the most important elections in Europe since World War II.

Reading Plant Blaze Asphyxiates Worker

READING, Sept. 1 (AP)—George Mason, 78, an employee of the Keystone Badge company, died of asphyxiation this afternoon when he was trapped on the second floor of the plant which was swept by a flash fire. Dr. Paul D. Good, Berks county coroner said, Mason also suffered severe burns of the upper part of the body.

A Reading fireman, James Dampman, was injured when he was cut by jagged glass while entering the second floor of the building to help remove the body of Mason.

Fire Chief Edward C. Dell, who said the flash blaze could have been started by highly inflammable celluloid used near small gas heaters in forming badges, estimated the loss at $15,000.

Charles B. Miller, 78, another employee had a narrow escape, when he was warned by Mason to turn back as he was mounting the stairway for the second floor to return to work after lunch.

Six fire companies fought the blaze for more than a half-hour before it was brought under control.

ITALY DENIES BLAME FOR TRIESTE CRISIS

Pella Cites Threatening

Teaching 'em to Talk Spoils 'em for Love, States Pathologist

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 1 (AP)—A Yale pathologist, reporting today on a study of parakeets, discloses that "when you teach a female budgie to talk, she is no longer any good for love-making."

Dr. Leon F. Whitney, a veterinarian, says "this high-brow little parakeet, if she has any human vocabulary to speak of, doesn't know what to do with eggs even if she lays them."

YOU SEE THE PLOT? Trap and train 'em while they're young.

A worried check with the American Home Economics association didn't help matters much.

Mrs. Ella McNaughton, assistant to the association's executive secretary, said sweetly:

"I think we've made considerable progress along those lines already."

Mrs. McNaughton thinks more "progress" has been made in some places than in others. She thinks house husbands are to be found most readily in cities where both the wife and husband have jobs outside the home.

"In a small town," she said, "the little woman will do the shopping because she meets her friends at the store, and it's sort of a social affair. Here in Washington, where so many women work, you see many men doing the shopping at supermarkets."

It turns out Mr. McNaughton also likes to help with the dishes, and sometimes, when Mrs. McNaughton is very tired, Mr. McNaughton likes to do the dishes all by himself.

A final question, Mrs. McNaughton.

"Do you think the husband will be doing more and more kitchen chores as time goes on?"

"Yes," she said, "but let's call it sharing the duties. By sharing we can have better family relations and a happier home life."

All right, let's call it sharing and let's also face the inevitable.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

From Collection of Garth Herd
You shouldn't have any trouble recognizing this famous Pottstown landmark, even though it has undergone several renovations.
It's one of the oldest churches in Pottstown, completed in 1861. The cornerstone was laid in 1859.
The church is the Transfiguration Lutheran, located at the southwest corner of Hanover and Chestnut streets.

Even now, with buildings completely surrounding it, the clock in the steeple is glanced at daily by hundreds of Pottstonians.

The building was erected for the English Lutherans, who worshiped in the Old Brick church in Pottsgrove from 1824 till the time it was completed.

The church lost its first steeple in October, 1878, during a fierce rain storm. At the time this picture was taken the trolley ran past the church, out Hanover street, to Ringing Hills.
The tracks are barely visible running from east to west. The roads were unpaved. The pastor of the church is the Rev. Eugene B. Umberger.

Spring City Man Rejoins Company A For One-Year Term

A former member of Company A, the Pottstown National Guard unit, rejoined his old outfit last night.

Sgt. James W. Tooley, 233 Bridge street, Spring City, re-enlisted for one year. He was sworn in by Capt. Harold C. Baumann, company commander.

Tooley is a bus driver in civilian life.

Another who enlisted last night was Kenneth E. Zamorski, 336 South York street, South Pottstown.

Sgt. Paul B. McCarty of the Shuler House is now back from Carlisle Barracks hospital, Company A heard last night.

McCarty is the man who had his ankle fractured while in field training at Indiantown Gap recently with the local company.

LAST NIGHT'S drill in the King street Armory included the following classes and instructors:

Individual tactical training, Sgt. Dallas A. Wilson; rifle marksmanship, Sgts. Robert Gible and Stanley Yarmush; mechanical training, 30-caliber machinegun, Corp. William D. Vanderslice, and food cooking and serving, Sgt. Joseph Brandel.

HORSE SHOW SLATED MONDAY

Ludwig's Corner Group Will Sponsor Program

A popular Chester county tradition continues Labor Day with the staging of the annual Ludwig's Corner horse show.

Full proceeds from the show, now in its tenth year, will be turned over to Phoenixville hospital and to the Chester Valley Community Nurses association.

Eighteen classes of events are scheduled for this year's show which will start at 9 a. m. These will include six for children. Featured are the Open Hunter's Stake and the Open Jumper's.

Three challenge trophies will be presented. They are: Local Hunter, Champion Hunter and Champion Jumper. Last year, these trophies were won by Cottage Den, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Biddle Jr., Valley Breeze, owned by Pat Lockhart, and Cassadol, owned by Phyllis Lons.

Judges for the various events will be Fred Pinch, Hunters, and Ward Sullivan, Jumpers.
JAMES K. Robinson Jr., of Crabilly Farms, West Chester, will feature his colorful Coach and Four which was built by Brewster in the 1800's.
Show grounds of the Ludwig's Corner Horse Show association are located on Route 100 at the junction with Route 401. The event is open to the public.

Embezzling Charge Dismissed by Court

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 1.—A charge of embezzling $6500 against W. Lamar Townsend, 32, Klamath Falls attorney, was dismissed in circuit court here today after the district attorney said Townsend's alleged actions were not a crime under Oregon statutes.
Townsend was executor of the estate of his late friend, Dr. Joseph M. Cronin, Klamath Falls surgeon, who died in 1950. He was indicted the past July on a charge of embezzling $6500 from the estate.
District Attorney Frank Alderson said Oregon's statutes do not cover embezzlement by executors or administrators of estates, therefore Townsend had committed no crime. Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg dismissed the charge.

JAMES K. Robinson Jr., of Crabilly Farms, West Chester, will feature his colorful Coach and Four which was built by Brewster in the 1800's.
Show grounds of the Ludwig's Corner Horse Show association are located on Route 100 at the junction with Route 401. The event is open to the public.

Employment Record Set the Past Month, Department Reports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—More Americans were working the past month than ever before and fewer were unemployed than at any time since the end of World War II, the Commerce department reported today.

It said August employment reached a record 63,408,000, and unemployment declined to a post-war low of 1,240,000, a level which officials considered close to a bare minimum.

"Only 1.9 percent of all civilian workers were out of jobs this August as compared with 2.5 percent a year ago," commented Acting Secretary of Commerce Robert A. Murray. "Thus, with a current labor force of 65 million, unemployment is barely over the one million mark."

The figures showed 308,000 more people working in August than in July, due to a pick-up in commercial and industrial hiring which more than offset a seasonal decline in farm employment.

Employment in factories, stores and other businesses climbed to 56,134,000 from the 55,492,000 estimated in July.
On the other hand farm employment dropped to 7,274,000, about 350,000 under the July total and 650,000 below the June peak. The usual mid-summer farm lull was joined by weather conditions in cutting the farm labor total. Rains eased the drought in some areas, but hampered grain harvesting in others.

The previous postwar unemployment low was 1,284,000 in October, 1952. In August the past year the figure was 1,604,000.

First Official Meeting Of Stowe Lions Club To Be Held Tonight

The first official meeting of the newly formed Stowe Lions club will be held tonight at the Stowe fire house at 8 o'clock.

President Edward J. Sweeney made the announcement at last night's meeting of the Pottstown Lions club which was held at the Eagles home.

At tonight's meeting, Sweeney said, the Stowe group will elect its first slate of officers. He added that Isaac White, district organizer from Chicago, will be present at the election.

Sweeney and S. Wagner Evans, first vice president of the local club, also will attend the session.

The Stowe club already boasts a membership of 25 and is anticipating the signing up of several others.

Guest speaker at last night's meeting was Dave Thompson, director of employee relations at the Doehler-Jarvis plant. His topic was "Men and Management."

Musical entertainment was furnished during the dinner meeting which was attended by 60 members and guests from the Stowe club.

Auch Transit Company Requests Fare Increase

HARRISBURG, Sept. 1.—The Auch Inter-Borough Transit company, Conshohocken, today asked Public Utility commission approval of a proposed fare increase to produce an estimated $24,154 extra revenue yearly.

In the new schedule to be effective Oct. 1 bus fares go from 12 to 15 cents while school fares are boosted from 7 to 10 cents.

Auch furnishes service in and between Conshohocken, Norristown, Chestnut Hill, Ambler and Willow Grove, in Montgomery county.

Truck Crashes Pole, Overturns in Field

A 1952 dump truck was badly smashed when it hit a pole and overturned into a field along Route 422 a mile east of Limerick yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

The driver, Earl Reinhart Jr., 26, Lansdale, escaped injury. The entire left front and right side of the truck were smashed. Damage to the pole was not heavy.

Reinhart had been westbound when the truck went out of control. Jeffersonville State police investigated.

SPEED is the Killer!

Just one minute please!

Before you start out for a fun-filled Labor Day holiday—make up your mind that it won't be filled with tragedy instead. I've seen only too many traffic accidents take the joy out of living—or take life itself! So DON'T SPEED!

Roads will be crowded. Drivers will be hurrying to get where they're going or back home from where they've been, and a lot of them will be tired out. That's the time when traveling a few extra miles per hour is deadliest. So DON'T SPEED!

Pennsylvania enforces its speed laws. Your driving privileges will be suspended if you are caught exceeding the posted speed limit. It takes less than a minute to snuff out life—and it is speed that does it. So DON'T SPEED!

COOPERATE WITH US BY FOLLOWING THE BEST TRAFFIC RULE OF ALL—THE GOLDEN RULE. TAKE TIME TO HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY LABOR DAY.

This is not a license to kill or injure. It will be revoked or suspended for cause.

It Took Some Courage

THE man on the street's faith in our minor judiciary may be renewed in the face of Schencksville Justice of the Peace Walter Jarman's decision against the Pottstown dogcatcher.

Justice of the Peace Jarman found Wil-lard H. Wilkinson guilty of cruelty to animals. He fined the Pottstown dogcatcher $20.

This decision was made despite a gaudy list of character witnesses that included Burgess William H. Griffith, of Pottstown, and police representatives from five local municipalities.

Police who testified for the dogcatcher were Bryson M. Turner, chief of the Roversford force; James A. Laughhead, Pottstown chief; Daniel Guldin, North Coventry; Harry Chrusch, Lower Pottsgrove, and Anthony Cancelliere, West Pottsgrove.

That array of brass hardly feazed the Schencksville justice of the peace, his decision of guilty indicates.

Too often the man on the street cynically declares the minor justices play along with police. The embittered small man says the justices of peace "gotta play along or they won't get any police jobs."

Justice of the Peace Jarman puts the lie to those accusations.

Whether the average person believes his decision was right or wrong, he has to be admired for not being cowed by a mighty array of police brass.

Treading on Dangerous Ground

SAY, that "professional" thief who looted the home of Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells over the weekend certainly is no respecter of the law. No matter how you look at it!

The Rosedale section, which had been the brunt of many a still unsolved burglary in the past few years, singularly was unvisited recently.

But now he comes back with a bang, and picks on the Law, with a capital L! Golly, what a rough time that crook'll have in court if Lawyer Wells goes to work on him! (If he's caught!)

Seriously, the Wells home ransacking may be the start of another wave of crimes in vacation-empty houses. Make sure yours won't be next by removing evidences of your absence. Don't allow milk bottles, papers, etc., to litter your porch. That's a sure sign you're away.

Have visitors look in on your homes, keep a light or lights burning, if possible. Thieves don't like light—including the searchlight of publicity!

Watch Out for Children!

PUBLICATION of The Mercury's annual "back to school" supplement today should remind motorists of the early approach of back to school time!

Every motorist should expect the unexpected where children are concerned.

When children get interested in playing ball, or running a race, or a thousand and one other activities that hold their attention, they are apt to forget for a moment the safety rules that they have been taught at home and in school.

One moment of forgetfulness can be fatal. Motorists always be on guard for children. "For when a child forgets, the driver must remember, if a tragic accident is to be avoided."

Four rules for motorists to follow to protect children on the streets and highways are these:

1. Remember that children are unpredictable and that the motorist must think for them in traffic.
2. Give young bike riders every break.
3. Drive with extreme caution near schools and playgrounds and in residential areas—in fact, near any place where children may be expected to gather.
4. Be especially alert in school areas for signs, signals, traffic police, patrol boys and for children themselves.

The best advice on child safety anyone can give a motorist is contained in the slogan of the Montgomery county safety council: "Children May Dare—Drivers Beware!"

The name and complete address of the author must accompany every contribution but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 250 words will receive preference.

Welcomes Water

To the Editor: I hope this new idea for easing of the water ban works out all right.

My grass is parched and dry. I am doubtful that sprinkling it now will do any good.

Also I find it very annoying to see others watering their cars.

A car won't be ruined by letting a little dirt collect on it, but without water, a lawn will be ruined in a very short while.

Pottstown READER

Questions Jealousy

To the Editor: Why should people become jealous just because I put a little water on my car to make it look nice?

So what if lawns are turning brown? They'll be just as green next year.

There's always another year to sprinkle your lawn, but when a car is dirty, it must be washed.

Beating the Heat

To the Editor: Those girls who sleep out at night sure have the right idea to beat the heat.

I'm all in favor of taking to the great outdoors when it gets too hot to sleep indoors.

Pottstown WONDERING

Sprinkling, Bah!

To the Editor: Who cares what lawns look like? Soon as you get a decent lawn fixed up around here, all the stray dogs of Pottstown come around and dig it up.

I say to heck with the sprinkling of lawns. Let's have more baths and fewer green lawns.

Pottstown OBSERVER

Lauds Lights

To the Editor: I notice that since they're been synchronizing High street lights, the traffic signals have been working the way they should.

I rode along High street heading west

It's about time something was done and I appreciate the new program.

Pottstown MOTORIST

So Does He

She's the nicest example of a beautiful girl I've yet seen.

Pottstown SHARP-EYED

Hates Heat

To the Editor: Heat! Heat! Heat! Everyone's talking about the heat.

I'm sick and tired of hearing people discuss the heat. You walk into a store to buy something. What does the clerk say? He says, "Warm enough for you?"

See an acquaintance of yours on the street. What does he say?

"Plenty hot, isn't it?"
Then the entire topic of conversation centers on how hot it is and whether there'll be any relief.

Heat! Bah! I hate to talk about it.

Jottings in Pencil

Beautiful Kay Williams Spreckels who made headlines the other day when her sugar heir ex-husband was charged with beating her, is responding nicely to John Hodiak's romantic therapy.

Incidentally, the prelude to Kay's encounter with the wealthy Spreckels was a big pitch by him for a reconciliation: he gave her a huge new sparkler and a Cadillac, among other lavish peace offerings, and blew up when she decided not to kiss

Claude Cartier of the jewelry millions is expected to make sudden marital news in Paris, the candidate for bride being Sylvie Hirsch, exquisite Dior model who's been linked with him for months now.

CHUMS WON'T slip if Sugar Ray Robinson rushes into serious training to take on the winner of the October title bout between Randy Turpin and middleweight champ Bobo Olsen.

Sugar's reason for a surprise return to the ring would be just that—sugar. He easily could make around a hundred grand for his part in the battle.

Local gendarmes are going daffy chasing peeping Toms. The heat wave means open windows and lots of clothes-shedding, and—well, you can imagine.

Mahmoud Pahlevi, kid brother of the Shah of Iran, isn't letting his more famous frere make all the news in the family—although Mahmoud's doings aren't exactly earth-shaking. He's currently the star of a mellow romance item, being in hot pursuit of New York cover girl Alice Wallace.

PUBLISHING CIRCLES bet the new Kinsey Report on women won't sell nearly as well as expected. All the advance ballyhoo in newspapers and magazines has saturated the reading public, many booksellers feel, and lay book-buyers will be slow to pay $8 when they "know the plot" already.

Mrs. Richard Nixon, the Veep's bride, was the prettiest and most fashionable female at the Pen and Pencil the other night. Got plenty of ogling with her hot-weather costume—a raw silk suit in the palest shade of pink, matching gloves and Juliet cap, with black shantung shoes and bag and no jewelry except her wedding and engagement rings.

Robert Taylor will be back in the US soon, so his public should get the low-down on his engagement—or is it?—to Ursula Theiss.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

RITA F. is a college Senior.

"Dr. Crane, I think college professors are very inefficient," she began.

"For example, our English prof assigned 150 pages of outside reading for the weekend. They were to be from only two books in the library."

"So how many of us 25 students would be able to do that reading? Most of us found it impossible even to get access to the books."

"But the professor made no allowances and graded us off on Monday morning when about 15 of us couldn't pass his test on those 150 pages."

"Many of us students also grow irked at profs who refuse to assign a basic textbook. If we had such a text, we could all read it and at least be proficient on its contents."

"But many profs are such egotists, they want us to purchase their mimeographed lecture notes. For they apparently think their own writings are so superior to what is already published."

"But really, if they are so good, why don't they get their lectures printed in book form and let us buy a book for our basic text?"

"FOR EXAMPLE, I have a prof who reads his lecture notes. I've talked with alumni who say he read the very same notes to them ten years ago."

"I consider that the height of folly. For if he isn't going to demonstrate his lecture with experiments or give us additional facts, then why doesn't he just have his lectures printed so we can read them quickly?"

"No, he forces us to sit through his boring talks each day. If this is modern pedagogy, I'm going to give up my dream of being a teacher and go into journalism or something that is more in tune with the modern person's real interests in life."

THE "AVERAGE" college professor does the worst type of teaching in America. For the teachers in grammar and high school are specifically trained to be educators.

They are forced to take many courses in educational subjects, including adolescent psychology, teaching methods, etc. And they do practice teaching.

But college professors don't need to take a single course in any such subjects. About all demanded of them is a Ph.D. degree, for America has been oversold on college degrees to the point of absurdity.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. What state is cut almost in two by the Chesapeake bay?

2. By what company was Henry Hudson employed when he sailed up the river that bears his name?

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1. He is a former editor of the Russian newspaper, "Pravda," official organ of the Communist party. He is a member of the central committee of the party and deputy to the supreme Soviet of the USSR. He was awarded the Order of Lenin in 1945. He is apparently the "ax" man in the purge of Soviet officials which toppled Lavrenti Beria from his important post as head of the secret police. Do you remember his name?

2. Born in Beardstown, Ill., he moved to Los Angeles when he was nine. His first radio job came on his 21st birthday when he became a part-time announcer and sweeper-upper in a Chicago station: However, his most unusual job in show business was a one-year stint on the road as 15 voices with a marionette company. He plays the former husband of "Carolyn Kramer", in the daytime serial, "The Right to Happiness". Can you identify him?

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Into New Home . . . Candle, No Fire . . .

★ NAMES MAKE NEWS—Paul Brooke, president of Roversford's Floyd Wells, moved from 635 High street to his newly-built home on North Rohland street, where he's a neighbor of Barristers Bud Wells and Harold Binder. . . . Thomas V. Neiffer, the Memorial hospital laboratory technician, has taken a position with the Jacobs Aircraft company. Neiffer still fills in at the hospital on weekends. . . . Frank E. Miller Sr., Elverson, suffered a stroke that affected both legs and an arm, but now is resting comfortably. He was a truck driver for New England Auto Products for 14 years. . . . Bernice Shaw, oldest of the Pottstown School board president's "Five Bees and a Honey" (his children's first names all start with B, and Mrs. Shaw's the honey!) will go to Kutztown State Teachers college Tuesday.

★ FIRE SCARE—A burning candle was responsible for sounding a general alarm in Roversford the other night! It all came about when someone spotted the candle flickering in St. Joseph's Catholic church, at New and Penn streets. This individual, thinking the church afire, got excited and telephoned the Liberty Fire company of Spring City.

Spring City sounded its alarm, and upon hearing the neighboring borough's siren, the two Roversford companies, Humane and Friendship, came screaming to the scene. By the time they arrived hundreds of people were on hand, but there was no fire.

★ LOFTY AMBITION — Howard Hoffman, the auto mechanic, says he has another household chore to perform. "Now, I gotta stay up till midnight to water my lawn!" he declared. . . . Take a look and see if you're cymotrichous. But don't be alarmed, Curly. The word just means that you have wavy hair. Locks of that type, incidentally, are subject to greater color variations between individuals than any other kind. Your hair is apt to be blonder, darker or redder if it's curly than if it's straight. Permenants, of course, don't count.

BUG STUFF. The government's new yearbook of agriculture is devoted to insects. You'll be comforted to learn that of some 900,000 species of the-creatures, only 82,000 or so live in the United States. More comfort you may get from the fact that 10,000 or more chemicals are tested every year as potential killers of pests. And one more thought: Everything we wear or eat has been sprayed at least once to repel bugs. . . . There's a new pick-up drink that has gained popularity over the country, but hasn't hit here yet but may. It's a yeast-fortified tomato juice plus apple juice. The beverage is said to be highly nutritious and yet non-fattening.

★ 90 BUCKS UP IN SMOKE—Ever figure out what your supply of cigarettes costs you for a year? Survey of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors shows that during 1951 the average American smoker put out $90.56 for his gaspers. And there were some 45 million of him, to make a staggering total. Chain smokers probably doubled that average figure. . . . New type of container for your car keys is also a tire gauge, in case you have to check pressure readings. . . . Poker chip rack now out counts out the chips as well as storing them. Touching a lever forces the chips out of each slot five at a time.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE OF THE dreaded diseases of childhood is nephrosis. This kidney affliction causes swelling of the body and brings great discomfort.

Nephrosis usually begins with swelling over the eyes. The child's weight may be doubled by the excess fluid. When the skin is pressed, there is an indentation mark for a few seconds due to the water-logging of the tissues.

Little urine is passed by these children and with little is given off, there is a great loss of the protein substances that are so necessary to the body.

This protein loss allows the serum to escape from the blood vessels into the tissues and thereby causes the swelling.

Most often this disease starts with an infection of the throat and is believed to be due to some form of allergy which affects the kidney.

However, in a certain number of cases, no cause can be found. The disease may last for months and even years.

In the treatment under the physician's direction, most of these cases are put to bed in a hospital and watched very carefully.

Often, the antibiotics are helpful in treating this disease. The children affected are put on a diet low in salt or sodium and high in proteins.

It Took Some Courage

THE man on the street's faith in our minor judiciary may be renewed in the face of Schwenksville Justice of the Peace Walter Jarman's decision against the Pottstown dog-catcher.

Justice of the Peace Jarman found Willard H. Wilkinson guilty of cruelty to animals.
He fined the Pottstown dogcatcher $20.

This decision was made despite a gaudy list of character witnesses that included Burgess William H. Griffith, of Pottstown, and police representatives from five local municipalities.

Police who testified for the dogcatcher were Bryson M. Turner, chief of the Royersford force; James A. Laughhead, Pottstown chief; Daniel Guldin, North Coventry; Harry Chrusch, Lower Pottsgrove, and Anthony Cancelliere, West Pottsgrove.

That array of brass hardly feazed the Schwenksville justice of the peace, his decision of guilty indicates.

Too often the man on the street cyni-cally declares the minor justices play along with police. The embittered small man says the justices of peace "gotta play along or they won't get any police jobs."

Justice of the Peace Jarman puts the lie to those accusations.

Whether the average person believes his decision was right or wrong, he has to be admitted for not being cowed by a mighty array of police brass.

Treading on Dangerous Ground

SAY, that "professional" thief who looted the home of Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells over the weekend certainly is no respecter of the law. No matter how you look at it!

The Rosedale section, which had been the brunt of many a still unsolved burglary in the past few years, singularly was un-visited recently.

But now he comes back with a bang, and picks on the law, with a capital I!
Golly, what a rough time that crook'll have in court if Lawyer Wells goes to work on him! (If he's caught!)

Seriously, the Wells home ransacking may be the start of another wave of crimes in vacation-empty houses. Make sure yours won't be next by removing evidences of your absence. Don't allow milk bottles, papers, etc., to litter your porch. That's a sure sign you're away.

Have visitors look in on your homes, keep a light or lights burning, if possible. Thieves don't like light—including the searchlight of publicity!

Watch Out for Children!

PUBLICATION of The Mercury's annual "back to school" supplement today should remind motorists of the early approach of back to school time!

Every motorist should expect the unexpected where children are concerned.

When children get interested in playing ball, or running a race, or a thousand and one other activities that hold their attention, they are apt to forget for a moment the safety rules that they have been taught at home and in school.

One moment of forgetfulness can be fatal.
Motorists always be on guard for children. "For when a child forgets, the driver must remember, if a tragic accident is to be avoided."

Four rules for motorists to follow to protect children on the streets and highways are these:

1. Remember that children are unpredictable and that the motorist must think for them in traffic.
2. Give young bike riders every break.
3. Drive with extreme caution near schools and playgrounds and in residential areas—in fact, near any place where children may be expected to gather.
4. Be especially alert in school areas for signs, signals, traffic police, patrol boys and for children themselves.

The best advice on child safety anyone can give a motorist is contained in the slogan of the Montgomery county safety council: "Children May Dare—Drivers Beware!"

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where a new color for women's Fall dress is called "porridge," after the breakfast dish. Probably contrasts nicely with egg yolk yellow and toast brown.

An item says 23

Reactions Vary on Water Ban Easing

Welcomes Water
To the Editor: I hope this new idea for easing of the water ban works out all right.
My grass is parched and dry. I am doubtful that sprinkling it now will do any good.
Also I find it very annoying to see others watering their cars.
A car won't be ruined by letting a little dirt collect on it, but without water, a lawn will be ruined in a very short while.
Pottstown READER

Questions Jealousy
To the Editor: Why should people become jealous just because I put a little water on my car to make it look nice?
So what if lawns are turning brown?
They'll be just as green next year.
There's always another year to sprinkle your lawn, but when a car is dirty, it must be washed.

Sprinkling, Bah!

look like? Soon as you get a decent lawn fixed up around here, all the stray dogs

I say to heck with the sprinkling of lawns. Let's have more baths and fewer green lawns.

Hates Heat
To the Editor: Heat! Heat! Heat!
Everyone's talking about the heat.
I'm sick and tired of hearing people

See an acquaintance of yours on the

The Voice of Broadway

Beautiful Kay Williams Spreckels who made headlines the other day when her sugar heir ex-husband was charged with beating her, is responding nicely to John Hodiak's romantic therapy.

Incidentally, the prelude to Kay's encounter with the wealthy Spreckels was a big pitch by him for a reconciliation: he gave her a huge new sparkler and a Cadillac, and among other lavish peace offerings, and blew up when she decided not to kiss and make up.

Claude Cartier of the jewelry millions is expected to make sudden marital news in Paris, the candidate for bride being Sylvie Hirsch, exquisite Dior model who's been linked with him for months now.
The gay boulevardiers around Parer are betting the nuptials take place this month.

CHUMS WON'T flip if Sugar Ray Robinson rushes into serious training to take on the winner of the October title bout between Randy Turpin and middleweight champ Bobo Olsen.
Sugar's reason for a surprise return to the ring would be just that—sugar.
He easily could make around a hundred grand for his part in the battle.

Local gendarmes are going daffy chasing peeping Toms. The heat wave means open windows and lots of clothes-shedding, and—well, you can imagine.

Mahmoud Pahlevi, kid brother of the Shah of Iran, isn't letting his more famous frere make all the news in the family—although Mahmoud's doings aren't exactly earth-shaking.
He's currently the star of a mellow romance item, being in hot pursuit of New York cover girl Alice Wallace.

PUBLISHING CIRCLES bet the new Kinsey Report on women won't sell nearly as well as expected. All the advance ballyhoo in newspapers and magazines has saturated the reading public, many booksellers feel, and lay book-buyers will be slow to pay $8 when they "know the plot" already.

Mrs. Richard Nixon, the Veep's bride, was the prettiest and most fashionable female at the Pen and Pencil the other night. Got plenty of oging with her hot-weather costume—a raw silk suit in the palest shade of pink, matching gloves and Juliet cap, with black shantung shoes and bag and no jewelry except her wedding and engagement rings.

Robert Taylor will be back in the US soon, so his public should get the low-down on his engagement—or is it?— to Ursula Theiss.

THE GWYNSEY REPORT:
Ann Blyth and Dr. Jim Mc-Nulty will soon announce they've started the big family both want . . . The stork flies in the Penny Edwards-Ralph Winters home in November. . .

John Hodiak—and mebbe vice versa. So—are her dates with agent, Jerry Gershwin, business—or monkey business? . . .
Gig Young and fashionist, Jo Anne Hackett are a new two.
He likes her "design" . . .
Everything okay at the Gene Outreys? ("Peace, its wonderful!" So is patience!) . . .
Songstress Roberta Linn and the head of a TV station are have been for some time . . .

After years of same, Garbo is still being "shadowed" through European resorts by George Schlee. He's the spouse of dressmaker, Valentina, unless they've unspliced so quietly nobody knows of it.

MINER INJURED—George Stengel, 30, a workman employed in the "California" iron ore mine at Boyertown was seriously injured by a cavein 400 feet below the surface. He was injured about the head and body by stones and earth and also suffered a fractured collarbone.

MANY FINES—Burgess J. Elmer Porter collected $86 in fines during the past two weeks. He is doing good work in ridding the borough of beggars and tramps.

DROWNS—George Underwood, 13, of Spring City, drowned in the Schuylkill canal near that borough. It is believed by police he was seized with convulsions when he dived into the water.

"DEAD" RETURNS—A man who was reported dead a year ago in Reading from drinking canned heat, walked into the local police station very much alive. He is Jim Braxton, of 556 Walnut street, who has been working in Philadelphia for many months. Local police received word from Reading that he was dead and had been interred in a Reading cemetery.

NEW FAD—The stockless attire fad is becoming very popular among the younger set in this borough. It is not known if cooler weather will affect the fad for some time.

HILLDALE VILLAGE—Borough officials inspected the $650,000 Hilldale Village war housing project which adjoins the Jacobs' Number 2 plant east of the Sixth ward. The finishing touches are being put on the 300 units. The inspection group was headed by Burgess Lewis P. Sweeney and Joseph E.
Galligan, the latter being president of the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce.

GI WOUNDED—Pfc. Paul Antush,
23, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Antush, 110
Howard street, Stowe, was seriously wounded in action in the southwest Pacific area. His condition is said to be serious.

BOYERTOWN FOOTBALL—The first practice of the Boyertown High school football squad was held under direction of Coaches Red Fleming and Jimmy German. Gerald Weller, George Burfete, Dave Nagel and Bob Fryer are the only outstanding members left from the 1942 squad. Laverne Erb, Bucky Trout and Mollie Bryan have been lost through graduation.

THE "AVERAGE" college professor does the worst type of teaching in America. For the teachers in grammar and high school are specifically trained to be educators.
They are forced to take many courses in educational subjects, including adolescent psychology, teaching methods, etc. And they do practice teaching.
But college professors don't need to take a single course in any such subjects. About all demanded of them is a Ph.D. degree, for America has been oversold on college degrees to the point of absurdity.

important post as head of the secret police. Do you remember his name?

2. Born in Beardstown, Ill., he moved to Los Angeles when he was nine. His first radio job came on his 21st birthday when he became a part-time announcer moved from 635 High street to his newly-built home on North Rohland street, where he's a neighbor of Barristers Bud

Wells and Harold Binder. . . Thomas V.

Frank E. Miller Sr., Elverson, suffered

Products for 14 years. . . Bernice Shaw, oldest of the Pottstown School board president's "Five Bees and a Honey" (his children's first names all start with B, and Mrs. Shaw's the honey!) will go to Kutztown State Teachers college Tuesday.

★ FIRE SCARE—A burning candle was responsible for sounding a general alarm in Royersford the other night! It came about when someone spotted the candle flickering in St. Joseph's Catholic church, at New and Penn streets. This individual, thinking the church afire, got excited and telephoned the Liberty Fire company of Spring City.

Spring City sounded its alarm, and upon hearing the neighboring borough's siren, the two Royersford companies, Humane and Friendship, came screaming to the scene. By the time they arrived hundreds of people were on hand, but there was no fire.

★ LOFTY AMBITION — Howard Hoffman, the auto mechanic, says he has another household chore to perform. "Now,
I gotta stay up till midnight to water my lawn!" he declared. . . Take a look and see if you're cymetricious. But don't be alarmed, Curly. The word just means that you have wavy hair. Locks of that type, incidentally, are subject to greater color variations between individuals than any other kind. Your hair is apt to be blonder, darker or redder if it's curly than if it's straight. Permanents, of course, don't count.

★ BUG STUFF. The government's new yearbook of agriculture is devoted to insects. You'll be comforted to learn that of some 900,000 species of the creatures, only 82,000 or so live in the United States. More comfort you may get from the fact that 10,000 or more chemicals are tested every year as potential killers of pests.
And one more thought: Everything we wear or eat has been sprayed at least once to repel bugs. . . There's a new pick-up drink that has gained popularity over the country, but hasn't hit here yet but may. It's a yeast-fortified tomato juice plus apple juice. The beverage is said to be highly nutritious and yet non-fattening.

★ 90 BUCKS UP IN SMOKE—Ever figure out what your supply of cigarettes costs you for a year? Survey of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors shows that during 1951 the average American smoker put out $90.56 for his gaspers. And there were some 45 million of him, to make a staggering total.
Chain smokers probably doubled that average figure. . . New type of container for your car keys is also a tire gauge, in case you have to check pressure readings. . . Poker chip rack now out counts out the chips as well as storing them.
Touching a lever forces the chips out of each slot five at a time.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE OF THE dreaded diseases of childhood is nephrosis. This kidney affection causes swelling of the body and brings great discomfort.

Nephrosis usually begins with swelling over the eyes. The child's weight may be doubled by the excess fluid. When the skin is pressed, there is an indentation mark for a few seconds due to the waterlogging of the tissues.

Little urine is passed by these children and with what little is given off, there is a great loss of the protein substances that are so necessary to the body.

This protein loss allows the serum to escape from the blood vessels into the tissues and thereby causes the swelling.
Most often this disease starts with an infection of the throat and is believed to be due to some form of allergy which affects the kidney.

However, in a certain number of cases, no cause can be found. The disease may last for months and even years.

In the treatment under the physician's direction, most of these cases are put to bed in a hospital and watched very carefully.

Often, the antibiotics are helpful in treating this disease. The children affected are put on a diet low in salt or sodium and high in protein.

Recently, the new hormone ACTH was used on a group of these children.
It was found that this treatment, although not altogether curative, did relieve the symptoms.

The swelling was completely eliminated in 68 percent of a group of 45 children having nephrosis. It began to disappear after the eighth to 12th day of the treatment.

All the symptoms, both subjective and objective, finally cleared up with this treatment, and it is now being used in many cases of nephrosis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. S.: What is normal blood pressure for a woman 27 years of age?

Answer: The blood pressure varies with the type of individual, personality, and physical makeup. No standard figure can be fixed for any one age group.
However, for a person 27 years of age, a blood pressure of not over 140 systolic, and 90 diastolic would be considered normal.

COMPANY PLANS TO BUILD PLANT

White Motor Sets $2,000,000 Factory Near Exton

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1 (AP)—A two-million dollar plant will be built by the White Motor company for its newly-acquired Autocar division at Exton, Chester county, it was disclosed today.

Robert F. Black, president of White, said construction will begin this week and is scheduled for occupancy in early 1954.

White Motor company of Cleveland recently purchased Autocar in a transaction that is being contested in the US District court here. Stockholders of both firms at special meetings approved the sale.

Edward F. Coogan, president of Autocar since 1949, will be vice president of White, in charge of the Autocar division. Other Autocar officers will be C. R. G. Custer, treasurer; R. B. Bachman, head of engineering and development, and A. Gelpke in charge of production.

Black said Autocar's present plant on Lancaster pike in Ardmore, in use since 1900, will be sold.

The Ardmore plant presently employs 1100 but Black anticipated that most of them will work at the new plant where the labor force will be increased.

Black said the decision to build the new plant was based on the fact that present facilities in Ardmore are located in a highly congested traffic area and not too suitable for modernization to provide efficient manufacturing methods.

Black, a native of Harrisburg and a graduate of Princeton university, started his career in the truck industry with the Mack Truck company in Allentown.

The new plant will be built on a 55-acre plot at the junction of Highways 30 and 100. It will be built on one floor with 12,500 feet of office space and 130,000 feet of manufacturing space.

US Public Health Announces Study of Neurological Disease

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—A major study of the neurological disorder which claimed the life of Lou Gehrig, the baseball star, has been started on Guam, the US Public Health service announced today.

The Pacific island was chosen because the fatal disease—amyotrophic lateral sclerosis—is believed to be highly prevalent there.

The disease is a degenerative one of the nervous system. There is no treatment for it and its cause is unknown, the health service said.

Incidence in this country is also unknown. The health service added that most neurologists agree that about 1500 to 2500 cases occur yearly, with the average person having about three years to live from the time the disease begins.

The disease occurs most frequently in people between the ages of 30 and 55. There seem to be two types, a slow progressive type primarily paralyzing the muscles of the hands and arms, and a more rapidly progressive type in which shoulders, neck, tongue, lips, palate and pharynx are initially involved and paralyzed.

The Public Health service, the Navy bureau of medicine and surgery and the Interior department are participating in the study on Guam.

Dr. Leonard T. Kurland, chief epidemiologist of the health service's national institute of neurological diseases and blindness, has gone to Guam to direct the work.

The officers to be dropped from active duty include 39 captains, 466 commanders, 688 lieutenant commanders and 745 lieutenants. Retirement orders have been sent to 46 officers of all ranks.

Jaycees Nation-Wide Drive to Lower Accident Toll May Save 5000 Yearly

Helaine Grayson aids District of Columbia Commissioner John Donoghue measure off a strip of reflective tape for his car's bumper.

By GROVER BRINKMAN
(Central Press Writer)

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 1—George O'Hara, Roanoke insurance man, said for a long time, starting at a newspaper statement. Dozens of times he re-read the appalling facts: 37,300 persons had died on the nation's highways in the year just ended; another 1,300,000 were injured, many of them permanently disabled. To O'Hara, these were more than statistics. They were so many mothers and fathers and children—all unfortunate victims of fast machine age living.

O'Hara got to wondering what his local Jaycee chapter could do about this appalling fact. His thinking finally evolved into one of the greatest life-saving campaigns in history.

The campaign is called "Lite-a-Bumper—Save a Life," and is conducted by hundreds of junior chambers of commerce in all parts of the United States. It is making the Jaycees our biggest life-saving force.

The bitter statistics on traffic accident deaths show that on a mileage basis, almost three times as many fatal accidents happen at night as during the day time. Traffic experts cite lowered visibility as the reason.

O'HARA DIDN'T know exactly what to do about it until he noticed that some of the large truck and bus firms used a light-reflective red tape on the rear of their vehicles.

Driving behind these vehicles, even on the darkest night, he could see the truck or bus far ahead of him, because his headlights shining on the tape produced much the same effect as if the vehicle was banded in neon lighting.

O'Hara suggested that the Roanoke Jaycees sponsor a drive to put this type of reflective tape on the rear bumper of every car in the city—free of charge. The idea went over with a bang, and the Jaycees went to work. Now, Roanoke police report an 85 percent decline in rear-end crashes since the Jaycees started their campaign.

Cars with the five-foot strips of tape across their bumpers are protected from traffic approaching from the rear at all times when travelling on the open highway, even with tail-lights burned out. They are also protected when parked, as the tape can be seen for a half-mile.

Tests conducted at Iowa State college show that the reflective tape can be seen up to 75 percent quicker than the average taillight.

A year's research at Iowa State showed that drivers approaching a stalled vehicle at night at 50 miles an hour will see it at least a full second earlier if the vehicle is reflectorized, and thus get an extra 73 feet of stopping space—generally enough to avoid a crash.

"The fact remains," said Dr. A. R. Lauer, director of Iowa State college's driving laboratory, "that if a driver sees an obstacle in the path of his automobile in time he will usually be able to avoid a mishap."

DR. LAUER reports researchers found the reflective tape a particular advantage when a driver is facing the high-beam headlights of oncoming cars.

O'Hara's project and the reports of the Iowa State experimentation on the "Lite-a-Bumper" idea intrigued other Jaycee groups across the country. The campaign has now spread to 41 states and will reach all 48, supported by the Jaycees' 180,000 members in its 2049 chapters. It is estimated that more than two million cars have already had reflective tape applied.

Police officials enthusiastically acclaim the idea. The project has been conducted in ten cities in Georgia. Said Chief of Police Traylor of Columbus, Ga.: "From the standpoint of safety I am satisfied that this has been the most valuable program promoted in our city in recent years."

Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi told Jaycee members that he feels their program "can render great assistance to correct an alarming problem facing us."

A CLUE to what the Jaycees may actually have started comes from Lt. Col. John P. Powhida, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., who says, "I believe that eventually such a safety aid may be standard equipment on all new cars." One automobile manufacturing firm, taking his cue, has used reflective sheeting on one of the top-line models in its 1953 line.

Police and highway officials in Texas, where the Jaycees have carried out their safety project in 40 cities, feel they have good reason to be unstinting in their support. Records show 127 persons died in the 6615 rear-end motor accidents on Texas rural highways, and 2552 persons were injured, in 1951. If the 85 percent reduction reported for Virginia is projected over the country, it is possible that the Jaycees will be saving more than 5000 lives a year when their plan is at saturation point.

Jaycees are also conducting "Lite-a-Bike" campaigns as well. It's a big job—but it pays bigger dividends.

FBI Chief Says Population Trends Incline Toward High Crime Wave

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the Nation's current population trends could produce a crime wave of unprecedented proportions.

Hoover based his theory on the record number of young people "approaching the crime-committing age" and the simultaneous increase in aged citizens, 65 or older, who figure frequently as victims of assaults, robberies and murder.

Writing in the September issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, circulated among peace officers throughout the country, Hoover said:

"During the period from 1940 to 1950 the nation experienced an unusually high birth rate. In 1940 there was a total of 21,226,146 children nine years of age and under; by 1950 there were 28,565,000 children in that same age group, an increase of approximately 33 percent.

"The first wave in this flood tide of new citizens born between 1940 and 1950 has just this year reached the 'teenage' period in which some of them will inevitably incline toward juvenile delinquency and later a full-fledged criminal career. If these children eventually commit crimes at the same rate as that at which criminal offenses are now being committed by their elders, it can be accurately predicted that the Nation will soon be confronted with a crime wave greater overall proportions than anything known heretofore.

"The second development converging into this potential criminal problem is the fact that improved living conditions and better medical science have brought a simultaneous upturn in the total number of elder citizens and an increase in the proportion which they bear to the population as a whole.

"These are the people who are most vulnerable to almost every type of crime involving an attack on either a person or property. Thus, the number of potential victims increases simultaneously with an increase in the number of potential offenders.

"A failure of law enforcement to accurately appraise these ominous developments and take preventive action immediately will itself be tantamount to a social crime. This can equally be said of the public upon which each police agency must depend for the funds to provide adequate personnel, training and equipment, as well as co-operative assistance in individual cases."

New Church Choir Director, Organist Will Begin Her Duties Here Sept. 13

A new choir director and organist will begin her duties at the First Methodist church Sept. 13. She is Dorothy Sutton, of 1318 High street, who will begin her tenure here after serving as organist at the Phoenixville Methodist church.

Miss Sutton also is a former organist at St. James Lutheran church. She is a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Maryland and took summer courses at Union Seminary in New York and the Christianism Choral school.

In taking over as organist, Miss Sutton will also serve as director for the chancel, chapel and children's choirs of the church.

Miss Sutton will be the fourth organist to serve the church in the past 50 years. She will succeed Robert Kichline, who is director of the male chorus at Firestone. He resigned the post May after more than five years' service.

Since the past May, Peggy Kunkle, of Fagleyville, has served as organist at the church. Miss Sutton is a piano and voice teacher at the Lamb studios.

Potter Museum, Million-Dollar Hobby, Is Becoming Greatest 'World in Wax'

Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth get together again—in the Potter museum.

By LESLIE E. ARNDT
(Central Press Writer)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Sept. 1—George L. Potter is widely known as the Hoosier with the million-dollar hobby. His "World in Wax" in St. Augustine, is the only one of its kind on this continent and its monthly average drawing is upwards of 10,000 visitors.

In this wax museum, patterned after the internationally famous Mme. Toussaud's in London, one can stand in the hushed presence of the mighty monarchs of ancient Europe, their queens, Roman emperors, or latter day celebrities.

It will be twice as large as the 150-year-old London institution and the Lafayette, Ind., financier, builder, and student of history and the arts, is sparing no expense to make his figures as authentic and lifelike as is humanly possible.

The museum now has 69 figures, and will receive several per month until the ultimate goal of 1,000 is reached. Then all of the great rulers and figures of history as well as great actors, actresses and sports heroes will be represented.

The Potter museum, incidentally, was established in St. Augustine because, though he spends most of his time in Lafayette, Potter is a frequent visitor to the historic Florida city.

UNLIKE traveling wax figure displays, Potter's exhibit is primarily educational and contains no likenesses of criminals or gangsters or chambers of horror. It is a labor of love . . . an aid, as its creator puts it, "to help school children learn English and American history painlessly." Adults, too, will enjoy the refresher course.

Before launching his project, Potter spent more than two years and about $25,000 on exhaustive research throughout Europe, hiring an expert staff of researchers, historians and artists. Then he engaged Gems, Ltd., of London, to make the figures in co-operation with his staff of experts.

The figures are authentically costumed by L. and H. Nathan, of London, British clothiers to the royal family. The costumes, valued in the many hundreds of dollars, are made to exact specifications of the researchers who studied famous paintings in the great galleries of the world for models.

Potter brought to America Mme. Janine DeBottie, who was associated with Mme. Toussaud's museum for nine years, and she now is first assistant in establishing the museum.

THE WAX for the heads and hands comes from France; the eyes, so perfect that small red blood vessels are visible) are the work of Czechoslovakian glassblowers in Germany, and the human hair comes from Italy. The hands are carved by Dutch sculptors.

Visitors are quick to question the short stature of many of history's great, but authentic documents vouch for the measurements.

They also are puzzled when seeing Queen Elizabeth with painted fingernails. This, too, is vouched for as are the web fingers on the left hand of beautiful Anne Boleyn.

The fur on the robes is genuine and an amazing feature is that the jewels worn by the female greats are authentically real, Anne Boleyn, for instance, wears a diamond ring and real pearls.

Each head is put in singly, with much patience, to attain the perfection necessary. Hair and beards are frequently shampooed to maintain the naturalness.

Among the figures are Winston Churchill, Henry VIII with his six wives, Cardinal Richelieu, Christopher Columbus, Sir Francis Drake, Frederick the Great, William Shakespeare, John Milton, Sir Isaac Newton, King Edward IV, Patrick Henry, Voltaire, Robert E. Lee, Washington and Lincoln. You'll also find Will Rogers, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Rudolph Valentino and other American "greats."

Although armadillos live mostly on bugs, they sometimes eat tomatatoes or melons.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1 (AP)—A two-million dollar plant will be built by the White Motor company for its newly-acquired Autocar division at Exton, Chester county, it was disclosed today.

Robert F. Black, president of White, said construction will begin this week and is scheduled for occupancy in early 1954.

White Motor company of Cleveland recently purchased Autocar in a transaction that is being contested in the US District court here. Stockholders of both firms at special meetings approved the sale.

Edward F. Coogan, president of Autocar since 1949, will be vice president of White, in charge of the Autocar division. Other Autocar officers will be C. R. G. Custer, treasurer; B. B. Bachman, head of engineering and development, and A. Gelpke in charge of production.

FBI Chief Says Population Trends Incline Toward High Crime Wave

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the Nation's current population trends could produce a crime wave of unprecedented proportions.

Hoover based his theory on the record number of young people "approaching the crime-committing age" and the simultaneous increase in aged citizens, 65 or older, who figure frequently as victims of assaults, robberies and murder.

Writing in the September issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, circulated among peace officers throughout the country, Hoover said:

"During the period from 1940 to 1950 the nation experienced an unusually high birth rate. In 1940 there was a total of 21,226,146 children nine years of age and under; by 1950 there were 29,565,000 children in that same age group, an increase of approximately 39 percent.

"The first wave in this flood tide of new citizens born between 1940 and 1950 has just this year reached the 'teenage' period in which some of them will inevitably incline toward juvenile delinquency and later a full-fledged criminal career. If these children eventually commit crimes at the same rate as that at which criminal offenses are now being committed by their elders, it can be accurately predicted that the Nation will soon be confronted with a crime wave greater overall proportions than anything known heretofore.

"The second development converging into this potential criminal problem is the fact that improved living conditions and better medical science have brought a simultaneous upturn in the total number of elder citizens and an increase in the proportion which they bear to the population as a whole.

"These are the people who are most vulnerable to almost every type of crime involving an attack on either a person or property. Thus, the number of potential victims increases simultaneously with an increase in the number of potential offenders.

"A failure of law enforcement to accurately appraise these ominous developments and take preventive action immediately will itself be tantamount to a social crime. This can equally be said of the public upon which each police agency must depend for the funds to provide adequate personnel, training and equipment, as well as co-operative assistance in individual cases."

New Church Choir Director, Organist Will Begin Her Duties Here Sept. 13

A new choir director and organist will begin her duties at the First Methodist church Sept. 13. She is Dorothy Sutton, of 1318 High street, who will begin her tenure here after serving as organist at the Phoenixville Methodist church.

Miss Sutton also is a former organist at St. James Lutheran church. She is a graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Maryland and took Summer courses at Union Seminary in New York and the Christianson Choral school.

In taking over as organist, Miss Sutton will also serve as director for the chancel, chapel and children's choirs of the church.

Miss Sutton will be the fourth organist to serve the church in the past 50 years. She will succeed Robert Kichline, who is director of the male chorus at Firestone. He resigned the post May after more than five years' service.

Since the past May, Peggy Kunkle, of Eaglesville, has served as organist at the church.

Miss Sutton is a piano and voice teacher at the Lamb studios.

Potter Museum, Million-Dollar Hobby, Is Becoming Greatest 'World in Wax'

Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth get together again—in the Potter museum.

By LESLIE E. ARNDT
(Central Press Writer)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Sept. 1—George L. Potter is widely known as the Hoosier with the million-dollar hobby. His "World in Wax" in St. Augustine, is the only one of its kind on this continent and its monthly average drawing is upwards of 10,000 visitors.

In this wax museum, patterned after the internationally famous Mme. Toussaud's in London, one can stand in the hushed presence of the mighty monarchs of ancient Europe, their queens, Roman emperors, or latter day celebrities.

It will be twice as large as the 150-year-old London institution and the Lafayette, Ind., financier, builder, and student of history and the arts, is sparing no expense to make his figures as authentic and lifelike as is humanly possible.

The museum now has 69 figures, and will receive several per month until the ultimate goal of 1,000 is reached. Then all of the great rulers and figures of history as well as great actors, actresses and sports heroes will be represented.

The Potter museum, incidentally, was established in St. Augustine because, though he spends most of his time in Lafayette, Potter is a frequent visitor to the historic Florida city.

UNLIKE traveling wax figure displays, Potter's exhibit is primarily educational and contains no likenesses of criminals or gangsters or chambers of horror. It is a labor of love... an aid, as its creator puts it, "to help school children learn English and American history painlessly." Adults, too, will enjoy the refresher course.

Before launching his project, Potter spent more than two years and about $25,000 on exhaustive research throughout Europe, hiring an expert staff of researchers, historians and artists. Then he engaged Gems, Ltd., of London, to make the figures in co-operation with his staff of experts.

The figures are authentically costumed by L. and H. Nathan, of maitres or melons.

Each hair is put in singly, with much patience, to attain the perfection necessary. Hair and beards are frequently shampooed to maintain the naturalness.

Among the figures are Winston Churchill, Henry VIII with his six children learn English and American history painlessly. Adults, too, will enjoy the refresher course.

Rosemarie Schutz Is Surprised With Engagement Token At Farewell Party Given in Honor of Robert Hartenstine

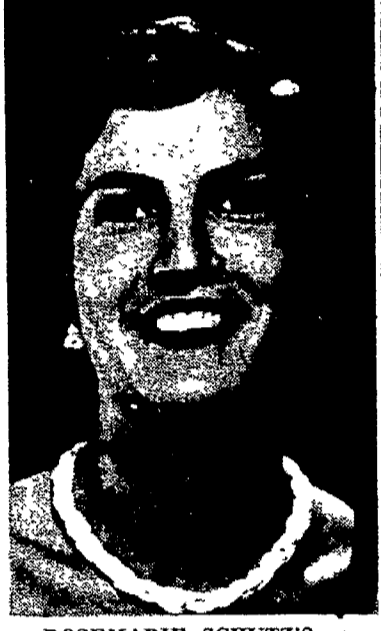

A farewell party for her fiance's brother, Robert K. Hartenstine, proved to be more exciting than Rosemarie Schutz had anticipated, for it was there that she received her engagement ring.

Last week Rosemarie and her parents attended the party given in honor of Robert before he entered the Air Force. Supposedly a farewell party, it proved to be an engagement party as well.

Rosemarie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Schutz, Alpine Farm, Fagleyville. She was graduated from Pottstown High School in 1945 and received her nurse's diploma from Pottstown Hospital in 1950.

She is currently employed by the Pennsylvania State Department of Health as a public health nurse in Upper Montgomery county.

Raymond C. Hartenstine Jr., the future groom, is the son of

Vows Exchanged by Dorothy Christman, Glenroy Geist at Afternoon Ceremony

Afternoon nuptials recently united in marriage Dorothy Irene Christman, East Greenville RD, and Glenroy Elwood Geist, Mertztown RD.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Oswin D. Christman, East Greenville RD. Mr. Geist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geist, Mertztown RD.

The Bowers church, Bowers, was the scene of the double ring ceremony.

The Rev. C. E. Keiser officiated before an altar banked with flowers. Satin streamers marked the pews.

Mrs. Zymo Oswald, organist, presented a recital of wedding music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown of lace over taffeta. A lace bolero covered the strapless bodice and featured a high neckline.

Long tapered sleeves came to points over her wrists. A bouffant lace skirt fell in folds over a satin underskirt.

A coronet studded with seed pearls held in place the bride's fingertip length veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid.

Betty Stevens was the matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She was attired in an orchid gown of net over taffeta.

Its strapless bodice was hidden under an orchid cape. Mrs. Stevens carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Walter Geist, Mertztown RD, was the best man. Ushers were Oswin Christman Jr., East Greenville RD, and Donald Reinert, Mertztown RD.

A reception of 500 guests at the Kutztown Grange hall followed the ceremony. Decorations were in lavender and white with white wedding bells predominating.

Out-of-town guests attended from Nazareth, Hamburg, Bath, New Tripoli, Andree, Pennsburg, Red Hill, Summerville, Orwigsburg, Hatfield, Reading.

Topton, Spinnerstown, Easton, Northampton, Barto, Nanticoke, Lehigh, Allentown and Withanip, Va.

The mother of the bride was gowned in a nylon frock of black and white print. The accessories were white. The groom's mother chose iridescent taffeta with brown accessories.

Mr. Geist graduated from the Longswamp High school with the class of 1952.

The newlyweds will be at home at East Greenville RD.

Be a Chef Instead of a Cook and Add a Gourmet Touch to Meals By Learning How to Use a Variety of Spices, Like the French

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Enchant your guests, one of these evenings, by adding some spice to their lives. Of course we don't mean you to trifle with their private lives—we're speaking in culinary fashion!

Do you know some of the valuable easy ways of pepping up dishes with a touch of herb or spice, giving them savory and "May I have more?" flavor?

Take an ordinary Summer salad. The clean crisp taste of garden lettuce, young beet greens, tender baby leaves of spinach, radishes and cucumbers, and the succulence of tomatoes cannot be equalled. But they cry out for a tangy dressing enlivened with herbs or spices.

With hot weather at hand, it's wise to keep cool by preparing food as quickly as possible on the top of your range or in your broiler. Herbs and spices can do so much for such short-term cooking. Here is a bouquet of suggestions.

If you not yet an addict of freshly ground pepper, you have a wonderful new experience before you. There's something about the way this aromatic spice tastes when it's wafted over a salad and many rangetop dishes, that nothing else can replace.

That convenient product, garlic powder. What more subtle seasoning—if used with a light hand—can you have on a kitchen shelf?

TARRAGON—the dried ground variety adds real flair to egg and chicken skillet dishes. It's also indispensable if you want unique flavor in salads.

PAPRIKA—what else gives a plain salad dressing such a rosy and inviting hue, makes it look so attractive and adds such a piquant touch?

BASIL—if you don't know what this herb can do for plain tomatoes, and any dish in which tomatoes are an ingredient, you have a delightful surprise in store for you.

OREGANO—the darling of Italian cooking. It's the oregano sprinkled over the tomato, cheese and anchovy topping of a pizza that makes such sensational mouthfuls. Make the pizza of English muffins in the broiler.

CARAWAY AND POPPY SEEDS—have you tried adding them to cheese dips for fresh raw vegetables or potato chips, to cheese spreads for toast and crackers? There's something new and different that your company will love.

MINT begs to be used! In Summer drinks and fruit cups it adds a beguiling note. Make a syrup with it for pineapple and taste how heavenly fragrances blend.

CURRY—in a sauce of course, for chicken, lamb, veal, beef or eggs. But try it, too, in a tomato-and-cheddar cheese sauce if you want a divine rarebit.

How about that special group of spices that make fruits exciting? Nutmeg with pears! Just the merest dash of cinnamon in a cherry sauce! Ginger with a saucy compote of apples! A suspicion of clove when you broil orange slices! A whisper of mace to add mystery to butter-fried bananas!

And so back to salad dressings. Of all the combinations possible, we know of none so popular with men as a dressing that's spiked with a number of seasonings plus Roquefort cheese. Here's such a recipe for you to try on vegetables.

SPICY ROQUEFORT DRESSING
Ingredients: 1/2 teaspoon powdered dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon sugar (if desired), 8 to 10 peppercorns (1/4 teaspoon ground), 1/4 cup salad oil, 1/4 pound Roquefort cheese.

Method: Add seasonings to vinegars and lemon juice in small bowl. Add sugar if used. Grind in freshly ground pepper from pepper mill. Beat with a fork. Gradually add salad oil, stirring constantly. Mash half the Roquefort in a bowl; gradually blend in dressing. Put in jar with screw top. Before using add remaining crumbled cheese and shake vigorously.

Pottstown Presbyterian Church Club Sponsors Labor Day Weekend Convention

September 5, 6 and 7 are the days set for the "Young Adult Labor Day Week-end Safari" sponsored by the Geneva Acquaintance Club, First Presbyterian church.

W. Osborne Rowland, formerly of Ireland, now pastor of Wilkie Memorial church, Philadelphia, will be the main speaker. He will lead the group in the Bible study.

The event, to be held at Pennington Isle camp, located on the Delaware river, near Frenchtown, N. J., will have approximately 50 delegates registered from Philadelphia area Presbyterian churches.

Persons attending will be met with an informal atmosphere enhanced by camp fires and outdoor life.

Three discussion leaders at the "Faith, Fun and Fellowship" conference will be Marquand Bower, Pottstown; Robert Chilton, New Jersey; and Cyrus J. Scapellato, Norristown.

President of the Pottstown group is Robert Bower; program chairman is Edward Schumacher; Florence Schumacher will work with the kitchen arrangements.

Those on publicity are Doris Maimone and Joyce Leaver.

Zion Ladies Bible Class Plans First Fall Meeting

Members of the Zion Ladies Bible class, Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, will meet tomorrow at 8 p. m. for their first business meeting of the year 1953-54.

Plans for a banquet will be discussed. Hostesses for the affair are Mrs. Calvin Harp, Mrs. Harvey Nettles, Mrs. Earle Shaner, Alice Ullman and Mrs. James Will.

Odor-Destroying Lamp Perfected for Home Use

A new ozone-generating lamp recently has been perfected, for use in kitchen or bathroom, to destroy odors and keep the air fresh.

This is similar to the type used for some time by the meat industry to prevent fungus from growing on stored meats.

The ozone lamp also is useful in eliminating many of the airborne substances which cause hay fever, asthma and other allergies, says Dr. Hazel J. Berglund, co-author of the new book, "IT'S NOT All in Your Mind."

This Year's Trip Completed Royersford Girl Scout Troop Begins to Plan for Next Summer's Journey to Washington

Photographs of their recent trip to New York were distributed to members of the Royersford Girl Scout Troop 56 at their last meeting.

Plans were also begun for next year's trip. The girls decided to sell midget fire extinguishers to raise funds for their anticipated visit to Washington.

Troop leader, Mrs. Frank Ewing, reviewed the badge work already completed and gave the group a clear picture of the work still to be done.

Attending the meeting were: Barbara Adams, Sandra Batten, Margaret Bechtel, Mary Alice Bergstresser, Leah Bixler, Carol Bolker, Lois Bower, Judy Brown, Patsy Cassaboon.

Joan Johnson, Joanne Kepler, Merrily Kiggins, Sally Lou Lowe, Mary Marchionne, Joyce Nold, Carol Nurnberg, Joy Nurnberg.

The meeting was under the supervision of Mrs. Frank Ewing, leader, and Mrs. Paul Bergstresser, assistant leader.

Sandra Bertolet was a visitor.

Also included in the recent activities of the scouts was a tour of the Krasley Bleach and Dye Works. Members learned about the processes of cleaning, blueing, dyeing, ironing and drying of a variety of fabrics. This was an aid to them in earning their color craft badge.

Scouts who made the tour were: Barbara Adams, Sandra Batten, Margaret Bechtel, Mary Alice Bergstresser, Leah Bixler, Carol Bolker.

Lois Bower, Judy Brown, Patsy Cassaboon, Theresa Conway, Marie Devine, Blaine F. N. K., Suzanne Grebe, Joan Johnson, Joanne Kepler, Merrily Kiggins.

Sally Lou Lowe, Mary Marchionne, Mary Murphy, Joyce Nold, Carol Nurnberg, Joy Nurnberg.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Youthful Couple

Dorothy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Specht, 16 West Fifth street, Boyertown.

The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bernhart, Boyertown RD 1.

The bride chose as her wedding dress a blue cotton frock trimmed with rhinestones. Fashioned with cap sleeves, it had a scooped neckline and full circular skirt.

Her accessories were black velvet. Rhinestone trimmings on her shoes were an added accent to her costume.

She carried a bouquet of a white orchid and pompons.

The bride's sister Eleanor attended her as maid of honor. Her attire duplicated that of the bride's, in red. Yellow pompons formed her bouquet.

Daniel Schoenly acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. Appropriate decorations of white wedding bells formed the background for the festivities.

Rosemarie Schutz Is Surprised With Engagement Token At Farewell Party Given in Honor of Robert Hartenstine

A farewell party for her fiancé's brother, Robert K. Hartenstine, proved to be more exciting than Rosemarie Schutz had anticipated, for it was there that she received her engagement ring.

Last week Rosemarie and her parents attended the party given in honor of Robert before he entered the Air Force. Supposedly a farewell party, it proved to be an engagement party as well.

Rosemarie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Schutz, Alpine Farm, Fagleyville. She was graduated from Pottstown High school in 1945 and received her nurse's diploma from Pottstown hospital in 1950.

She is currently employed by the Pennsylvania State Department of Health as a public health nurse in Upper Montgomery county.

Raymond C. Hartenstine Jr., the future groom, is the son of Raymond C. Hartenstine, Sunnyside. A graduate of Mercersburg Academy, he is now a senior at Lehigh University.

Past president of Chi Phi fraternity, he has recently been elected to preside over the university's Interfraternity Council.

Attending the farewell party were: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Drumheller and daughters, Susan and Kay; Ray Hartenstine Sr., Mrs. Helen Reifsnider, Raymond Hartenstine Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Schutz and daughter, Rosemarie, and Robert K. Hartenstine, in whose honor the party was given.

ROSEMARIE SCHUTZ'S engagement to Raymond Hartenstine Jr. has recently been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Schutz.

Vows Exchanged by Dorothy Christman, Glenroy Geist at Afternoon Ceremony

Afternoon nuptials recently united in marriage Dorothy Irene Christman, East Greenville RD, and Glenroy Elwood Geist, Mertztown RD.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Oswin D. Christman, East Greenville RD. Mr. Geist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geist, Mertztown RD.

The Bowers church, Bowers, was the scene of the double ring ceremony.

The Rev. C. E. Keiser officiated before an altar banked with flowers. Satin streamers marked the pews.

Mrs. Zymo Oswald, organist, presented a recital of wedding music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown of lace over taffeta. A lace bolero covered the strapless bodice and featured a high neckline.

Long tapered sleeves came to points over her wrists. A bouffant lace skirt fell in folds over a satin underskirt.

A coronet studded with seed pearls held in place the bride's fingertip length veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid.

Betty Stevens was the matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She was attired in an orchid gown of net over taffeta.

Walter Geist, Mertztown RD, was the best man. Ushers were Oswin Christman Jr., East Greenville RD, and Donald Reinert, Mertztown RD.

A reception of 500 guests at the Kutztown Grange hall followed the ceremony. Decorations were in lavender and white with white wedding bells predominating.

Out-of-town guests attended from Nazareth, Hamburg, Bath, New Tripoli, Andree, Pennsburg, Red Hill, Summerville, Orwigsburg, Hatfield, Reading.

Topton, Spinnerstown, Easton, Northampton, Barto, Nanticoke, Lehigh, Allentown and Withampt.

The mother of the bride was gown in a nylon frock of black and white print. The accessories were white. The groom's mother chose irri-

Be a Chef Instead of a Cook and Add a Gourmet Touch to Meals By Learning How to Use a Variety of Spices, Like the French

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

Enchant your guests, one of these evenings, by adding some spice to their lives. Of course we don't mean you to trifle with their private lives—we're speaking in culinary fashion!

Do you know some of the valuable easy ways of peppering up dishes with a touch of herb or spice, giving them savory and "May I have more?" flavor?

Take an ordinary Summer salad. The clean crisp taste of garden lettuce, young beet greens, tender baby leaves of spinach, radishes and cucumbers, and the succulence of tomatoes cannot be equalled. But they cry out for a tangy dressing enlivened with herbs or spices.

With hot weather at hand, it's wise to keep cool by preparing food as quickly as possible on the top of your range or in your broiler. Herbs and spices can do so much for such short-term cooking. Here is a bouquet of suggestions.

If you not yet an addict of freshly ground pepper, you have a wonderful new experience before you. There's something about the way this aromatic spice tastes when it's wafted over a salad and many rangtop dishes, that nothing else can replace.

That convenient product, garlic powder. What more subtle seasoning—if used with a light hand—can you have on a kitchen shelf?

TARRAGON — the dried ground variety adds real flair to egg and chicken skillet dishes. It's also indispensable if you want unique flavor in salads.

Of all the combinations possible, we know of none so popular with men as a dressing that's spiked with a number of seasonings plus

PAPRIKA — what else gives a plain salad dressing such a rosy and inviting hue, makes it look so attractive and adds such a piquant touch?

BASIL — if you don't know what this herb can do for plain tomatoes, and any dish in which tomatoes are an ingredient, you have a delightful surprise in store for you.

OREGANO — that darling of Italian cooking. It's the oregano sprinkled over the tomato, cheese and anchovy topping of a pizza that makes such sensational mouthfuls. Make the pizza of English muffins in the broiler.

CARAWAY AND POPPY SEEDS — have you tried adding them to cheese dips for fresh raw vegetables or potato chips, to cheese spreads for toast and crackers? There's something new and different that your company will love.

MINT begs to be used! In Summer drinks and fruit cups it adds a beguiling note. Make a syrup with it for pineapple and taste how heavenly fragrances blend.

CURRY — in a sauce of course, for chicken, lamb, veal, beef or eggs. But try it, too, in a tomato-and-cheddar cheese sauce if you want a divine rarebit.

How about that special group of spices that make fruits exciting? Nutmeg with pears! Just the merest dash of cinnamon on a cherry sauce! Ginger with a saucy compote of apples! A suspicion of clove when you broil orange slices! A whisper of mace to add mystery to butter-fried bananas!

And so back to salad dressings. Of all the combinations possible, we know of none so popular with men as a dressing that's spiked with a number of seasonings plus

Card Parties More Fun With Bright New Decks

If it's a card party you're giving, remember that the cards you "serve" are as important as the sandwiches and cakes.

Offering attractive cards to your guests is no trouble since washable ones are available everywhere these days. A quick sponge-off with a damp, soapy cloth puts them in shape.

And whether it's bridge or canasta, it's a lot more fun with bright, shiny cards than if they're dog-eared and sticky.

Red wine turned sour makes excellent vinegar.

This Year's Trip Completed: Royersford Girl Scout Troop Begins to Plan for Next Summer's Journey to Washington

Photographs of their recent trip to New York were distributed to members of the Royersford Girl Scout Troop 56 at their last meeting.

Plans were also begun for next year's trip. The girls decided to sell midge fire extinguishers to raise funds for their anticipated visit to Washington.

Troop leader, Mrs. Frank Ewing, reviewed the badge work already completed and gave the group a clear picture of the work still to be done.

Attending the meeting were: Barbara Adams, Sandra Batten, Margaret Bechtel, Mary Alice Bergstresser, Leah Bixler, Carol Bolker, Lois Bower, Judy Brown, Patsy Cassaboon.

Joan Johnson, Joanne Kepner, Merrily Kiggins, Sally Lou Lowe, Mary Marchionne, Joyce Nold, Carol Nurnberg, Joy Nurnberg.

Betty Prindle, Shirley Prindle, Bonnie Shaner, Margaret Sower, Judy Thornton, Kay Ulmer, Donna Walker, Norma Jean West and Mary Louise Wisler.

Scouts who made the tour were: Barbara Adams, Sandra Batten, Margaret Bechtel, Mary Alice Bergstresser, Leah Bixler, Carol Bolker.

Lois Bower, Judy Brown, Patsy Cassaboon, Theresa Conway, Marie Devine, Blaine Funk, Suzanne Grebe, Joan Johnson, Joanne Kepner, Merrily Kiggins.

Sally Lou Lowe, Mary Marchionne, Mary Murphy, Joyce Nold, Joy Nurnberg, Carol Nurnberg, Helen Onrod, Betty Prindle, Shirley Prindle, Bonnie Shaner, Margaret Sower.

Also present were: Mrs. Frank Ewing, leader, Mrs. Paul Bergstresser, assistant leader, and Mrs. William Harris, Sandra Bertolet and Frank Ewing Jr. were visitors.

Head to Toe Daintiness Creates Beautiful Women

To create an aura of dainty femininity, a woman's skin, hair, hands, and clothes must be fresh as a flower.

You just can't create the illusion unless you're meticulous about soap and water cleanliness. If you scrub your skin to a rosy glow, but neglect your hair, the whole picture is spoiled. It's got to be a tip-toe job.

You've got to put those soap-suds to work every day of your life. Daintiness is something you achieve day by day, not all of a sudden.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Youthful Couple

Dorothy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Specht, 16 West Fifth street, Boyertown.

The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bernhart, Boyertown RD 1.

The bride chose as her wedding dress a blue cotton frock trimmed with rhinestones. Fashioned with cap sleeves, it had a scooped neckline and full circular skirt.

Her accessories were black velvet. Rhinestone trimmings on her shoes were an added accent to her costume.

She carried a bouquet of a white orchid and pompons.

The bride's sister Eleanor attended her as maid of honor. Her attire duplicated that of the bride's, in red. Yellow pompons formed her bouquet.

Daniel Schoenly acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. Appropriate decorations of white wedding bells formed the background for the festivities.

Dorothy's mother wore a black dress accented with white accessories and a white pompon corsage. The groom's mother's dress was brown. She also wore white accessories and a white pompon corsage.

Following the reception the newlyweds left for their three day honeymoon in Atlantic City.

Both the bride and the groom were members of the 1953 graduating class of Boyertown High school. She is associated with the Rittenhouse Hosiery company, and he is a contractor on road building.

Here's a quick way of making Boston Cream Pie. Make up a package of vanilla pudding and cool; spread between two layers of bought sponge cake. Spread prepared chocolate frosting over the top of the cake.

Sleeveless Tweed Suit A New Autumn Fashion

The vogue for the sleeveless dress carries into fall in the sleeveless suit!

Using wool tweed, one St. Louis designer creates a box-jacket suit without sleeves.

The result—an early fall costume—light enough to wear with a cotton blouse in September, and warm enough when worn with a sweater or jersey for early autumn—a smart idea for the college campus.

Ladies Bible class of Grace Lutheran church—gather at the church at 6:30 p. m. to travel to the home of Mrs. Charles Erb, Ringing Hill for a corn and wiener roast.

Women of St. Paul's Reformed church—meet at the church during the morning and afternoon hours for quilting.

Rose society—meets at 8 p. m. at the YWCA.

Sunday school orchestra of Emmanuel Lutheran church—meets at the Clover Leaf restaurant at 6:30 p. m. for a banquet.

Sunday school association of St. Paul's Reformed church—meets in the church tonight at 8 p. m.

Bride-Elect, Dorothy Mae Crosland, Almost Speechless at Surprise Party

To say that Dorothy Mae Crosland was "surprised" at the recent wedding shower given in her honor would indeed be putting it mildly!

"Blaine, did you know anything about this?" was all she was able to gasp to her fiance, when in utter astonishment she surveyed the roomful of friends gathered to fete her.

Given by Dorothy's sister Laura Jean, the shower was held at their home last week.

Center of interest of the attractively decorated living room was an umbrella enhanced with multi-colored crepe paper ruffles. The gifts were placed on the table under this.

Pastel colored streamers from each corner of the room to the doorway added a further note of festivity to the occasion. Hung on them were little white umbrellas to which additional, and smaller, streamers were attached.

Dorothy Mae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Crosland, Pottstown RD. A 1951 graduate of Spring City High school, she is currently a member of the office staff of the B. F. Goodrich company, Oaks.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Franklin Mowrer are the parents of the future groom, Blaine F. Mowrer. Employed by the Springfield Tannery, Mr. Mowrer also attended Spring City High school. The wedding will take place in the near future.

Present at the shower were: Marjorie and Lois Adams, Dawn Mowrer, all members of the wedding party.

Lorna Finkbinder, Rosella Kugler, Barbara Elliott, Frances Downes, Leah Sypher, Nancy Hulvey, Suzanne Bearde.

Dorothy Slauffer, Mrs. Eugene C. Dinnicenti, Mrs. Robert Boyer, Mrs. Robert Keen, Mrs. B. Franklin Mowrer, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crosland, George Crosland Jr., Blaine Mowrer, the guest of honor, Dorothy Mae Crosland, and hostess and also a member of the wedding party, Laura Jean Crosland.

Parents Entertain for Frances Shaner In Celebration of Her Tenth Birthday

Frances Shaner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. George Shaner, 650 North Evans street, was recently feted at a party given in honor of her tenth birthday.

After opening a host of gifts presented her by her school friends the girls went out on the lawn to play games. Winners of each of the contests were presented with prizes.

Refreshments were served on a table appropriately decorated for the occasion with a large birthday cake as the centerpiece. Balloons and various colored streamers hung from the ceiling.

Guests included: Nancy Lou Hull, Carole Ann Groom, Barbara Haust, Kathleen Freese, Judy Calen, Gloria Renninger, Jane Freese.

Judy Shutt, Barbara Lee Saylor, Janet Grow, Marilyn Seibert, Donna Cory, Barbara Davidheiser, Elizabeth Shoffey, Frances Shaner and Dennis Shaner.

The party was given by Frances' parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. George Shaner.

Velvet Tapered Slacks Rate With Younger Set

Tapered slacks are a new fashion with the young crowd—worn not only for playwear in denims and corduroys, but for the autumn in velvet and menswear flannel for lounging.

These are worn with tailored jersey blouses, or with low-cut bodice tops for after five.

A new fabric for this is a leopard print, dramatic when worn with velvet, and festive for hours after five.

Roses Still Most Popular Floral Motif in Homes

Roses are still top floral motif in the home. The most extensive use of rose prints is being made to brighten the rooms of teenage girls, according to one manufacturer.

Rose motifs were printed on five different kinds of material in more than 100 colorations showed by one manufacturer.

Copies of famous French, English and American fabric documents were included in the group, which ranged from bouquets dominated by a full blown rose among tiny buds to roses with a background presenting a textured effect simulating grass.

Safeguard Your Family With Careful Cleanliness

Have you ever wondered how the doctor can visit patients every day, and yet seldom catch a contagious illness himself?

Doctors aren't immune—at least, not without the precautions they practice religiously. These precautions are soap and water, faithfully used.

Why not do as the doctor does, when some member of the family is ill. Scrub your hands thoroughly after every contact with the patient or with things the patient uses.

And do you really know how to scrub? It's no hit-and-miss process. The doctor scrubs his hands with a brush, then lathers his hands thoroughly, then rinses them again and again with hot water.

Another important thing to remember is always to use a clean towel for drying your hands.

That New Spring Bonnet Merits a Snappy Escort

It's high time those lush bonnets that blossom yearly in the Easter parade were accompanied by correct masculine escorts.

If you're going to step out on Easter morning in a designer creation of rosebuds and tulle, you don't want its luster dimmed by Pop's favorite battered fedora, looking as if it had just been rescued from the ashcan.

This year the husband or boy friend also will be expected to wear a new Easter hat, as carefully styled as your own.

With this in mind, one alert hatmaker, Frank H. Lee, corralled four of the top designers of feminine millinery, and asked them, long in advance, to predict what American women would be wearing on their heads this Spring.

Each designer—Sally Victor, Lilly Dache, John Fredericks and Mr. John—produced one hat for Lee, to illustrate the trend. Then Lee set to work to produce a series of men's Spring hats as correct companion pieces.

If you cream butter and sugar by hand when you are making cakes and cookies, use a slotted wooden spoon.

Another important thing to remember is always to use a clean towel for drying your hands.

Two Sedans, Truck Damaged in Collision

Two sedans and a truck were damaged in a collision on Route 663 a mile north of the borough limit, Jeffersonville State police reported yesterday.

The sedans, both northbound, were driven by Charles E. Houck, 227 North Penn street, and Hilary Missimer, 1001 North Evans street. The front and back of Houck's car and the back of Missimer's were damaged.

The driver of the truck had left the scene before police arrived after the crash Monday night. State police said they would interview him after double-checking his identity today.

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm Drawn venetian blinds help keep this home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Schinstine on the southwest corner of Adams street and Mervine road cool during these torrid days, the idea being to keep in the relatively cool air that's in the house early in the morning. The Schinstines recently painted the basement, the walls light blue, the floor red, and have found it an excellent hot-weather retreat.

The house was finished late the past year by Allen K. Davidheiser, Pottstown contractor. Schinstine, music supervisor at Pottstown Junior High school, put in the lawn this summer.

Downstairs are the living room (left), 10 by 15 feet; kitchen, bedroom, bath and den. Upstairs are two unfinished rooms.

Looking Ahead
In Life

Will Enter College

This is the 36th in a series of articles showing how Pottstown's youth is preparing for the future. There is one thing that can be said about Pottstown's young men and women who are preparing for college life; they are not merely looking ahead to the first year, but are going beyond that into a program of full preparedness. Practically all of them who plan to work their way through school have come up with some definite scheme that will carry them into their senior year. Richard Jamison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, of 53 North Hanover street, is no exception, either. This 18-year-old will enter Penn State Sept. 13, where he will pursue the business course. "It is the kind of work I think I would like," he gave as his reason. During the Summer months he has worked at Doehler's as a final inspector on the second shift. Almost all of the money he has earned has gone into a savings account for college days. He said it will cost him about $500 a semester and about $1200 a year. Thus far, he feels that he has enough funds to tide him over the first year. At Pottstown High school, Dick followed the academic course. He mentioned that he took typing and bookkeeping in preparation for college. Dick also participated in the school choir and the glee club. He has high hopes of doing a little singing at Penn State when he gets there.

Prices Curb Smugglers
EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 1 (AP)—Sagging US beef prices have their beneficial aspects. The Bureau of Animal Husbandry said when meat prices declined, cattle smuggling across the United States-Mexican border dropped off to almost nothing. The bureau said it felt there probably wasn't enough incentive to make the risk worthwhile.

Window Washers Accused of Larceny
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 1 (AP)—Three brothers who operate a window-washing service were arrested today and accused of taking a shirt factory to the cleaners. Someone tipped authorities that residents of a subdivision were blossoming forth in bright new sport shirts. Police said their investigation disclosed the shirts had been purchased from the Kirby brothers—Robert, 28, Melvin, 26, and Roy 33—at prices ranging from 50 cents to $1.50. Labels showed the garments were made by M. Fine and Son, New Albany, Ind., where police said about 10 dozen such shirts were stolen from the firm the past month when the brothers were cleaning windows there. All three were charged with grand larceny and waived extradition to Indiana.

Zonkey Is Name Given Donkey, Zebra Offspring
NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—California, it often seems, is geared to produce the unexpected. Take the zonkey for instance. Gene Holter, an Anaheim, Calif., zoo man passing through town, stopped off at the Bronx zoo today to display the strange creature. Its like has never been seen in these parts. The three weeks old zonkey is the offspring of a lady donkey and a gentleman zebra. It has its mother's long ears and its pop's stripes. "Zonkey is not exactly a scientific name and I'm no scientist," confessed Holter. "But I don't know what else you would call it."

Traffic through the Suez Canal is about twice that through the Panama Canal.

Atlantic City is hot. They should have been up here during their vacation to really get the feel of scorching weather.

Heat Forces Postponing Of Legion Post Session

Milton-Simms Post 955, American Legion, called off its scheduled meeting last night because of the excessive heat.

Adjutant Resie Farmer said that meetings of the post will continue when the weather cools.

The next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 15.

This is the 36th in a series of articles showing how Pottstown's youth is preparing for the future.

There is one thing that can be said about Pottstown's young men and women who are preparing for college life; they are not merely looking ahead to the first year, but are going beyond that into a program of full preparedness.

Practically all of them who plan to work their way through school have come up with some definite scheme that will carry them into their senior year.

Richard Jamison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, of 53 North Hanover street, is no exception, either.

This 18-year-old will enter Penn State Sept. 13, where he will pursue the business course. "It is the kind of work I think I would like," he gave as his reason.

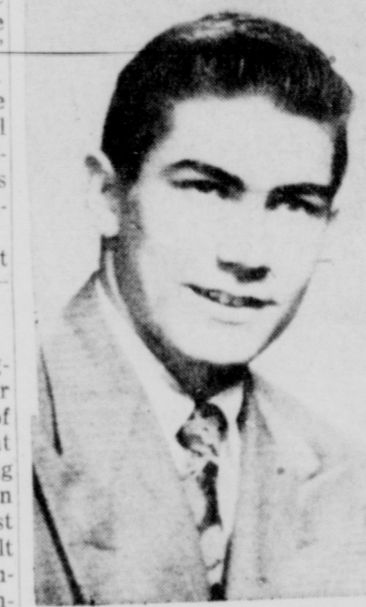

During the Summer months he has worked at Doehler's as a final inspector on the second shift. Almost all of the money he has earned has gone into a savings account for college days.

He said it will cost him about $500 a semester and about $1200 a year. Thus far, he feels that he has enough funds to tide him over the first year.

At Pottstown High school, Dick followed the academic course. He mentioned that he took typing and bookkeeping in preparation for college.

Dick also participated in the school choir and the glee club. He has high hopes of doing a little singing at Penn State when he gets there.

Prices Curb Smugglers

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 1 (P)—Sagging US beef prices have their beneficial aspects. The Bureau of Animal Husbandry said when meat prices declined, cattle smuggling across the United States-Mexican border dropped off to almost nothing. The bureau said it felt there probably wasn't enough incentive to make the risk worthwhile.

Window Washers Accused of Larceny

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 1 (P)—Three brothers who operate a window-washing service were arrested today and accused of taking a shirt factory to the cleaners.

Someone tipped authorities that residents of a subdivision were blossoming forth in bright new sport shirts. Police said their investigation disclosed the shirts had been purchased from the Kirby brothers—Robert, 28, Melvin, 26, and Roy 33—at prices ranging from 50 cents to $1.50.

Labels showed the garments were made by M. Fine and Son, New Albany, Ind., where police said about 10 dozen such shirts were stolen from the firm the past month when the brothers were cleaning windows there.

All three were charged with grand larceny and waived extradition to Indiana.

Zonkey Is Name Given Donkey, Zebra Offspring

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (P)—California, it often seems, is geared to produce the unexpected. Take the zonkey for instance.

Gene Holter, an Anaheim, Calif., zoo man passing through town, stopped off at the Bronx zoo today to display the strange creature. Its like has never been seen in these parts.

The three weeks old zonkey is the offspring of a lady donkey and a gentleman zebra. It has its mother's long ears and its pop's stripes.

"Zonkey is not exactly a scientific name and I'm no scientist," confessed Holter. "But I don't know what else you would call it."

Office Girls Glow With Charm in Spite of Heat

Mrs. Erma Babb (left) Mrs. Editha Roth

The torrid temperatures racked up by the thermometer on the wall seem to bring only a fresher glow to the faces of office girls at Charter-Beverly corporation.

The faces of the fair ones shown here are the evidence. They're the ones who greeted The Mercury photographer yesterday as he fiddled with the flashbulbs while Pottstown burned.

The hot weather may be slowing up some things, but the girls smile as quickly as ever when they face the Mercury camera. Addresses of today's charm girls are: Mrs. Babb, Douglassville; Mrs. Roth, Kenilworth; Mrs. Haynie, 351 North Charlotte street; Mrs. Fisher, Boyertown RD 2, and Mrs. Keim, 316 Rowan avenue.

The male emu hatches the eggs, sitting on them from 54 to 64 days, until they hatch and then caring for the chicks until they are well grown.

County Fire Marshal Issues Warning to Rubbish Burners

A warning to persons setting trash or rubbish fires, particularly during the present drouth, has been sounded by George W. Lee, of Royersford, fire marshal of the 13th district, Montgomery county.

Lee, who also is president of Montgomery County Firemen's association, explained the public should understand that anybody setting a rubbish fire which gets out of control and damages any other person's property could be held responsible.

He advised that those desiring to burn trash should call a fire company to stand by, ready for an emergency.

Several fires have occurred within recent weeks, which investigations showed were due to sparks from trash fires.

Lee directed his warning not only to Royersford, but to the entire county.

Methodist Churches Plan Joint Program

The commission of evangelism of Royersford and Spring City Methodist churches met Tuesday night, to study plans for a Spiritual Life mission, to be held in each of the churches from Sunday, Oct. 4, to Sunday, Oct. 18.

The Rev. Earl Carver, pastor of the Royersford church, will preach every night for one week in the Spring City church, and the Rev. Charles F. Salkeld, pastor of the Spring City church, will preach the second week in the Royersford church.

Both congregations will join in this evangelism effort. There will be special music. The meetings will be preceded by four union prayer meetings, two in the Royersford church and two in the Spring City church. Another meeting of the joint commission will be held soon.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

CLAIRE L. ROGERS, 50, of 637 WALNUT STREET, ROYERSFORD, died at 8 o'clock last night in Spring Ford nursing home, Royersford, after a long illness.

He was born in Royersford, son of Chester G., and Emma (Lewin) Rogers. For the past 30 years he held a position at the office of Bush Brothers Planing mill, Royersford. He was a member of Grace Lutheran church.

Survivors are his wife Elizabeth (Stewart) Rogers, a daughter, Rebecca Jane, Montrose, and a son C. David, at home, a sister, Thelma, wife of James Grabe, and a brother, Norman, both residing at 525 Main street.

Services will be in charge of the Nelson funeral home, incorporated, 367 Walnut street. Arrangements will be announced later.

Firemen Schedule Parley

The next meeting of Montgomery County Firemen's association will be held Saturday at Souderton, with George W. Lee, Royersford, president, in the chair.

Three Men Are Held In $7500 Bail on Stolen Goods Charge

HARRISBURG, Sept. 1 (AP)—Three Lebanon men today were held in $7500 bail each for Federal grand jury action on charges of receiving stolen goods.

The men, accused of receiving $30,000 worth of clothing are Max Schaffer, his son Norman and son-in-law Leon Grosky, all Lebanon clothing store operators.

In a preliminary hearing before US Commissioner Charles Ware, Charles W. Miller, special agent for the Federal bureau of investigation, testified that goods consigned to a Pueblo, Colo., firm had been taken in New York city, where they were manufactured, and shipped to Lebanon.

"The packages were supposed to be mailed at the New York post office," Miller said. "There is nothing to indicate they got to the postoffice."

Miller said the goods were sent to the Schaffers in Lebanon by an "A. Shaffer," whose real name is Anthony Stracuzzi. He is under arrest in New York on similar charges.

Another FBI agent, Lucian Hudson, Harrisburg, told Ware that some of the stolen goods were spotted in New York by the FBI, and marked before being shipped to Lebanon.

Hudson testified that invoices in the packages containing the stolen goods were carbon copies of invoices made out by the firm from which the goods were stolen. "The cartons were delivered by the Schaffers," Hudson said.

Although many claims have been made that fertile mules have been found, many authorities believe mules always are sterile.

Although the one-humped and two-humped camels look very different and are suited to different climates, there is little real anatomical difference between them.

$100 Damage Results As Two Cars Crash

Damages totaling $100 resulted from a two-car accident at Lewis road and Walnut street, Royersford, at 9 o'clock last night.

Luck Woodland, of Malvern RD 1, driving a sedan west on Walnut street, stopped at the Lewis road stop sign, planning to make a right turn.

At the same time, Dean W. Shupe, of 510 Gay street, Phoenixville, going south on Lewis road, turned left on Walnut street and struck the rear of Miss Woodland's car.

The Shupe car was towed away. Investigation was conducted by Royersford Patrolman Richard Batturs. Both cars were insured.

Hospital to Release Victim of Polio Attack

Robert Huzzard, 11, son of Mrs. Sarah Huzzard, 610 Walnut street, Royersford, will be discharged today from the Sacred Heart hospital, Norristown.

The lad has been a patient there about two weeks following an attack of polio.

Only remaining symptom is a stiffness of the leg muscles, according to a family spokesman. The lad will be given hot-pack treatments at home. Full recovery is expected.

County Fire Marshal Issues Warning to Rubbish Burners

A warning to persons setting trash or rubbish fires, particularly during the present drouth, has been sounded by George W. Lee, of Royersford, fire marshal of the 13th district, Montgomery county.

Lee, who also is president of Montgomery County Firemen's association, explained the public should understand that anybody setting a rubbish fire which gets out of control and damages any other person's property could be held responsible.

He advised that those desiring to burn trash should call a fire company to stand by, ready for an emergency.

Several fires have occurred within recent weeks, which investigations showed were due to sparks from trash fires.

Methodist Churches Plan Joint Program

The commission of evangelism of Royersford and Spring City Methodist churches met Tuesday night, to study plans for a Spiritual Life mission, to be held in each of the churches from Sunday, Oct. 4, to Sunday, Oct. 18.

The Rev. Earl Carver, pastor of the Royersford church, will preach every night for one week in the Spring City church, and the Rev. Charles F. Salkeld, pastor of the Spring City church, will preach the second week in the Royersford church.

Both congregations will join in this evangelism effort. There will be special music. The meetings will be preceded by four union prayer meetings, two in the Royersford church and two in the Spring City church. Another meeting of the joint commission will be held soon.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

CLAIRE L. ROGERS, 50, of 637 WALNUT STREET, ROYERSFORD, died at 8 o'clock last night in Spring Ford nursing home, Royersford, after a long illness.

He was born in Royersford, son of Chester G. and Emma (Lewin) Rogers. For the past 30 years he held a position as the office of Bush Brothers Planing mill, Royersford. He was a member of Grace Lutheran church.

Survivors are his wife Elizabeth (Stewart) Rogers, a daughter, Rebecca Jane, Montrose, and a son C. David, at home, a sister, Thelma, wife of James Grabe, and a brother, Norman, both residing at 326 Main street.

Services will be in charge of the Nelson funeral home, incorporated, 367 Walnut street. Arrangements will be announced later.

Firemen Schedule Parley

The next meeting of Montgomery County Firemen's association will be held Saturday at Souderton, with George W. Lee, Royersford, president, in the chair.

Schaeffer Street Residents Complain Alley Grading Fills Yards With Water

Seven residents of Schaeffer, would arrange to have an engineer street bemoaned their water-logged make a survey for grading pur- fate to Boyertown borough coun- cil last night.

Included in the group were: Charles A. Hartman, Lester Gul- din, Walter C. Brooke, Nevin N. Benfield, John A. Hunsberger and Roy Reider.

BALANCE IN the borough de- partment was reported at $25,- 442.59, while the water department balance totals $12,679.36. $76.65 is outstanding from three delin- quent water rents.

Seven building permits were is- sued during the month by Borough Manager Rowland A. Read. The monthly community center report, submitted by Mrs. Paul R. Hafer, showed that 226 persons attended 25 meetings there the past month.

The report noted that the pub- lic library in the center went back on the winter schedule yesterday. It will open Tuesday and Friday evenings 7 to 9 o'clock.

Councilman Charles M. Ed- inger, public utilities commit- tee man, reported the borough water dam at the 37 foot level. Thirty-eight feet is overflow- ing.

"The water supply is in good condition," he said, adding that council did not intend to impose a ban. Pumping operations are not needed at present, he said.

Council and an insurance com- pany have been dickering over a year, following an accident at the main intersection, Philadel- phia and Reading avenues, which claimed a traffic light there. The insurance company's latest offer is $666.50 for the replacement of the light, which cost council over $1200.

But since the present light has $350 worth of new features that the old one didn't have, council is willing to settle for $900. The insurance company will be notified of council's offer.

President Robert Stauffer pre- sided at the meeting.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

"UNTIL A HUSBAND can get alimony by crossing his legs and exposing at least his garters to judge and jury," points out able Magistrate John McIntyre, "equal rights are nothing but a snare and a delusion."

"Doctor," pleaded a patient, "tell me exactly what's wrong with me." "I'll do that," said the medic. "You eat and drink too much, and are too lazy for exercise." "Hmmm," mused the patient, "Now if you'll only write that down in Latin on your little white pad, I bet I'll be able to ward off a sick-leave from the office."

"How much do I love you?" echoed an ardent swain to his adored. "Why, last night when I was kissing you goodbye at your garden gate, that darn dog of yours bit a piece out of my leg and I never even noticed it till I got home."

5-YEAR REUNION CONDUCTED BY CLASS OF 1948

Planning Committee Named for Next Gathering

The Boyertown High school graduating class of 1948 held its five year reunion on Sunday at Rittenbender's home, near Huffs Church.

Following a series of games, a brief business session was conducted during which prizes were awarded. Those receiving prizes were Donald Dotterter, (married the longest); Titus Hartman, (traveling the greatest distance, Rhode Island); Mrs. Earl Rockwell, (most children, three); Titus Riegner, (youngest child); the Rev. and Mrs. Jacob A. Longacre, (most recently married).

It also was decided that at the end of another five years, the class will meet for a banquet. President Henry Zajac appointed the following members of the class to work as a planning committee in addition to the class officers: Frank Cressman, Marguerite (Leister) Longacre, Patsy Schultz, Kenneth Nyce.

The class officers are Zajac, president; Jack Rothenberger, vice president; Anita Renninger, secretary; and Dolores (Zern) Leven- good, treasurer.

THOSE ATTENDING were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schwendt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moatz and daughter, Melaine; Vivian Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Philip West and children, Dianna and Winnie; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zajac, Mr. and Mrs. John McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dotterter and children, Donette and Craig; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steltz, Harold Weiss.

Mr. and Mrs. William Matz and children, David and Ros- anne; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kumpf, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rothenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Titus Reigner and children, Joan and Robert; Robert G. Seip, Titus Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Miller, Clyde Underkoffler, Dolores Men- necke, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rock- well and children, Valerie and Richard.

Doris Herbst, Mildred Wright, the Rev. and Mrs. Jacob A. Long- acre, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nyce, Frank Cressman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Manwiller and daughter, Karen; Mrs. Gerald Batten, Ruth Yerger and Patsy Schultz.

The original 99-year concession under which the Suez canal was built expires in 1968.

PUPIL INFLUX AT PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS DUE

Increase in Enrolment
To Mark Opening
Sept. 9

NINTH GRADE SLATED FOR ST. ALOYSIUS

An all-round increase in enrolment will mark the opening of area parochial schools Sept. 9.

The 1953-54 school year also will feature the opening of a new school by the first parish established in Pennsylvania and the first to open a parochial school in the State.

A "first" for Pottstown parochial schools will be the establishing of a Ninth grade by St. Aloysius Catholic church.

The Rev. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius reported that 44 pupils will attend the new Ninth grade. It will be taught by Sister Mary Ventura who will come to the local parish from Lancaster. She taught there for 18 years.

A total of 490 Elementary pupils has registered for the coming year with 75 of those signed up for the First grade. Father Begley said that this year there will be one full First grade, one combined First and Second, and one Second grade.

Total enrolment at St. Aloysius this year will be 534 pupils, 44 of whom will attend the new Ninth grade. The past year's total was 452 pupils.

A $25,000 renovation of the second floor of the school will be completed by the time school bells ring.

The work, begun a month ago by Contractor Frank Hutt Jr., will see the changing over of the auditorium on the second floor to four large classrooms, a book room and a doctor's room.

Sister Mary Faith will be the WELCOME BACK! It's "Welcome Back!" for two pupils of the Lincoln school, a scene that will be repeated hundreds of times next week when schools all over the borough and Pottstown area open their doors once again.

and Mrs. Ralph Yoder, 25 West Tenth street, and Donna Lee Binder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Binder, 364 North York street.

Schools Here Expect Over 4700 Enrolment

More than 4700 Pottstown school children are expected to answer the first school call of the season next week when Summer vacations formally come to a close.

Increased enrolments are expected for both the Senior and Junior High schools as well as all elementary schools.

Children from every section of the borough will set aside their Summer playthings and playclothes, get a good scrubbing from M.A. and armed with a new pencil box and paper, will wend their way to meet the new teacher.

School opens on Wednesday, Sept. 9. The Junior and Senior High schools will launch the season at 8:30 a. m. The elementary schools will start at 8:45 a. m.

According to Superintendent of Schools Dr. George A. McCormick, the Senior High school expects about 850 pupils this year.

"A slight increase over the past year," McCormick said.

WORK ENDED AT JUNIOR AND SENIOR SCHOOLS

Renovation Projects Put Rooms in Top Shape

Renovation and remodeling projects have been completed during the Summer vacation to both the Pottstown Senior and Junior High schools, along with two of the elementary schools.

Accent was placed on putting the Senior High school in top condition. Top among the work done there were the cafeteria project and the commercial room program.

Seven commercial rooms on the third floor were completely remodeled and renovated. The typewriting rooms, which have been overcrowded for years, have been enlarged for greater efficiency.

The old rooms were so small they permitted only a single center aisle with desk on either side. The new rooms permit aisles in the center and on each side.

The old arrangement, Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. pointed out, made it difficult for pupils to receive individual attention.

NEXT TO THE typewriting rooms, an office practice room has been set up.

Here, pupils will get instruction in the use of mimeograph, liquid duplicators, calculating machines, (Continued on Page Two)

Changes Made In Curriculum At High School

Two of the main changes in the curriculum at Pottstown Senior High school this year will be in the commercial department and the college preparatory work, Stanley I. Davenport, principal, announced yesterday.

The principal revision of the commercial department involves the teaching of shorthand and bookkeeping. In the past, members of the Tenth grade were permitted to elect shorthand or bookkeeping with a majority desiring shorthand.

Due to limitations of personnel, only 28 pupils were finally selected and the remainder required to defer shorthand until the 11th grade. Despite the use of tests, experience ratings, and teacher evaluations, errors were made in the selection.

Some pupils selected for shorthand found that they were not interested or could not do the work.

IN VIEW of these circumstances, it was decided to set up a new course entitled business practice which would give the pupils an opportunity to determine whether they wanted to specialize in stenography work or prepare themselves for general business work.

The new course will offer nine weeks of instruction in shorthand followed by nine weeks of instruction in bookkeeping, Davenport said.

At the end of the eighteen week period, which will be mid-year of the school year, the pupils will be asked to make a choice. Those who like shorthand and have done well in the subject, will be encouraged to continue. Those who do not feel qualified to specialize in that subject will continue the year in bookkeeping.

The selection of bookkeeping as their special field will not eliminate pupils from further instruction in shorthand. All pupils will be given an opportunity to take one or two years of the subject for general purposes.

THE REAL distinction is that those desiring to be secretaries will have the benefit of almost three years of instruction while those not desiring this line of work will be given one or two years of (Continued on Page Two)

BETTY A. FOSNOCHT, who graduated from Dickinson college the past June, gets her first teaching assignment this fall in the Pottstown Senior High school. A Birdsboro resident, she majored in history and minored in English and Spanish.

JOHN KISSINGER, Wyomissing, will teach a Sixth grade at Jefferson. He has taught in public schools in Robeson township; Gibraltar; Hamburg, and West Reading.

ROBERT MOSS, Lancaster, a 1953 graduate of Millersville State Teachers college, will teach in the wood shop at Pottstown Junior High school.

HELEN JACK, 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college, will serve as Junior High librarian. She is from Minersville.

ALFRED SHANTZ JR., Parkerford, will be one of the new teachers in the Pottstown Junior High school this year. He graduated from West Chester State Teachers college and taught the past year in Haverford township.

GRACE BARO, Douglassville, will take charge of vocal music at the Pottstown Junior High school. She is a 1953 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college.

A FIRST GRADE in Rupert building will be taught by Doris Kunze, Williamsport, Lockhaven State Teachers college graduate.

MRS. BERTHA SNYDER, Boyertown, former teacher at Gabelsville, will teach a primary group at Lincoln school.

MRS. KATHRYN WEIKEL, 344 Spruce street, is the new cafeteria manager for Pottstown's Junior and Senior High schools. She was appointed to the post this Summer.

MRS. MARY HERBINE, 1112 Queen street, who taught part-time in St. Clair kindergarten the past year, will teach full time in a primary grade this year.

MRS. ARETA K. BARTMAN, 221 Diamond street, a former teacher in Pottstown schools, will be back full time again this year. She also has taught in North Coventry elementary school.

JANE WELLS, Morgantown, will teach a Second grade at the Jefferson building this year. Miss Wells is a 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college.

HARRY V. WEAVERLING will teach a Fifth grade this year at Jefferson school. A native of Highspire, Pa., he is a graduate of Millersville State Teachers college. This is his first teaching assignment.

Only Five Changes Are Announced In Teaching Staffs

There will be only five personnel changes in the teaching staffs of the Pottstown Junior and Senior High schools, it was announced yesterday.

Four of the changes are in the Junior High school. They are as follows: Grace Baro, Douglassville, 1953 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will take charge of the vocal music; Robert Moss, Lancaster, a 1953 graduate of Millersville State Teachers, will teach wood shop.

Helen Jack, Minersville, Pa., 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college, will serve as Junior High librarian; Alfred Shantz Jr., Parkerford, a teacher the past year in Ardmore, will be the new physical education teacher.

THE ONLY change in Senior High school will see Elizabeth Fosnocht, 1953 graduate of Dickinson college, replace Kenneth Gable, who voluntarily requested an elementary teaching assignment.

The Junior High school now has a total of 44 classroom teachers, plus a guidance counselor, William James; a nurse, Lelia Yergey; a librarian; vice - principal, Helen Purnell, and principal, William Mower.

The Senior High school teaching staff is made up of 34 teachers. They are supplemented by a nurse, Mrs. Mildred Hutt; a librarian, Eleanor Commeser; vocational director, Calvin Cressman; vice-principal, J. Robert Von Drach; principal, Stanley I. Davenport Jr.

Oil Heater Installed At Elverson School

Elverson grade school pupils won't have to back up to an old-fashioned stove to keep warm this winter.

The two-room elementary school has been newly equipped with a basement oil heater and insulated ceilings for the fall term beginning on Sept. 8.

In other years the pupils had only a stove in each room to protect against the creeping cold.

There will be new swings on the playground, this year, too, for days when the weather is fair.

School Board Member James Roberts said that enrollment in the grade school will be 65 this fall, about the same as the year before.

Former teachers will be back to greet the pupils when the term begins, Roberts said.

High school pupils will go to Morgantown and Warwick schools.

completers, and other office machinery.

The large study hall located on the north hallway of the third floor has been made into two rooms for commercial work.

And the room formerly devoted to office practice has been completely renovated to make a book-keeping room.

AT THE JUNIOR High school, a section of the office room has been converted into an office for the vice principal.

A new refrigerator was purchased for the cafeteria and the athletic fields were enlarged considerably.

A routine housecleaning was conducted at each of the elementary schools and at St. Clair and Lincoln schools, new tubes are being installed in the boilers.

At Franklin school, the former health room has been converted into a kindergarten room because 30 hotels, 100 apartment houses and four new theaters were being built this year.

Among the projects was said to be the new Peking (Peiping) hotel, nine stories high and the tallest building in the ancient walled city.

an addition to the school building to make room for the added grade. The building used by the parish was originally donated, together with the grounds, by St. Gabriel's lodge. It had served as the lodge hall up to that time.

At St. Peter's parochial school, 150 pupils will attend classes. This compares with a total of 130 the past year.

Teaching First and Second grades will be Sister Amabilis; Third and Fourth, Sister Bertilda; and Seventh and Eighth, Sister Febronia.

The floors of the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades have been repainted during the Summer.

ST. ELEANOR'S parochial school in Collegeville has purchased a new 60-passenger bus to replace one of the two now in use. The Rev. John F. X. O'Neill, pastor, reported that the smaller bus used up to this time will be disposed of.

An increase of 20 pupils for this year was announced by the pastor. This year's enrolment stands at 280 pupils, as against 260 the past year.

Father O'Neill also reported the addition of an amphorum, an elaborate projector, which will be used in the visual education program.

In East Greenville, St. Philip Neri Catholic school reflected the rise in enrolment shown by the other schools.

The Rev. Leo J. Letterhouse, pastor, said 160 pupils have registered for classes. The past year's enrolment stood at 128 pupils.

Renovations of school grounds during the past Summer included the construction of cement walks and curbing around the school and convent.

Two New Teachers Will Greet Pupils At Wyndcroft School

Two new teachers will be on hand to greet the youngsters of the Wyndcroft school when it opens on Sept. 9.

Headmaster Carlisle Snively reported that one of the new teachers will be Mrs. Everett Hatch, who is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Hatch will teach Grades 4, 5 and 6. She will specialize in the teaching of mathematics, science and health.

Also introduced to the faculty for the first time will be Mrs. Savorio Di Moyo. Mrs. Di Moyo is a graduate of the Milwaukee Downer college.

She will teach social studies in the Upper School.

WHEN SCHOOL opens approximately 130 boys and girls from the four-year-old pre-school age group through Grade 8 are expected to attend classes.

The Wyndcroft school, located on Rosedale drive, is a private school that has a faculty staff of ten, including the two new teachers.

It draws its pupils from Douglassville, Birdsboro, Kimberton, Boyertown, Bechtelsville, Perkiomenville and Pottstown.

CHANGES MADE —

instruction in order to meet general needs.

With the introduction of this new course, the course in penmanship and spelling has been discontinued.

It is planned to emphasize these fields in all of the commercial subjects, particularly in English, bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting.

Another subject that has been discontinued under the new program is the subject called Business Problems. This course, which encompassed a good part of bookkeeping, arithmetic, and social situations related to the social sciences, will now be taught as a part of the regular courses in the fields mentioned.

In the college preparatory and general curriculum, Algebra I and Latin I have been discontinued. For years, these subjects, which are strictly ninth grade subjects, were taught in the Senior High school primarily as a convenience to pupils who either failed in the ninth grade or changed their curricular plans after entering the Senior school.

Such a program entailed an unwarranted duplication of subjects and tended to interfere with the normal progress of pupils. It also was of considerable expense because of the teaching personnel engaged in taking care of these pupils who had failed to take advantage of their opportunity when it was offered in its proper sequence.

A cases of emergency, where the need is considered unusual, pupils of the Senior High school

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1 (AP)—The capital of Communist China apparently has a housing shortage just like Washington. A Peiping radio broadcast said recently that 30 hotels, 100 apartment houses and four new theaters were being built this year.

Among the projects was said to be the new Peking (Peiping) hotel, nine stories high and the tallest building in the ancient walled city.

GRACE BARO, Douglassville, will take charge of vocal music at the Pottstown Junior High school. She is a 1953 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college.

A FIRST GRADE in Rupert building will be taught by Doris Kunze, Williamsport, Lockhaven State Teachers college graduate.

MRS. BERTHA SNYDER, Boyertown, former teacher at Gabelsville, will teach a primary group at Lincoln school.

MRS. KATHRYN WEIKEL, 844 Spruce street, is the new cafeteria manager for Pottstown's Junior and Senior High schools. She was appointed to the post this Summer.

MRS. MARY HERBINE, 1112 Queen street, who taught part-time in St. Clair kindergarten the past year, will teach full time in a primary grade this year.

MRS. ARETA K. BARTMAN, 221 Diamond street, a former teacher in Pottstown schools, will be back full time again this year. She also has taught in North Coventry elementary school.

JANE WELLS, Morgantown, will teach a Second grade at the Jefferson building this year. Miss Wells is a 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college.

HARRY V. WEAVERLING will teach a Fifth grade this year at Jefferson school. A native of Highspire, Pa., he is a graduate of Millersville State Teachers college. This is his first teaching assignment.

Only Five Changes Are Announced In Teaching Staffs

There will be only five personnel changes in the teaching staffs of the Pottstown Junior and Senior High schools, it was announced yesterday.

Four of the changes are in the Junior High school.

They are as follows: Grace Baro, Douglassville, 1953 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will take charge of the vocal music; Robert Moss, Lancaster, a 1953 graduate of Millersville State Teachers college, will teach wood shop.

Helen Jack, Minersville, Pa., 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college, will serve as Junior High librarian; Alfred Shantz Jr., Parkerford, a teacher the past year in Ardmore, will be the new physical education teacher.

THE ONLY change in Senior High school will see Elizabeth Fosnocht, 1953 graduate of Dickinson college, replace Kenneth Gable, who voluntarily requested an elementary teaching assignment.

The Junior High school now has a total of 44 classroom teachers, plus a guidance counselor, William James; a nurse, Lelia Yergey; a librarian; vice - principal, Helen Purnell, and principal, William Mower.

The Senior High school teaching staff is made up of 34 teachers. They are supplemented by a nurse, Mrs. Mildred Hutt; a librarian, Eleanor Cornmesser; vocational director, Calvin Cressman; vice-principal, J. Robert Von Drach; principal, Stanley I. Davenport Jr.

Peiping Running Short On Housing Facilities

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1 (AP)—The capital of Communist China apparently has a housing shortage just like Washington. A Peiping radio broadcast said recently that 30 hotels, 100 apartment houses and four new theaters were being built this year.

Among the projects was said to be the new Peking (Peiping) hotel, nine stories high and the tallest building in the ancient walled city.

Oil Heater Installed At Elverson School

Elverson grade school pupils won't have to back up to an old-fashioned stove to keep warm this Winter.

The two-room elementary school has been newly equipped with a basement oil heater and insulated ceilings for the Fall term beginning on Sept. 8.

In other years the pupils had only a stove in each room to protect against the creeping cold.

There will be new swings on the playground, this year, too, for days when the weather is fair.

School Board Member James Roberts said that enrollment in the grade school will be 65 this Fall, about the same as the year.

Former teachers will be back to greet the pupils when the term begins Roberts said.

High school pupils will go to Morgantown and Warwick schools.

comptometers, and other office machinery.

The large study hall located on the north hallway of the third floor has been made into two rooms for commercial work.

And the room formerly devoted to office practice has been completely renovated to make a book-keeping room.

AT THE JUNIOR High school, a section of the office room has been converted into an office for the vice principal.

A new refrigerator was purchased for the cafeteria and the athletic fields were enlarged considerably.

A routine housecleaning was conducted at each of the elementary schools and at St. Clair and Lincoln schools, new tubes are being installed in the boilers.

At Franklin school, the former health room has been converted into a kindergarten room because of the overcrowded conditions and four new theaters were being built this year.

Through the Summer, a staff of 18 janitors, three maintenance men, and four high school boys worked at getting the buildings in good order.

PUPIL INFLUX —

an addition to the school building to make room for the added grade. The building used by the parish was originally donated, together with the grounds, by St. Gabriel's lodge. It had served as the lodge hall up to that time.

At St. Peter's parochial school, 150 pupils will attend classes. This compares with a total of 130 the past year.

Teaching First and Second grades will be Sister Amabilis; Third and Fourth, Sister Sister Bertilda; and Seventh and Eighth, Sister Febronia.

The floors of the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades have been repainted during the Summer.

ST. ELEANOR'S parochial school in Collegeville has purchased a new 60-passenger bus to replace one of the two now in use. The Rev. John F. X. O'Neill, pastor, reported that the smaller bus used up to this time will be disposed of.

An increase of 20 pupils for this year was announced by the pastor. This year's enrollment stands at 280 pupils, as against 260 the past year.

Father O'Neill also reported the addition of an emporium, an elaborate projector, which will be used in the visual education program.

In East Greenville, St. Philip Neri Catholic school reflected the rise in enrollment shown by the other schools.

The Rev. Leo J. Letterhouse, pastor, said 160 pupils have registered for classes. The past year's enrollment stood at 128 pupils.

Renovations of school grounds during the past Summer included the construction of cement walks and curbing around the school and convent.

Two New Teachers Will Greet Pupils At Wyndcroft School

Two new teachers will be on hand to greet the youngsters of the Wyndcroft school when it opens on Sept. 9.

Headmaster Carlisle Snively reported that one of the new teachers will be Mrs. Everett Hatch, who is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Hatch will teach Grades 4, 5 and 6. She will specialize in the teaching of mathematics, science and health. Also introduced to the faculty for the first time will be Mrs. Savorio Di Moyo. Mrs. Di Moyo is a graduate of the Milwaukee Downer college.

She will teach social studies in the Upper School.

WHEN SCHOOL opens approximately 130 boys and girls from the four-year-old pre-school age group through Grade 8 are expected to attend classes.

The Wyndcroft school, located on Rosedale drive, is a private school that has a faculty staff of ten, including the two new teachers.

It draws its pupils from Douglassville, Birdsboro, Kimberton, Boyertown, Bechtelsville, Perkiomenville and Pottstown.

instruction in order to meet general needs.

With the introduction of this new course, the course in penmanship and spelling has been discontinued.

It is planned to emphasize these fields in all of the commercial subjects, particularly in English, bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting.

Another subject that has been discontinued under the new program is the subject called Business Problems. This course, which encompassed a good part of bookkeeping, arithmetic, and social situations related to the social sciences, will now be taught as a part of the regular courses in the fields mentioned.

In the college preparatory and general curriculum, Algebra I and Latin I have been discontinued. For years, these subjects, which are strictly ninth grade subjects, were taught in the Senior High school primarily as a convenience to pupils who either failed in the ninth grade or changed their curricular plans after entering the Senior school.

Such a program entailed an unwarranted duplication of subjects and tended to interfere with the normal progress of pupils. It also was of considerable expense because of the teaching personnel engaged in taking care of these pupils who had failed to take advantage of their opportunity when it was offered in its proper sequence.

In cases of emergency, where the need is considered unusual, pupils of the Senior High school

Government Workers Strike Against French

TUNIS, Tunisia, Sept. 1 (AP)—The Government Public Works administration personnel staged a 24-hour strike today in this French North African protectorate.

In the capital, 558 of 643 public works employees were on strike. The proportion was similar in the provinces. The strikers were seeking higher pay.

C-T SCHOOLS SET FOR OPENING

Largest Enrolment In History Is Expected

Collegeville-Trappe schools are preparing for the largest enrolment in their history this Fall.

The new term will open in the district Sept. 11 at 8:45 a. m. with a half-day session. Full day sessions will begin on Sept. 14.

Pupils enrolling for the first time will register on Sept. 10 at the school nearest their home or (for High school pupils) at the High school building.

Parents should accompany children signing up for First grade, bringing along the child's birth and vaccination certificates.

If a child will not be six years old until after next February 1, he should be kept out of school until next Fall.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL pupils should bring along their health card and latest report card when they register, unless their previous school has sent it ahead.

Those entering Ninth grade must have their certificate of preparation for secondary schools with them when they register.

Driver education for future motorists will be offered this year in Grade 11. This will include behind-the-wheel instruction.

Five new teachers will join the Collegeville-Trappe faculty this Fall. They are:

Melvin Hunter, Spring City, a graduate of Millersville State Teachers college. He will teach industrial arts and mechanical drawing in the High school.

Doris Miller, of Duncannon, a graduate of West Chester State teachers college. She will be music supervisor of the 12 grades and have charge of the band. She formerly taught at Honeybrook.

Mrs. Sadie Clamer, Collegeville, graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college. A former Pennsburg teacher, she will teach First grade at Collegeville.

(The joint board decided at its Aug. 27 meeting to locate the First graders of both boroughs in the Collegeville building.)

Mrs. Jean K. Buck, North Wales, graduate of Pennsylvania State college. She will teach art two days a week.

Audrey Mae Rittenhouse, Lansdale, a 1953 graduate of Ursinus college, will teach girls' health and physical education.

DORIS M. MILLER

Total enrolment at Collegeville-Trappe will be 575, of which 216 will be elementary, 129 High school and 230 tuition (from out of the boroughs) pupils.

Two Missing Soldiers Return From Red Zone

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (AP)—The US Army said today that two soldiers who have been in the Soviet zone for over a year have returned.

It said the two—Pvt. Robert W. Dorey, 21, Somerville, Mass., and Pvt. Joseph P. Ward, 40, Elizabeth, N. J.—will be tried by court martial for desertion.

The Army gave no further details.

Lower Providence Schools to Have Increase in Enrolment by 200 Pupils

Lower Providence schools will open on Sept. 9 with almost 200 more pupils than they had the past Fall.

"Our three schools will be full, all right," observed William R. Hummer, supervising principal. "But in another year we expect to have an addition to the Audubon school and perhaps a new building at Eagleville."

Enrolment in the Audubon, Trooper and Boyer (Evansburg) schools will total 720 this Fall, the principal said. The past Fall it was 550 and by Spring it was 650.

The township schools will have six grades this year, with Junior and Senior High pupils attending Collegeville and Norristown schools.

"We've renovated all the classrooms during the Summer," the principal said, "which includes putting in new book shelves, bulletin boards and 60 new desks—30 at Audubon and 30 at Evansburg."

"All wooden floors in the buildings have been refinished, too."

"From two rooms in the basement of the Evansburg building we've made a new auditorium," he added, "and other rooms there have been painted."

HUMMER WILL hold a teachers' meeting at his Trooper school office on Sept. 8. A half day of school will be held on the following day and full days from then on.

Among the teachers will be six who are joining the staff this Fall. They are:

Mrs. Dorothy Stuhmiller, Jeffersonville, who will teach Second grade at Trooper. She has been substitute teacher at Norristown and Conshohocken for the past nine years.

Mrs. Katherine Detwiler, Jeffersonville. She will teach Second grade at Trooper. She previously taught there some years ago.

Mrs. Helen Krause, Norristown. She will teach the two first grades at Evansburg.

Mrs. Ruth Edwards Snyder, Norristown, and Mrs. Elizabeth Lesher, Schwenksville, will teach the two second grades there.

Mrs. Katherine Moyer, Yerkess, will be substitute teacher for Mrs. Snyder at the beginning of the term.

Mrs. Mabel Hurst will be temporary music supervisor in the township in the absence of Mrs. Doris Miller, who is on temporary leave.

In expectation of continued population increase, the township school directors have employed a Philadelphia architect to draw up plans for the addition to the Audubon school and the new building at Eagleville.

The Audubon addition will have five classrooms and probably will be built before next Fall, Hummer said.

The directors have bought 56 acres on Summit avenue, Eagleville, including the Shoemaker farm, as a site for the new 6-classroom school they are planning.

Hummer said the centrally-located new building would relieve overcrowding in all the other township schools.

Murder Charge Lodged

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 1 (AP)—Police charged Albert Fuller, 38, from Pittsburgh's northside section with murder today in the fatal beating of his 30-year-old wife.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Martha Fuller, died Sunday of a skull fracture.

RECORD LOADING REPORTED

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 1 (AP)—US Steel corporation's steamship division reported today its 64-ship fleet loaded more than four million tons of ore the past month—the highest in the 52-year history of the fleet.

3 TEACHERS ARE ADDED TO NORCO SCHOOL

80 More Youngsters Are Expected This Fall

A new industrial arts teacher, a new music supervisor and a new grade school teacher will be on the faculty when North Coventry schools open on Sept. 9.

Stanley W. Seitzinger will replace William T. Wenrich in the industrial arts department.

Seitzinger is from Frackville. He is a graduate of St. Clair High school and California State Teachers college.

Before coming to North Coventry he was employed by the Ford Instrument company.

SUSAN J. Phillips will be music supervisor this term. She replaces Mary Jane Moyer.

Miss Phillips' home is at West Leesport. She is a graduate of Muhlenberg High school and West Chester State Teachers college.

The new grade school teacher is Mrs. Robert Reis, a native of Brattleboro, Vt. She is a graduate of Sargent college. Since being graduated she has taken specialized elementary education courses at West Chester State Teachers college.

Mrs. Reis will teach Fourth grade at North Coventry. She replaces Mrs. S. Areta Bartman.

PAUL H. GRIM, supervising principal of North Coventry schools, estimates an increase of 80 enrollments this term.

"Of these, 50 will be in the elementary school and 30 in the high school," he said.

Total enrolment will be about

725, the principal said.

"Because of the increase in elementary school enrolment," he said, "it has been necessary to convert the health room into a classroom and one of the large storage rooms to a health room."

He added that two rooms in the high school (Rooms 4 and 8) have been refurnished with movable arm chair desks.

New showers have been installed in the boys' dressing room.

The opening schedule for the two Norco schools is as follows:

Sept. 8—teachers meeting, 1:30 p. m.

Sept. 9—pupils of Grades 1 to 6 and 10 to 12 report for half-day session.

Sept. 10—pupils of Grades 1 to 9 report for half-day sessions.

Sept. 11—pupils of Grades 1 to 12 report for half-day session.

Internal Affairs Official Dies of Heart Attack

HARRISBURG, Sept. 1 (AP)—John A. Livengood, chief of the State internal affairs department's public utilities division, died today of a heart ailment. He was 43.

Livengood, whose death was discovered this morning by his wife, was a brother of William S. Livengood Jr., internal affairs secretary. He had served in his brother's department for the past eight years. He was a native of Somerset.

Secretary Livengood received word of his brother's death while attending a conference of oil pact states in Billings, Mont. He planned to return home immediately.

Funeral arrangements were to be completed tomorrow. Livengood is survived by his widow and three children.

Spring City Will Get New Principals In Both Elementary and High Schools

When school opens in Spring City on Sept. 9, both the elementary and high schools will have new principals.

It will be the first time the elementary school has had a full-time principal.

Harry B. Gorton, Lemoyne, was chosen by the board to fill the post. He comes to Spring City from Wormleysburg, where he served as teaching principal for the past year.

John C. Sanderson, Waynesboro, will be the new High school principal.

GORTON has four years teaching experience. He taught in Leacock township, Lancaster county, for three years after completing college.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in education from Millersville State Teachers college, where he was graduated in 1949, and two Master's degrees.

The first is in elementary administration, from Temple university; the second, in social studies, from the University of Pennsylvania, both in Philadelphia.

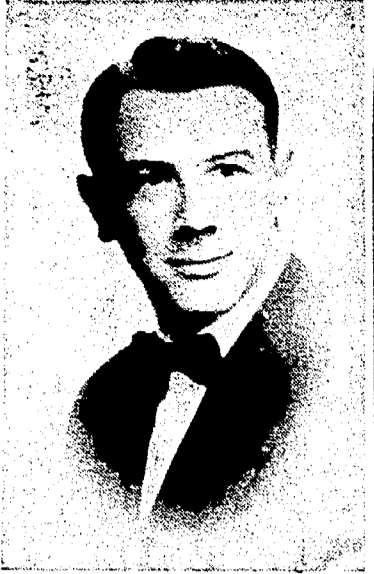

Gorton also is a graduate of Lilitz High school. He is married and the father of two children.

Teachers of the borough schools will go on duty on Sept. 8, Charles H. Wise, supervising principal, announced.

Pupils will register on Sept. 9, he said. Thursday, Sept. 10, will be the first full day of school.

High school Principal Sanderson will replace Kenneth Whitney, who has become principal of a new school near Harrisburg.

Sanderson is a graduate of Shippensburg State Teacher college and holds a Master of Science degree from Pennsylvania State college.

DANIEL G. MCGARY

He had been assistant principal and teacher of science at the Quincy High school for the past ten years.

SEVEN NEW teachers in all will join the Spring City school system as the term opens.

They include Daniel McGary, Steelton, High school science teacher and graduate of Lebanon Valley college; and William G. Hartman, Bethlehem, graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college.

Hartman will teach in the elementary school. He formerly taught at Jamesburg, N. J.

Other new elementary teachers are Mrs. Ellen Skean Kahler and Mrs. Sarah Fink-biner Reiss, both of Spring City RD.

Mrs. Reiss taught for the past 16 years in the Limerick schools. She is a graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college.

Mrs. Kahler formerly taught in Schuylkill township.

OTHERS named to positions were Raye Ash, Parkerford, and Mrs. Cecil DeVincentis, 310 West King street, Pottstown, both Sixth grade elementary teachers.

Miss Ash, a graduate of Spring City high school with the class of 1926 and Ursinus college in 1930, later was awarded her master's degree from University of Pennsylvania. She taught school in East Vincent and West Vincent townships. She is the organist of Parkerford Baptist church.

Mrs. DeVincentis is a graduate of Cortland State Normal school (now University of the State of New York), and taught 16 years in Vestal and Danby, N. Y., and State College, Pa. Since then she has been teaching in Colebrookdale township.

One more teacher will be named at the next school board meeting.

Summer improvements in Spring City schools include painting of the agriculture building and both elementary and High school buildings.

Priest Dies of Wounds Inflicted by Laborer

NETTUNO, Italy, Sept. 1 (AP)—A priest died today from gunshot wounds inflicted Sunday by a monastery laborer who complained he had to work too hard.

Father Sersio Corsi was shot from ambush along with Father Alfredo De Santis who died instantly.

Police said a monastery worker confessed the two slayings.

BIRDSBORO SETS KINDERGARTEN

New Classes to Meet At Lincoln School

School will start for Birdsboro pupils on Sept. 8, Dr. Cora L. Handwork, supervising principal, announced.

"The first day will include registration for the pupils and a faculty meeting for the teachers," she said.

This year, for the first time, Birdsboro will have a public kindergarten.

"It will meet at the Lincoln school and have a registration this Fall of 45 or 50 children," Dr. Handwork revealed.

Half the kindergarteners will be non-residents, she added.

IN OTHER years the Junior Women's club of the town had conducted the kindergarten.

Mrs. Betty Bitler Siedel will be the new kindergarten teacher.

A graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college, Mrs. Siedel is a former teacher in the Pottstown schools. She resides in Birdsboro.

Other new teachers are Mrs. Jacqueline Miller Unger, Sinking Springs, and Mrs. Lillian Starnes, Reading.

Mrs. Unger will be a supervisor of music for Grades 1 to 12. A graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, she formerly taught at Ridley Park.

Mrs. Starnes will head the senior English department. She is a graduate of Moravian college for Women and holds a Master of Arts degree from New York University.

She formerly was a teacher at Shillington.

Returning pupils will find that both the two grade school buildings and the High school have had the brick walls pointed.

In the Senior High school, the English and Science rooms have been painted and at the Lincoln school, rooms also have been painted.

Jointure Will Start For Three Districts

Bally, Washington township and Bechtelsville school districts will operate their new elementary jointure this Fall for the first time.

Boyetown's school calendar will be followed in the three districts (all members of the Boyertown High school jointure). School will open with a half-day session on Sept. 9.

Edgar C. Kulp, vice president of the Bally school board, said that Seventh and Eighth grades at the Bally school would be operated by the Boyertown jointure as part of the Junior High school.

One new teacher, Edward Seitz, Allentown, will teach Seventh and Eighth grade at Bally. At Diehl's school, Washington township, a new guard fence has been installed along Route 100 to keep small children off the busy highway.

Bechtelsville school has been painted and redecorated, while the Bally school has a new water line and newly plastered brick walls.

100 ARE ARRESTED

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 1 (AP)—One thousand people, mostly landless peasants, were arrested today at Pardi, a village 100 miles from Bombay after they took possession of 1000 acres of hayfields and refused to leave.

3 TEACHERS ARE ADDED TO NORCO SCHOOL

80 More Youngsters Are Expected This Fall

A new industrial arts teacher, a new music supervisor and a new grade school teacher will be on the faculty when North Coventry schools open on Sept. 9.

Stanley W. Seitzinger will replace William T. Wenrich in the industrial arts department.

Seitzinger is from Frackville. He is a graduate of St. Clair High school and California State Teachers college.

Before coming to North Coventry he was employed by the Ford Instrument company.

SUSAN J. Phillips will be music supervisor this term. She replaces Mary Jane Moyer.

Miss Phillips' home is at West Leesport. She is a graduate of Muhlenberg High school and West Chester State Teachers college.

The new grade school teacher is Mrs. Robert Reis, a native of Brattleboro, Vt. She is a graduate of Sargent college. Since being graduated she has taken specialized elementary education courses at West Chester State Teachers college.

Mrs. Reis will teach Fourth grade at North Coventry. She replaces Mrs. S. Areta Bartman.

PAUL H. GRIM, supervising principal of North Coventry schools, estimates an increase of 80 enrolments this term.

"Of these, 50 will be in the elementary school and 30 in the high school," he said.

Total enrolment will be about

725, the principal said.

"Because of the increase in elementary school enrolment," he said, "it has been necessary to convert the health room into a classroom and one of the large storage rooms to a health room."

He added that two rooms in the High school (Rooms 4 and 8) have been refurbished with movable arm chair desks.

The opening schedule for the two Norco schools is as follows:

Sept. 8—teachers meeting, 1:30 p. m.

Sept. 9—pupils of Grades 1 to 6 and 10 to 12 report for half-day session.

Sept. 10—pupils of Grades 1 to 9 report for half-day sessions.

Sept. 11—pupils of Grades 1 to 12 report for half-day session.

Internal Affairs Official Dies of Heart Attack

HARRISBURG, Sept. 1 (AP)—John A. Livengood, chief of the State internal affairs department's public utilities division, died today of a heart ailment. He was 43.

Livengood, whose death was discovered this morning by his wife, was a brother of William S. Livengood Jr., internal affairs secretary. He had served in his brother's department for the past eight years. He was a native of Somerset.

Secretary Livengood received word of his brother's death while attending a conference of oil pact states in Billings, Mont. He planned to return home immediately.

Funeral arrangements were to be completed tomorrow. Livengood is survived by his widow and three children.

Spring City Will Get New Principals In Both Elementary and High Schools

When school opens in Spring City on Sept. 9, both the elementary and high schools will have new principals.

It will be the first time the elementary school has had a full-time principal.

Harry B. Gorton, Lemoyne, was chosen by the board to fill the post. He comes to Spring City from Wormleysburg, where he served as teaching principal for the past year.

John C. Sanderson, Waynesboro, will be the new high school principal.

DANIEL G. MCGARY

GORTON has four years teaching experience. He taught in Leacock township, Lancaster county, for three years after completing college.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in education from Millersville State Teachers college, where he was graduated in 1949, and two Master's degrees.

The first is in elementary administration, from Temple university; the second, in social studies, from the University of Pennsylvania, both in Philadelphia.

Gorton also is a graduate of Litz High school. He is married and the father of two children.

Teachers of the borough schools will go on duty on Sept. 8, Charles H. Wise, supervising principal, announced.

Pupils will register on Sept. 9, he said. Thursday, Sept. 10, will be the first full day of school.

Four New Teachers Named for Fall Term At Warwick School

Warwick township consolidated school has four new teachers. School starts there today.

All are recent college graduates. Supervising Principal Carryl E. Stauffer said.

The new and older teachers met at the school yesterday the principal added.

Pupils will find new desks in the science room, new window shades in the elementary school, new draperies in the auditorium and new paint in the hallways, Stauffer revealed.

Schwenksville Consolidated School Gets New Principal, Five Teachers

Pupils going to Schwenksville college. A teacher for the past three years at Vienna, N. J., she will get a new supervising principal, five new teachers, a new school nurse and several changes in program.

Classes will start Sept. 8, said Robert W. Cope, the new principal.

Only half-day sessions will be held during the first week of school, he announced. Hours will be 8:40 a. m. to 11 a. m. for Grades 1 to 6; and 8:40 a. m. to 11:40 a. m. for Grades 7 to 12.

Beginners and new pupils will report to the auditorium the first day, while old pupils will go to their last year's rooms.

THE CONSOLIDATED school, sometimes known as the J. Horace Landis school, houses pupils from Lower Frederick and Perkiomen townships and Schwenksville, the three members of the jointure.

Changes in the program this year, as announced by the supervising principal, include the following:

1. Double periods in art, physical education, shop and practical arts for Seventh and Eighth graders. This is to save the time of getting out and putting away materials in art classes and changing clothes for gym activities.
2. New Science classes for Eighth graders (one section to be taught by Michael Hader; the other by Henry Meyer).
3. Industrial arts classes for Sixth grade boys and home economics for Sixth grade girls.
4. Physical education periods for Fifth and Sixth graders, led by their regular teachers with cooperation of the High school physical education department.
5. Beginning Latin for Ninth graders, with pupils now able to take two years of Latin followed (if desired) by two years of German.

NEW TEACHERS for this term include:

Lorraine Florey, Nazareth, who will teach the additional Second grade. She is a 1950 graduate of East Stroudsburg State teachers college.

Mary Jane Wagoner, Lyndell, graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will teach English.

Walter Price, 322 North Washington street, also a graduate of the West Chester college, will be music instructor.

A new agriculture teacher still is being sought.

In sailing ship days, one recipe for blacking for standing rigging included adding six gallons of whiskey to half a barrel of tar, four pounds of litharge and four pounds of lamp black plus two pails of boiling salt water.

LEONA DILTZ

Other work completed at the school during the Summer includes repairing and cleaning of stage curtains in the auditorium and pruning of trees on the campus.

STAUFFER remarked that more pupils will be studying Latin this Fall than ever, which seems to indicate that the so-called dead language is still very much alive.

Warwick's new teachers for the new term are:

Leona Diltz, of Muncy, a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers college. She will teach commercial subjects.

Mary Jane Wagoner, Lyndell, graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will teach English.

Walter Price, 322 North Washington street, also a graduate of the West Chester college, will be music instructor.

A new agriculture teacher still is being sought.

AMITY FACULTY TO HAVE SIX MORE TEACHERS

Enrollment for the new term, as reported by Supervising Principal Cope, is 774—40 more than that of the past Fall for the 12 grades.

Greatest increase is in the elementary school, he said.

SUMMER improvements to the school buildings include:

1. Alternations to the new elementary building, providing space for an additional Second and Fourth grade.
2. Painting of offices, gymnasium, elementary school cafeteria, home economics room, art studio, and basement of the older elementary building (done with help the faculty members Michael Hader and Charles Steltz).
3. Installing of "panic bolts" on outside doors of the old elementary building as a safety measure in case of disaster.
4. Extension and improvement of the fire alarm system.
5. Addition of two pianos to the music room. (These were donated by interested citizens.)

Raymond Seewagen, head janitor, supervised cleaning of the buildings during the Summer.

A new janitor, Norman Kulp, Schwenksville, will have charge of the elementary buildings this term.

Federal and state governments own about 43 per cent of U. S. raw timber.

OTHER NEW names on the faculty are those of Mrs. Pauline Obold, Reading; Morris Schaeffer, Shillington; and Olive Bieber, Fleetwood.

Mrs. Obold is a former teacher in the Fleetwood schools. A graduate of Penn State, she will teach English and be school librarian.

Schaeffer, who will teach industrial arts and social studies, is a graduate of Millersville State Teachers college.

Miss Bieber will teach Second grade at Amity. She was graduated from Kutztown State Teachers college.

Michael C. Billett, supervising principal, said that school will only be in session a half day Sept. 8.

"We will be closed altogether on Reading Fair Day," he said. "That's on Sept. 18."

Enrollment at Amity will be 430 this Fall; about the same as that of the past year.

The new brick addition to the school will be in operation when classes begin, the principal announced.

"It includes four classrooms, a cafeteria and an enlarged gymnasium," he said.

The classrooms are bright with new plaster walls, maple floors and acoustic tile ceilings, and furnished with new or reconditioned desks.

The remodeled gymnasium is 20 feet longer than it was and is now wide enough to accommodate

Half Are From The Pottstown
Area

Six new teachers will join the faculty of Amity-township consolidated school when the Fall term starts there Sept. 8.

Half of them are from the Pottstown area. They include:

Bruce Elliott, 154 King street, a graduate of Ursinus college, Collegeville. He will teach social studies in the High school.

Mrs. Edith Ebert, 778 North Evans street, will teach High school mathematics. She is a graduate of Wilson college, with credits in graduate work from Pennsylvania State college and Columbia university, New York. She has taught in Pottstown and Reading schools.

Kathryn Hendricks, Green Lane, is the new physical education and health instructor. She was graduated from West Chester State Teachers college.

Other work completed at the school during the Summer includes repairing and cleaning of stage curtains in the auditorium and pruning of trees on the campus.

STAUFFER remarked that more pupils will be studying Latin this Fall than ever, which seems to indicate that the so-called dead language is still very much alive.

Area

Six new teachers will join the faculty of Amity-township consolidated school when the Fall term starts there Sept. 8.

Half of them are from the Pottstown area. They include:

Bruce Elliott, 154 King street, a graduate of Ursinus college, Collegeville. He will teach social studies in the High school.

Mrs. Edith Ebert, 778 North Evans street, will teach High school mathematics. She is a graduate of Wilson college, with credits in graduate work from Pennsylvania State college and Columbia university, New York. She has taught in Pottstown and Reading schools.

Kathryn Hendricks, Green Lane, is the new physical education and health instructor. She was graduated from West Chester State Teachers college.

Other work completed at the school during the Summer includes repairing and cleaning of stage curtains in the auditorium and pruning of trees on the campus.

STAUFFER remarked that more pupils will be studying Latin this Fall than ever, which seems to indicate that the so-called dead language is still very much alive.

Warwick's new teachers for the new term are:

Leona Diltz, of Muncy, a graduate of Bloomsburg State Teachers college. She will teach commercial subjects.

Mary Jane Wagoner, Lyndell, graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will teach English.

Walter Price, 322 North Washington street, also a graduate of the West Chester college, will be music instructor.

A new agriculture teacher still is being sought.

In sailing ship days, one recipe for blacking for standing rigging included adding six gallons of whiskey to half a barrel of tar, four pounds of litharge and four pounds of lamp black plus two pails of boiling salt water.

NEW TEACHERS for this term include:

Lorraine Florey, Nazareth, who will teach the additional Second grade. She is a 1950 graduate of East Stroudsburg State teachers college.

Mary Jane Wagoner, Lyndell, graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will teach English.

Walter Price, 322 North Washington street, also a graduate of the West Chester college, will be music instructor.

AMITY FACULTY TO HAVE SIX MORE TEACHERS

Enrollment for the new term, as reported by Supervising Principal Cope, is 774—40 more than that of the past Fall for the 12 grades.

Greatest increase is in the elementary school, he said.

SUMMER improvements to the school buildings include:

1. Alternations to the new elementary building, providing space for an additional Second and Fourth grade.
2. Painting of offices, gymnasium, elementary school cafeteria, home economics room, art studio, and basement of the older elementary building (done with help the faculty members Michael Hader and Charles Steltz).
3. Installing of "panic bolts" on outside doors of the old elementary building as a safety measure in case of disaster.
4. Extension and improvement of the fire alarm system.
5. Addition of two pianos to the music room. (These were donated by interested citizens.)

Raymond Seewagen, head janitor, supervised cleaning of the buildings during the Summer.

A new janitor, Norman Kulp, Schwenksville, will have charge of the elementary buildings this term.

Federal and state governments own about 43 per cent of U. S. raw timber.

OTHER NEW names on the faculty are those of Mrs. Pauline Obold, Reading; Morris Schaeffer, Shillington; and Olive Bieber, Fleetwood.

Mrs. Obold is a former teacher in the Fleetwood schools. A graduate of Penn State, she will teach English and be school librarian.

Schaeffer, who will teach industrial arts and social studies, is a graduate of Millersville State Teachers college.

Miss Bieber will teach Second grade at Amity. She was graduated from Kutztown State Teachers college.

Michael C. Billett, supervising principal, said that school will only be in session a half day Sept. 8.

"We will be closed altogether on Reading Fair Day," he said. "That's on Sept. 18."

Enrollment at Amity will be 430 this Fall; about the same as that of the past year.

The new brick addition to the school will be in operation when classes begin, the principal announced.

"It includes four classrooms, a cafeteria and an enlarged gymnasium," he said.

The classrooms are bright with new plaster walls, maple floors and acoustic tile ceilings, and furnished with new or reconditioned desks.

The remodeled gymnasium is 20 feet longer than it was and is now wide enough to accommodate

School Opening Set In Union Township

Teachers and First graders, accompanied by their parents, will be the only persons entering the Union township elementary school when it opens Sept. 8.

The other seven grades will go into operation the following day, while Grades 10 to 12 will go to the high school.

Many more spectators than formerly.

The enlargement also has provided room for an enlarged stage so that the gym can serve as an auditorium, the principal said.

A bus for First graders will leave the Monocacy school grounds at 8:30 a. m. on Sept. 8 to gather the children. They will be picked up before 9:30 a. m.

Leon Davidheiser, school board president, said that all but one former teacher will be back this year. A new teacher for Sixth grade has not yet been selected.

Only minor repairs have been necessary at the school during the Summer, Davidheiser noted.

Four New Teachers Named for Fall Term At Warwick School

Warwick township consolidated school has four new teachers. School starts there today.

All are recent college graduates. Supervising Principal Carryl E. Stauffer said.

The new and older teachers met at the school yesterday to meet the principal.

Pupils will find new desks in the science room, new window shades in the elementary school, new draperies in the auditorium and new paint in the hallways, Stauffer revealed.

LEONA DILTZ

Other work completed at the school during the Summer includes repairing and cleaning of stage curtains in the auditorium and pruning of trees on the campus.

STAUFFER remarked that more pupils will be studying Latin this Fall than ever, which seems to indicate that the so-called dead language is still very much alive.

Schwenksville Consolidated School Gets New Principal, Five Teachers

Pupils going to Schwenksville Joint Consolidated school this Fall will get a new supervising principal, five new teachers, a new school nurse and several changes in program.

Classes will start Sept. 8, said Robert W. Cope, the new principal.

Only half-day sessions will be held during the first week of school, he announced. Hours will be 8:40 a. m. to 11 a. m. for Grades 1 to 6; and 8:40 a. m. to 11:40 a. m. for Grades 7 to 12.

Beginners and new pupils will report to the auditorium the first day, while old pupils will go to their last year's rooms.

THE CONSOLIDATED school, sometimes known as the J. Horace Landis school, houses pupils from Lower Frederick and Perkiomen townships and Schwenksville, the three members of the jointure.

Changes in the program this year, as announced by the supervising principal, include the following:

1. Double periods in art, physical education, shop and practical arts for Seventh and Eighth graders. This is to save the time of getting out and putting away materials in art classes and changing clothes for gym activities.

2. New Science classes for Eighth graders (one section to be taught by Michael Hader; the other by Henry Meyer).

3. Industrial arts classes for Sixth grade boys and home economics for Sixth grade girls.

4. Physical education periods for Fifth and Sixth graders, led by their regular teachers with cooperation of the High school physical education department.

5. Beginning Latin for Ninth graders, with pupils now able to take two years of Latin followed (if desired) by two years of German.

NEW TEACHERS for this term include:

Lorraine Florey, Nazareth, who will teach the additional Second grade. She is a 1950 graduate of East Stroudsburg State teachers college.

Henry Meyer, Philadelphia, will be a substitute for Edna Meng (now on sabbatical leave). Meyer was educated in Germany and taught in public schools there from 1933 to 1939. After that he taught in Shanghai, China. Since 1951 he has been studying at Temple university, Philadelphia. He will teach science and German at Schwenksville.

Dorothy Louise Smith, Norristown, who will be music supervisor. A 1953 graduate of Westminster college, New Wilmington, she has been organist and choir director of several churches. Besides supervising music in Grades 1 to 12, she will teach Seventh grade English.

Paul S. Bingaman Jr., will teach boys' physical education and mathematics. A former Norristown High school athlete, he will also be football and basketball coach at Schwenksville. He was graduated from Temple university, Philadelphia, in 1952, and formerly taught at Millford, N. J.

Richard Carfagno, Bridgeport, who will teach High school mathematics. He is a 1951 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college and former civilian instructor in the Army Ordnance school at Aberdeen, Md. In World War II he was an Air Force gunner.

Mrs. Charles Steltz, Schwenksville, is the new full-time school nurse. She is a graduate of Hahnemann hospital school of nursing, Philadelphia. Mrs. Steltz has been on the staff at Hahnemann and also Memorial hospital.

OTHER FACULTY changes are as follows:

Mrs. Marion S. Walsh, Collegeville, will teach Fourth grade. She formerly taught high school mathematics.

Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer, part-time art teacher, will teach full time this year.

The first week of school will be a busy one for the teachers. They will attend the Women's Civic club meeting on Sept. 9 and the first Fall meeting of the PTA the following day (in the school auditorium).

Enrollment for the new term, as reported by Supervising Principal Cope, is 774—40 more than that of the past Fall for the 12 grades.

Greatest increase is in the elementary school, he said.

Hill School Will Open Doors to 476 Pupils

When the doors of The Hill school yawn Sept. 16, the observer may get an impression the United Nations was moving into the local preparatory school.

For among the delegation of pupils reporting to Headmaster Edward T. Hall will be representatives from 33 states and 13 foreign countries.

A total of 476 students is expected to attend classes during the 1953-1954 school year, including 11 from the Pottstown area.

Of this total, 173 boys will be introduced to the ivy-covered walls for the first time. Along with this group, there will also be four masters making their initial appearances.

According to a schedule mapped out by school officials, new boys entering The Hill report to Headmaster Hall not earlier than 9 a. m., nor later than 4 p. m., on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

OLD BOYS with conditions report not later than 6 p. m. the same day, unless they have cleared their record at The Hill Summer session.

All other boys will report Thursday, Sept. 17, not later than 5:30 p. m.

Examinations of old boys for the removal of condition will be held the same day.

The 11 new area boys who will be joining The Hill ranks for the first time include: Frank A. D'Lauro Jr., Valley Forge road, Fairview Village; Melvin B. Endy Jr., 11 Chestnut street; Robert E. Hartzell, 60 Sixth avenue, Collegeville.

John M. Heilmann, 112 Seventh avenue, Collegeville; Bruce W. Robertson, Pottstown RD 4; Jack W. Smith, 1316 South street; David A. Swinehart, 737 Walnut street.

Michael A. Waxman, 986 Hale street; Robert R. Weiser, 651 Chestnut street; George C. Whiteley 3d, The Hill school, and Daniel H. Wolf, Pottstown RD 1.

Two of the 11 prospective students are Pottstown Junior High school scholarship winners. They are Weiser and Smith.

Upper Pottsgrove Ready for Large First Grade Class

Upper Pottsgrove elementary school will get the largest class of First graders in its history this fall.

"We'll have 40 of them when school starts on Sept. 9," Principal John B. Ferdinand revealed. "Less than ten years ago we had been half that many."

There will be room for them, though, as well as the 140 other pupils who will be enrolled in Grades 1 to 6.

"The addition to the school will be ready, all cut the cafeteria," Ferdinand said.

In the brick-and-cement-block addition are two new classrooms, a new principal's office, a new health room and the cafeteria.

THE NEW rooms are all furnished with modern fluorescent lights, asphalt tile floors and acoustical ceilings, Ferdinand said. Eighty new desks will furnish the rooms.

"The cafeteria, first we've had here, will probably be completed by the time we hold open house in the addition in late September," he confirmed.

One new teacher, Mrs. Hugh Kelley, Gilbertville RD, former Douglassville substitute teacher, will join the Upper Pottsgrove faculty this fall.

Mrs. Robert F. Ellis will be the new school nurse.

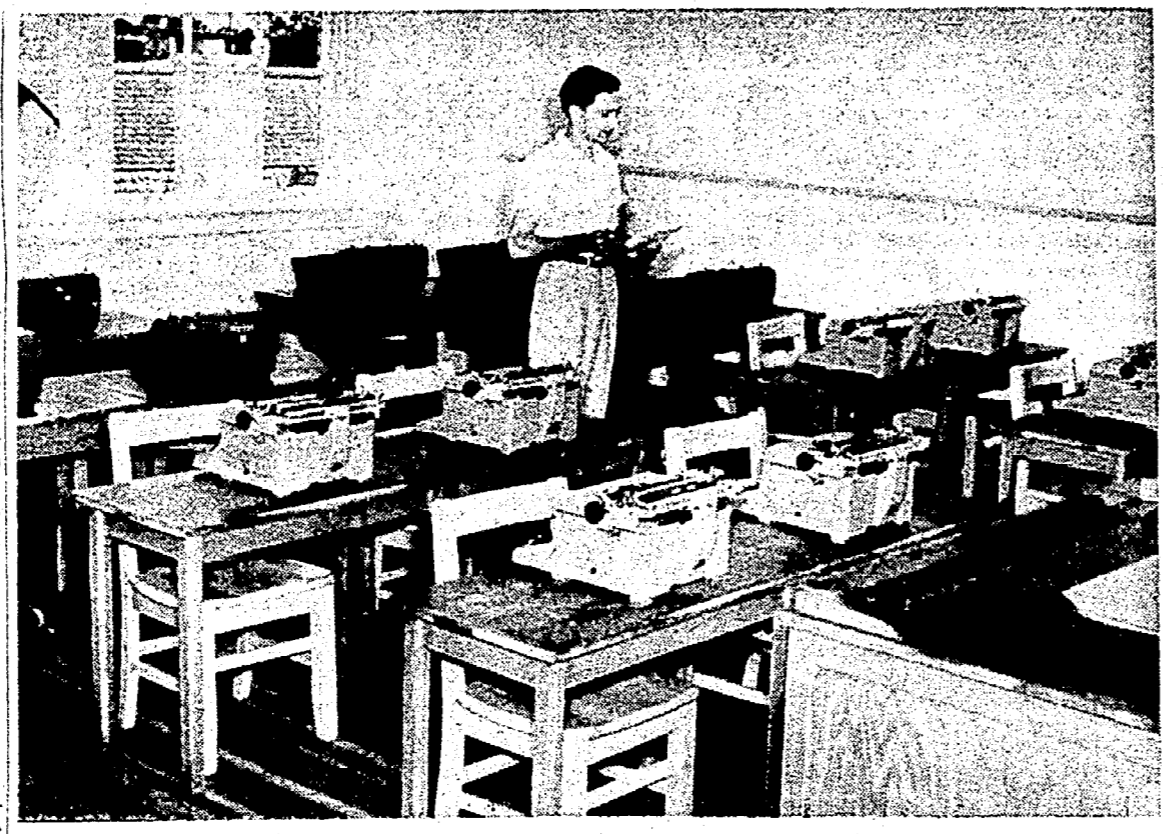

Upper Pottsgrove will follow the Pottstown school calendar, Ferdinand said.

Coroner's Jury Rules Drowning Is Accidental

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 1 (AP) — A special two-man coroner's jury ruled accidental today the July 30 drowning of 6-year-old Constance Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morris, of Mt. Lebanon. She drowned at the final session of the six-week day camp.

Coroner William D. McClelland reprimanded Barbara Hartwig, teen-ager counselor at the Mt. Lebanon pool for neglecting her charges and permitting horse-play with younger children around.

Witnesses at the inquest testified Miss Hartwig ignored the warnings of other children that Constance was playing in deep water.

Vacating of Housing Project to Affect Lower Pottsgrove School Enrolment

Enrolment in Lower Pottsgrove elementary school is expected to increase only slightly this fall. Reason for this is the gradual vacating of the Hilldale housing project, Supervising Principal LeRoy R. Brendlinger said.

"The fact that many families have moved from Hilldale has done away with the need for new classrooms," he said, "at least for this term."

Classes will begin at Lower Pottsgrove on Sept. 9 at 8:30 a. m., Brendlinger announced. About 420 pupils will be enrolled by that time.

"Something new this year will be the art program approved by the board," the principal remarked.

He said that an art room has been painted and furnished with hot and cold water for the budding artists.

John Smith, Pottstown RD 4, will be the new art teacher. He taught previously for two years at Collegeville-Trappe Joint schools.

Smith is a Temple university graduate and holds a Master of Arts degree from that school.

THREE OTHER new teachers will join the faculty this fall, the principal announced. They are: Bonnie Swinehart, 737 Walnut street, a 1952 graduate of West Chester State Teachers college. She will replace Jean Harer as teacher of First grade.

Mrs. Virginia Shultz, Pottstown RD 4, Kutztown State Teachers college graduate who taught once before at Lower Pottsgrove in 1937. She will replace Mrs. Ruth Spaide as Second grade teacher.

Arlene Borneman, Perkiomenville RD, a 1952 Pennsylvania State college graduate. She will replace Mrs. Ruth Henry as teacher of Second grade.

A teachers' meeting will be held at the school on Sept. 8 at 9:30 a. m., Principal Brendlinger said.

Half-day class sessions will be held the first three days of school, he announced.

High school bus identification

ONLY ONE big change will be made in the bus schedule for this year. A school bus will transport all High school pupils from Kemp's store west on Route 422 to the Junior and Senior High school.

This bus will follow the same schedule the town bus used the past year.

The Keim street bus will circle south from Sunnyside avenue on improved Hilltop road to pick up children living in that area.

Summer improvements to the township school include renovation of the three-year-old, all-purpose room and new equipment in the cafeteria.

The all-purpose room has been insulated and equipped with acoustical tile ceiling, more electric lights and a new tile floor.

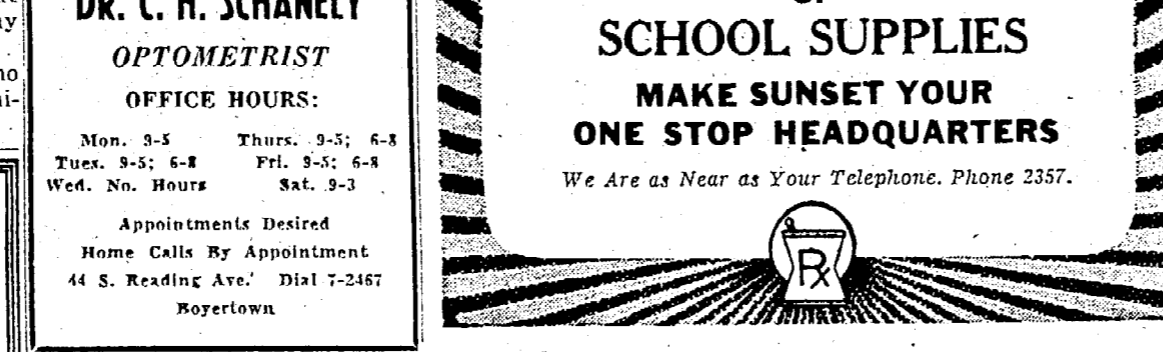

A new public address system with indoor and outdoor speakers is another improvement to the room.

Another oven and roaster unit has been added in the cafeteria to provide more space for cooking. School meals will be sold for the bargain price of 20 cents.

The entire building has been cleaned, floors have been waxed and woodwork polished for the opening. Rufus Boyer is the new janitor and bus driver for the district.

Douglass Township's Enrolment Down; 2 Teachers Dropped

Overcrowding won't be a problem in Douglass township schools, Montgomery county, this fall and winter.

Enrolment will be about 190 under that of the past term, Harvey Tagert, school board secretary, said.

When school starts on Sept. 9, about 513 pupils will be on the rolls, he estimated.

"We had so many more last year because of New Hanover and Fagleyville pupils coming here," he explained.

This year, he said, Douglass will rent two rooms of the Congo school to New Hanover. Some pupils also will be going to classes in the POSA lodge hall, he added.

Because of the decreased enrolment, Douglass has not only not taken on any new teachers—it has had to drop two.

"As for High school attendance," Tagert said, "now that we are in the jointure with Boyertown, our upper graders will have to go there. Otherwise we can't pay their tuition."

He said that Douglass would follow the Boyertown school calendar.

School Staff Returns In Upper Uwchland

School will begin on Sept. 8 for Upper Uwchland township pupils, with their former teachers all back on duty.

School Board President J. Wayne Pollock said that enrolment in the township's six grades would be about 90.

The enrolment will be divided equally between the Prospect, Font and Windsor buildings, the president said.

New screens and storm windows have been installed at the Prospect school by the Home and School League.

The 70 High school pupils from Upper Uwchland will go to the Downingtown school.

PUPILS' UNITY AIM OF SCHOOL

Senior High Plans Integration of Departments

The policy of making "one school" of the Pottstown Senior High school will be carried one step further this year, according to Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr.

Davenport pointed out that for many years the school was operated on a program of "segregation" whereby pupils of various departments seldom came in contact with each other.

Frequently, members of one department didn't even know the members of another department of the school.

This year, all members of the school will be grouped in home room, by classes, alphabetically so that within the confines of each room you will expect to find college preparatory pupils seated next to commercial pupils and industrial and home economics pupils.

THIS PROGRAM, started two years ago, has the purpose of making all pupils feel that they are part of a democratic institution which makes no distinction because of course of instruction being followed.

This is in keeping with the general policy of the school which issues the same diploma to all pupils regardless of the course of instruction pursued.

The first change in this direction was made two years ago when the Sophomore English classes were opened to pupils of each department. The past year, the same program was instituted in United States History, and this year the class in Problems of Democracy also will be mixed groups.

All classes will not be composed of mixed groups because of the difficulty in making such a schedule, but it is significant that as far as possible department lines have been erased, Davenport said.

Pupils entering Pottstown High school from other districts are urged to register in the school of choice prior to the start of school.

Pupils who already have registered for their work are permitted to make changes in schedule after school opens but where possible, such changes should be made prior to Sept. 9, opening day. Where schedule changes are made after opening day, difficulty frequently arises in the proper placement of the pupil.

Hill School Will Open Doors to 476 Pupils

When the doors of The Hill school yawn Sept. 16, the observer may get an impression the United Nations was moving into the local preparatory school.

For among the delegation of pupils reporting to Headmaster Edward T. Hall will be representatives from 33 states and 13 foreign countries.

A total of 476 students is expected to attend classes during the 1953-1954 school year, including 11 from the Pottstown area.

Of this total, 173 boys will be introduced to the ivy-covered walls for the first time. Along with this group, there will also be four masters making their initial appearances.

According to a schedule mapped out by school officials, new boys entering The Hill report to Headmaster Hall not earlier than 9 a. m., nor later than 4 p. m., on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

OLD BOYS with conditions report not later than 6 p. m. the same day, unless they have cleared their record at The Hill Summer session.

All other boys will report Thursday, Sept. 17, not later than 5:30 p. m.

Examinations of old boys for the removal of condition will be held the same day.

The 11 new area boys who will be joining The Hill ranks for the first time include: Frank A. D'Lauro Jr., Valley Forge road, Fairview Village; Melvin B. Endy Jr., 11 Chestnut street; Robert E. Hartzell, 60 Sixth avenue, Collegeville.

John M. Heilmann, 112 Seventh avenue, Collegeville; Bruce W. Robertson, Pottstown RD 4; Jack W. Smith, 1316 South street; David A. Swinehart, 737 Walnut street.

Michael A. Waxman, 986 Hale street; Robert R. Weiser, 651 Chestnut street; George C. Whiteley 3d, The Hill school, and Daniel H. Wolf, Pottstown RD 1.

Upper Pottsgrove Ready for Large First Grade Class

Upper Pottsgrove elementary school will get the largest class of first graders in its history this Fall.

"We'll have 40 of them when school starts on Sept. 9," Principal John B. Ferdinand revealed. "Less than ten years ago we had been half that many."

There will be room for them, though, as well as the 140 other pupils who will be enrolled in Grades 1 to 6.

"The addition to the school will be ready, all but the cafeteria," Ferdinand said.

In the brick-and-cement-block addition are two new classrooms, a new principal's office, a new health room and the cafeteria.

THE NEW rooms are all furnished with modern fluorescent lights, asphalt tile floors and acoustic ceilings, Ferdinand said. Eighty new desks will furnish the rooms.

"The cafeteria, first we've had here, will probably be completed by the time we hold open house in the addition in late September," he confirmed.

One new teacher, Mrs. Hugh Kelley, Gilbertville RD, former Douglassville substitute teacher, will join the Upper Pottsgrove faculty this Fall.

Mrs. Robert F. Ellis will be the new school nurse.

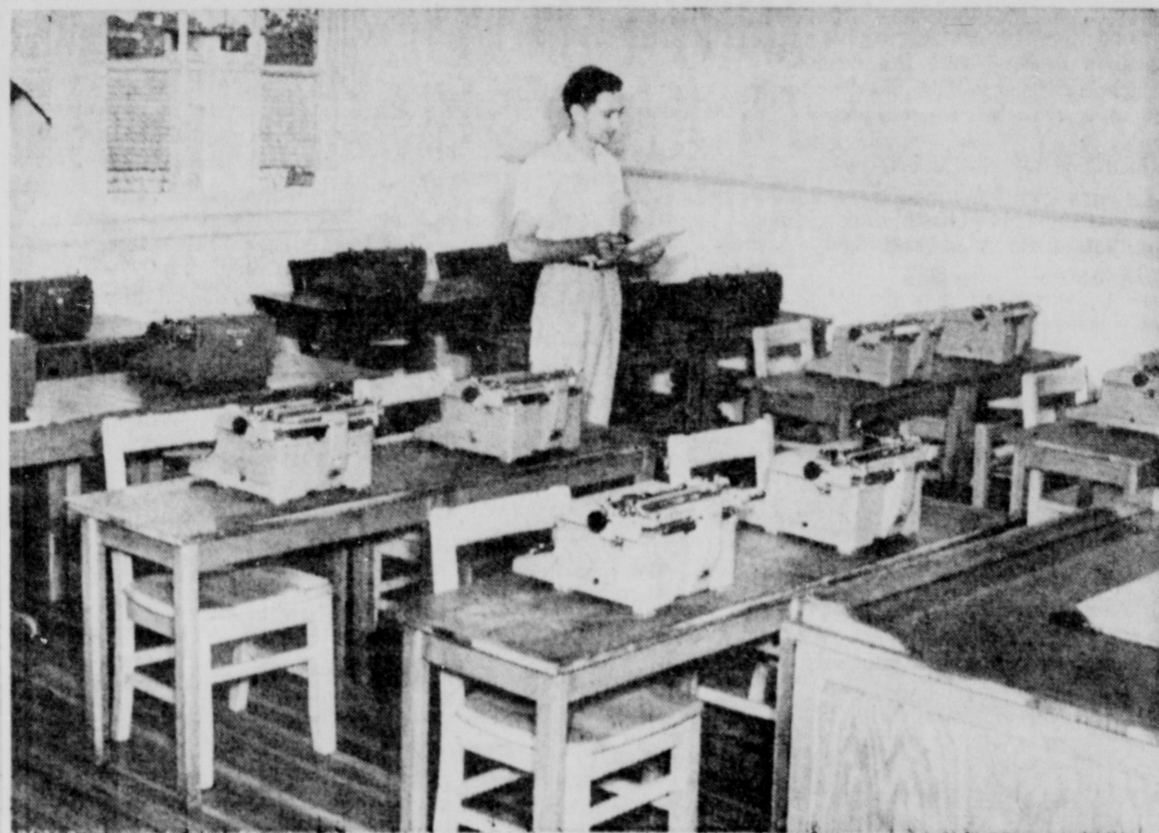

Upper Pottsgrove will follow the Pottstown school calendar, Ferdinand said.

85 TEACHERS ARE ON GRADE SCHOOL STAFF

Local Elementary Buildings Ready

PERSONNEL CHANGES ARE ANNOUNCED

Pottstown's elementary schools are ready for another school year with the announcement of a complete staff of more than 85 teachers.

The breakdown of new developments in each grade school was released as follows:

Franklin school: personnel remains the same with the exception of (1) Mrs. Myrtle Z. Gebhard, 241 Lee avenue, a former teacher here, will teach one of the Fifth grades. Mrs. Evelyn T. Bachman, 24 King street, will teach a First grade. Mrs. Bachman taught here during the 1951-52 season and substituted almost full-time the past year.

Jefferson building: Miss Jane Wells, Morgantown, 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers, will teach a Second grade; Harry V. Weaverlin, Highspire, Pa., 1953 graduate of Millersville State Teachers, will take a Fifth grade; John Kissinger, Wyomissing, will teach a Sixth grade.

Lincoln building: Mrs. Bertha Snyder, Boyertown, former teacher at Gabelsville, will teach a primary group; Gerald Hodge, Millersville, will teach a Fifth grade.

Mrs. Ruth Swinehart, former head teacher at the Washington school, will teach a sixth grade.

RUPERT building: Mrs. Mary Herbine, 1112 Queen street, will teach full-time in a primary grade; Doris Kunze, Williamsport, 1953 graduate of Lock Haven State Teachers, will teach a First grade.

Mrs. Naomi Brooks, Rupert school teacher the past year, will be on sabbatical leave this year.

St. Clair building: Mrs. Marian Glavis, 709 High street, will teach an afternoon kindergarten session.

Washington building: Personnel intact except for a new head teacher. Mrs. Ruth Swinehart, who resigned as head teacher, will be replaced by Mrs. Florence Johnson, who comes from the Lincoln school.

West End building: Eight teachers have been assigned to the school but because it won't be finished in time they'll be assigned elsewhere.

Gladys Ney of Womelsdorf, 1953 Kutztown State Teachers graduate, will teach the new building's kindergarten in the meantime at the Franklin school.

MRS. ARETA K. Bartram, 221 Diamond street, will have charge of the two First grade groups, and Mrs. June K. Wein will take over the other two.

Mrs. Mildred Walter, Quakake, Pa., former Pottsville teacher, will be transferred to the Rupert school.

Edith Yocom will teach the Third grade in a vacant room at the Jefferson building. The Fourth grade will be taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Barth in the same building.

Randall Boyer, Stowe, 1953 Millersville State Teachers' college graduate, will be transferred to Rupert school.

Grade six will be taught by Kenneth Gable, former Senior High teacher, who has been designated as head teacher for the West End building.

It will be taught in the St. Clair building's activities room.

Also hired for the West End school was Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart,

1800 Area Pupils Will Begin Classes In Upper Perkiomen Valley Jointure

Upper Perkiomen Valley Jointure schools will open their classrooms to almost 1800 area pupils on Sept. 9.

The year-old jointure includes Pennsburg, East Greenville, Red Hill, Green Lane, Summeytown, Upper Hanover and Marlborough.

All 12 grades are included in the jointure.

Stanley M. Kurtz, supervising principal of the joint schools, said yesterday that all Seventh and Eighth graders in the joint area would attend Pennsburg High school except those from East Greenville, who will attend their own school.

All pupils of Grades 9 to 12 in the joint area also will go to the East Greenville High school.

FOOTBALL practice started in the area the past week, the principal said, and the school band is in rehearsals.

Ralph Y. Eckenberger, of Bath, and Raymond Snyder, Allentown, were selected by the joint board as assistant football coaches for this year.

Both will also teach social studies in the High school.

Eckenberger is a recent graduate of Lafayette college, where he was a varsity line-man. Snyder is a graduate of Moravian college, where he was a varsity halfback.

Snyder, who was recently discharged from the Army after serving two years since his college graduation, will also be assistant basketball coach.

WALTER D. Heist, Kennett Square, recent graduate of Bucknell university, will teach Senior High school English this year.

Helen Cox, Alburtus RD, will be a new First grade teacher at Red Hill this term.

Mrs. Helen Haring, Pennsburg, is a new Second grade teacher at Pennsburg.

Mrs. Paul Moore, will be a First grade teacher at the Pennsburg school. Mrs. Arlene Koch Smoll, Red Hill, will teach Third grade at Green Lane.

Clarence A. Roth has been appointed dean and director of High school athletics.

Principal Kurtz announced that the Reed school in Upper Hanover will be closed this year, with pupils from there going to Pennsburg and Red Hill.

William G. Moser, new High school principal, will have offices in the High school building this year. He was formerly at the Pennsburg building.

Supervising Principal Kurtz is now occupying a new office in the former library of the Pennsburg building.

Schumacher road.

THE 85 teachers in the grade schools will be supplemented by two music supervisors. One, Mrs. Barbara Landgraf, Phoenixville RD 1, a graduate of Syracuse university, is new to the system. She will assist Mrs. Bertha Maraffie.

The nurse is Mrs. Ethel H. McConnell; remedial reading, Mrs. Hazel M. Neff. This is a new position in the grade schools.

Mrs. Neff will have charge of elementary libraries and will concentrate on the reading program.

The art supervisor remains the same—Eleanor Bentz. The school psychologist and curriculum coordinator is Lewis F. Maraffie.

Havard Fosnocht is principal of the elementary schools.

First School Day Will Be Long One

The first day of school this year will be a long one, especially since the Summer habit of taking life easy has become firmly entrenched.

Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools, said yesterday that the first day, Wednesday, Sept. 9, will be a full day's session.

In the past, he said, the first three days of school were usually half day sessions.

He added that the cafeterias at both schools would be open on the first day for those pupils who didn't carry lunches with them or who didn't plan to return home for lunch.

FIRST GRADERS NUMBER 107 IN LIMERICK

Record Turnout Due When School Opens Sept. 9

Limerick Consolidated school will have a record number of First graders when classes get underway there on Sept. 9.

The school will be ready for them, though.

Some of the 107 beginners will go into a new First grade section that will be former this year.

There will be room for them on the school playground, too.

Four thousand more square feet of the play area have been macadamized during the Summer.

Total enrolment in the modern four-year-old school this Fall will be 440, Howard A. Michener, supervising principal, revealed.

OTHER arrangements to accommodate more pupils in the six-grade school include a partition in the assembly room, forming a new Fifth grade room, and renovation of a classroom to make space for more First graders.

Three new teachers will be on the faculty this term. They are: Mrs. Marie Karl, of Simpson, a graduate of St. Mary's college. She has 24 years teaching experience, gained mostly in the Cardondale area.

Arden Benfield, Royersford RD, a 1953 graduate of Elizabethtown college. Miss Benfield will teach Third grade.

Mrs. Hazel Michaels, Kenilworth, will teach Third grade for one month as substitute for Mrs. Wilhelmina Eaches, who is suffering from an injured arm.

The faculty will hold a meeting at the school on Sept. 8, Michener announced.

The school cafeteria will go into operation on Sept. 14. School buses will run on the same schedule they followed the past year.

3 Teachers Will Join Township Staff

Three new teachers will join the faculty at West Pottsgrove township school for the term beginning Sept. 9.

They are Anna T. Ryan, of Excelsior; Jacqueline B. Nein, Reading, and Edmund F. Gress, Easton.

Miss Ryan will teach English and be school librarian. She is a graduate of Immaculata college and holds a Master of Arts degree from Pennsylvania State college.

Miss Nein, who is a graduate of West Chester State Teachers college, will teach physical education and social studies.

Mr. Gress will teach industrial arts. He is a graduate of Millersville State Teachers college.

SUPERVISING Principal James T. Jones said that a teachers' meeting would be held Sept. 8 at 9 a. m.

Pupils will report the next day at 8:30 a. m. Half sessions only will be held for the first three days.

Many of the rooms in the school have been painted and sanded and a new incinerator installed in the boiler room during the Summer.

Rooms in which floors have been sanded are the home economics room, the health room and the office.

Boys and girls shower and locker rooms have been painted, as well as the industrial arts room, Ninth and Tenth grade homerooms, the boiler room and the downstairs corridor.

Six hundred square yards of driveway around the school are now being macadamized and should be completely surfaced by the time school opens.

The school board let the contract for the surfacing at its Aug. 27 meeting. W. R. Crossdale is the contractor.

CIO ENDS WALKOUT GROVE CITY, Sept. 1 (AP)—Striking CIO United Steelworkers accepted today an 8 1/2 cent hourly wage increase to end a brief walkout at the Cooper-Bessemer corporation, manufacturer of diesel engines.

41 Fagleyville Pupils Will Attend Joint District

School will begin Sept. 9 for the 73 pupils in Fagleyville Independent district.

The 41 elementary pupils will attend schools of the Upper Frederick-New Hanover joint district, to which Fagleyville belongs.

Of these, Grades 1 and 2 will be sent to the Congo school and Grades 3 to 6 to Gilbertsville.

The 32 high school pupils will go to Boyertown High.

Eugene Seasholtz, secretary of the Fagleyville board, said that the bus schedule will be the same as it was the past year. The first pickup will be made at Grubb's dam at 8 a. m.

Brownell Announces Seizure of Cargo Vessel

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—Attorney General Brownell today announced the seizure at Philadelphia of the S.S. Ampac Nevada, formerly a surplus Government cargo vessel, alleging it is now illegally controlled by aliens.

The Ampac Nevada is the 29th ship to be so seized since the start of the year.

The Jefferson City Victory, registered in the name of Victory Carriers, was taken over at Philadelphia yesterday.

The Ampac Nevada is owned by the American Pacific company. The department said both companies are controlled by Greek interests.

MRS. BARBARA Landgraf, of Phoenixville RD 1, will work in the Pottstown school system this year as a music supervisor for elementary schools. She is a graduate of Syracuse University and taught one year in Endwell, N. Y.

85 TEACHERS ARE ON GRADE SCHOOL STAFF

Local Elementary Buildings Ready

PERSONNEL CHANGES ARE ANNOUNCED

Pottstown's elementary schools are ready for another school year with the announcement of a complete staff of more than 85 teachers.

The breakdown of new developments in each grade school was released as follows:

Franklin school: personnel remains the same with the exception of (1) Mrs. Myrtle Z. Gebhard, 241 Lee avenue, a former teacher here, will teach one of the Fifth grades. Mrs. Evelyn T. Bachman, 24 King street, will teach a First grade. Mrs. Bachman taught here during the 1951-52 season and substituted almost full-time the past year.

Jefferson building: Miss Jane Wells, Morgantown, 1953 graduate of Kutztown State Teachers, will teach a Second grade; Harry V. Weaverlin, Highspire, Pa., 1953 graduate of Millersville State Teachers, will take a Fifth grade; John Kissinger, Wyomissing, will teach a Sixth grade.

Lincoln building: Mrs. Bertha Snyder, Boyertown, former teacher at Gabelsville, will teach a primary group; Gerald Hodge, Millersville, will teach a Fifth grade.

Mrs. Ruth Swinehart, former head teacher at the Washington school, will teach a sixth grade.

RUPERT building: Mrs. Mary Herbine, 1112 Queen street, will teach full-time in a primary grade; Doris Kunze, Williamsport, 1953 graduate of Lock Haven State Teachers, will teach a First grade.

Mrs. Naomi Brooks, Rupert school teacher the past year, will be on sabbatical leave this year.

St. Clair building: Mrs. Marian Glavis, 709 High street, will teach an afternoon kindergarten session.

Washington building: Personnel intact except for a new head teacher. Mrs. Ruth Swinehart, who resigned as head teacher, will be replaced by Mrs. Florence Johnson, who comes from the Lincoln school.

West End building: Eight teachers have been assigned to the school but because it won't be finished in time they'll be assigned elsewhere.

Gladys Ney of Womelsdorf, 1953 Kutztown State Teachers graduate, will teach the new building's kindergarten in the meantime at the Franklin school.

MRS. ARETA K. Bartram, 221 Diamond street, will have charge of the two First grade groups, and Mrs. June K. Wein will take over the other two.

Mrs. Mildred Walter, Quakake, Pa., former Pottsville teacher, will be transferred to the Rupert school.

Edith Yocom will teach the Third grade in a vacant room at the Jefferson building. The Fourth grade will be taught by Mrs. Elizabeth Barth in the same building.

Randall Boyer, Stowe, 1953 Millersville State Teachers' college graduate, will be transferred to Rupert school.

Grade six will be taught by Kenneth Gable, former Senior High teacher, who has been designated as head teacher for the West End building.

It will be taught in the St. Clair building's activities room.

Also hired for the West End school was Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart,

1800 Area Pupils Will Begin Classes In Upper Perkiomen Valley Jointure

Upper Perkiomen Valley Joint schools will open their classrooms to almost 1800 area pupils on Sept. 9.

The year-old jointure includes Pennsburg, East Greenville, Red Hill, Green Lane, Summeytown, Upper Hanover and Marlborough.

All 12 grades are included in the jointure.

Stanley M. Kurtz, supervising principal of the joint schools, said yesterday that all Seventh and Eighth graders in the joint area would attend Pennsburg High school except those from East Greenville, who will attend their own school.

All pupils of Grades 9 to 12 in the joint area also will go to the East Greenville High school.

Kurtz announced that cafeterias in the Pennsburg, Red Hill and East Greenville schools would be open on the first day of school.

FOOTBALL practice started in the area the past week, the principal said, and the school band is in rehearsal.

Ralph Y. Eckensberger, of Bath, and Raymond Snyder, Allentown, were selected by the joint board as assistant football coaches for this year.

Both will also teach social studies in the High school.

Eckensberger is a recent graduate of Lafayette college, where he was a varsity line-man. Snyder is a graduate of Moravian college, where he was a varsity halfback.

Snyder, who was recently discharged from the Army after serving two years since his college graduation, will also be assistant basketball coach.

Francis Roncase, East Greenville, a member of the Pennsburg Junior High faculty for the past three years, has been made head basketball coach.

WALTER D. Heist, Kennett Square, recent graduate of Bucknell university, will teach Senior High school English this year.

Helen Cox, Alburtus RD, will be a new First grade teacher at Red Hill this term.

Mrs. Helen Haring, Pennsburg, is a new Second grade teacher at Pennsburg.

The school cafeteria will go into operation on Sept. 14. School buses will run on the same schedule they followed the past year.

SCHOOLS operated by the township include the two New Berlinville schools (two rooms each), the two-room Morysville school, and these one-room buildings: Landis, Weistown, Gabelsville and Cleaver's.

None of the buildings needed any extensive repair during the Summer, Wren said.

The township board is working on plans for a ten-room consolidated school to be built in New Berlinville, but it will not be ready for at least a year.

Eleven teachers are employed in the present schools.

New Cafeteria To Serve Pupils During School

After a wait of more than four years, Pottstown's Senior High school pupils next week will inaugurate the first full-fledged cafeteria in the school's existence.

Started in 1949 in a basement room of the Senior High school with little more than one gas stove and an ice box, the cafeteria to be unveiled next week will feature some of the latest kitchen facilities, adequate cooking and refrigerating equipment, about five times as much space, and new tables and chairs that will take care of more than 200 pupils at one time.

The enlargement of the cafeteria and the school's participation in Federally subsidized lunches has been a campaign of The Mercury's since 1949.

ENROLMENT UP IN DOUGLASS TOWNSHIP

181 Pupils Registered At Pine Forge School

The two schools in Douglass township, Berks county, will get all the pupils they can accommodate — and then some — when school opens there Sept. 9.

Pupils at the Pine Forge building will total 181; at Colebrookdale there will be 157.

Increased enrolment over the past year's figure has made it necessary to fit up the school hallways as classrooms.

The school board has bought some 25 new desks for each school for use in the halls.

Flourescent lights have been installed in the halls and windows have been altered to insure good ventilation.

THE CROWDED condition is temporary, as Seventh and Eighth graders will be sent to the new Boyertown Joint High school when it is completed. Douglass township is a member of the jointure.

The township already follows the same school calendar as Boyertown.

Earl H. Moyer, principal of the Pine Forge school, will teach Grades 5 and 6 this year. The past year he taught Grades 7 and 8.

Principals of each school will decide which grades are to be taught in the new "hall-rooms." The school board has suggested that grades with the fewest pupils be taught there.

Drivers of the township school buses this year will be Ralph Rhoads and Allen M. Spohn, with Earl Dengler as extra driver.

The school board has decided to allow High school students of Grades 11 and 12 to finish school at whichever neighboring high school they are attending now, if they wish, but they must pay their own transportation.

The township still needs two new teachers and a music supervisor. They will be selected at the Sept. 1 board meeting.

At that time, The Mercury contacted various State and Federal officials on the proposition, printed the complete facts on the subject, and urged numerous times editorially that the cafeteria be enlarged and the Federal subsidies taken advantage of.

COMPARED with the cafeteria the past year, the new cafeteria looks like a completely new establishment.

First, the cafeteria was confined the past year to one room. This year, a second room, more than twice as large as the first, has been added to it.

This was done by tearing down a set of bleachers that extended into the adjacent gymnasium.

This area was then walled in and a door and window were broken through into the first cafeteria room.

The ceilings in both rooms have been "dropped" and are now covered with acoustical blocks.

The walls have been painted a light green and the floors covered with asphalt tile.

The biggest piece of equipment added to the new kitchen area is a long, stainless-steel steam table, for serving.

But other new acquisitions include a refrigerator, and a deep freezer.

Both rooms are lighted with fluorescent fixtures that give the rooms a clean, attractive brightness.

The cost of the whole project will amount to more than $10,000, Dr. George A. McCormick, school superintendent said yesterday.

"But we think the program will pay for itself from now on," he said. "Until this year, the cafeteria has been operated at a loss."

In the second larger room, about 35 new tables will be set up. Each table will seat six pupils.

East, West Vincent Pupils Will Attend New 12-Room School

Pupils of East and West Vincent townships will go to classes in a brand new school this Fall.

The 12-room Vincent Consolidated school is expected to be completed in time for the opening of the term on Sept. 9, a spokesman for the joint board said.

B. Franklin Mower, former president of the East Vincent board, said that the modern, one-story, brick - and - glass building will house all pupils (up to the Eighth grade) from both townships.

The new building is U-shaped, and walls on the southern side are almost entirely of glass to catch the warm rays of the sun in winter.

It is located on the Ridge road near Seven Stars.

ENROLMENT this Fall will be 330, Mower said.

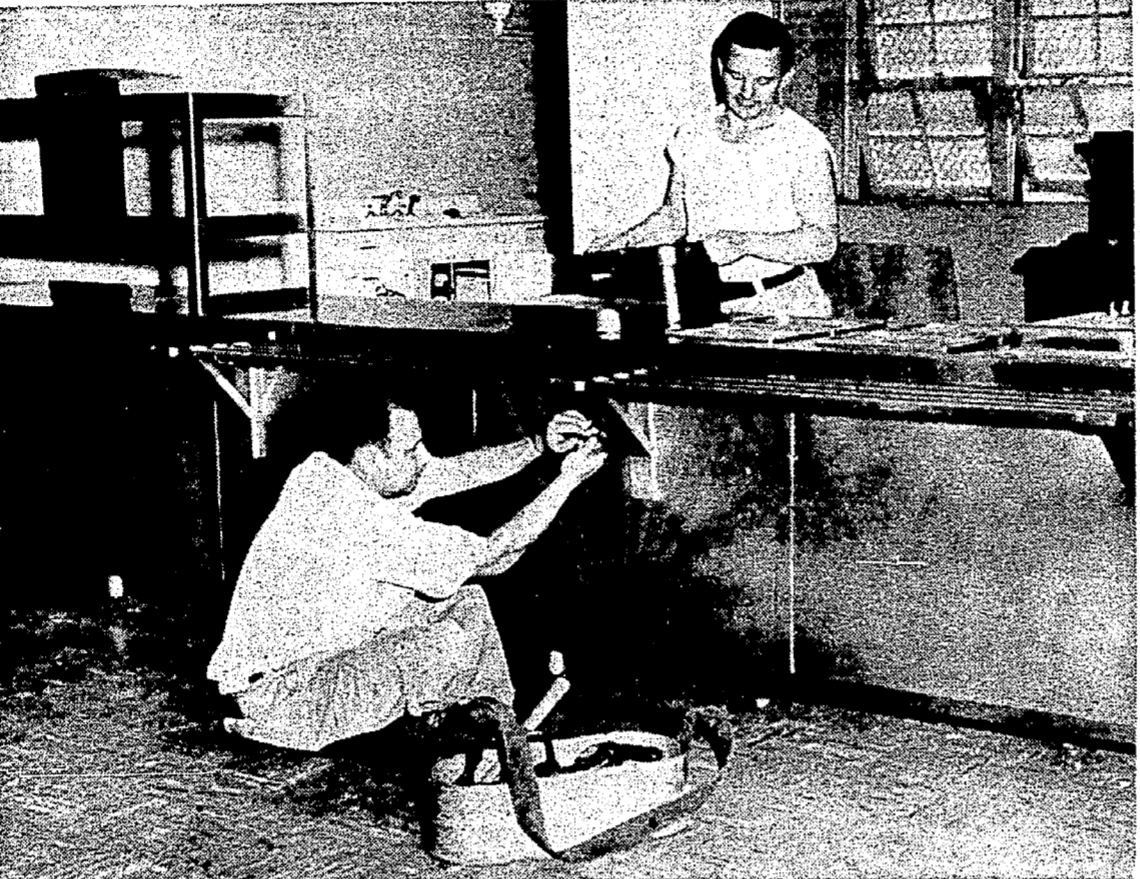

Half day sessions will be held at the school the first three days of the term.

WORKMEN put final touches to the new stainless steel serving counter just installed in the new Pottstown Senior High school cafeteria.

Seated is William Palladino, 25 Chestnut street, whose firm built the serving table.

Standing is Robert Weikel, 29 West Fourth street. The new cafeteria will now hold more than 200 pupils.

George W. Ferguson, of Pugh-town road, Wilson's corner, will head the new school as its first principal.

A 1948 graduate of Ursinus college, Collegeville, he has taught at Kimberton Farms school for the past five years.

Martha High, Spring City RD 1, will be the school nurse. She will be on duty two days a week.

The ten teachers on the new school faculty will all be former teachers of East or West Vincent schools.

The new school will include a fully equipped cafeteria that will open in October.

Church Children Will Attend School

Pottstown area Seventh Day Adventist children will attend the church's private elementary school at Trooper this Fall.

Included in the group going to Trooper will be children of Pottstown SDA church and others from Collegeville.

The Adventist school will open for registration on Sept. 8. Classes will begin Sept. 9.

The school is operated by the Pottstown and Norristown Adventist churches.

Thomas Lord, Pottstown RD, is chairman of the school board.

BESIDES THE regular schedule of classes, a "progressive" plan of extra-curricular activity will be carried out.

The extra activities include nature study, memorizing Bible texts, swimming instruction, knot tying, gardening, and household work.

Classes of children include Sunbeams, Builders, Friends, Companions, Guides and Master Guides.

Although El Salvador is the smallest country in the Western Hemisphere it is the world's third largest producer of coffee—Brazil and Colombia being first and second.

New Cafeteria To Serve Pupils During School

After a wait of more than four years, Pottstown's Senior High school pupils next week will inaugurate the first full-fledged cafeteria in the school's existence. Started in 1949 in a basement room of the Senior High school with little more than one gas stove and an ice box, the cafeteria to be unveiled next week will feature some of the latest kitchen facilities, adequate cooking and refrigerating equipment, about five times as much space, and new tables and chairs that will take care of more than 200 pupils at one time.

ENROLMENT UP IN DOUGLASS TOWNSHIP

181 Pupils Registered At Pine Forge School

The two schools in Douglass township, Berks county, will get all the pupils they can accommodate — and then some — when school opens there Sept. 9. Pupils at the Pine Forge building will total 181; at Colebrookdale there will be 157. Increased enrolment over the past year's figure has made it necessary to fit up the school hallways as classrooms. The school board has bought some 25 new desks for each school for use in the halls. Fluorescent lights have been installed in the halls and windows have been altered to insure good ventilation.

THE CROWDED condition is temporary, as Seventh and Eighth graders will be sent to the new Boyertown Joint High school when it is completed. Douglass township is a member of the jointure. The township already follows the same school calendar as Boyertown.

Earl H. Moyer, principal of the Pine Forge school, will teach Grades 5 and 6 this year. The past year he taught Grades 7 and 8.

Principals of each school will decide which grades are to be taught in the new "hall-rooms." The school board has suggested that grades with the fewest pupils be taught there.

Drivers of the township school buses this year will be Ralph Rhoads and Allen M. Spohn, with Earl Dengler as extra driver. The school board has decided to allow High school students of Grades 11 and 12 to finish school at whichever neighboring high school they are attending now, if they wish, but they must pay their own transportation.

The township still needs two new teachers and a music supervisor. They will be selected at the Sept. 1 board meeting.

At that time, The Mercury contacted various State and Federal officials on the proposition, printed the complete facts on the subject, and urged numerous times editorially that the cafeteria be enlarged and the Federal subsidies taken advantage of.

COMPARED with the cafeteria the past year, the new cafeteria looks like a completely new establishment.

First, the cafeteria was confined the past year to one room. This year, a second room, more than twice as large as the first, has been added to it.

This was done by tearing down a set of bleachers that extended into the adjacent gymnasium.

This area was then walled in and a door and window were broken through into the first cafeteria room.

The ceilings in both rooms have been "dropped" and are now covered with acoustical blocks. The walls have been painted a light green and the floors covered with asphalt tile.

The biggest piece of equipment added to the new kitchen area is a long, stainless-steel steam table, for serving.

But other new acquisitions include a refrigerator, and a deep freezer.

Both rooms are lighted with fluorescent fixtures that give the rooms a clean, attractive brightness.

The cost of the whole project will amount to more than $10,000, Dr. George A. McCormick, school superintendent said yesterday.

"But we think the program will pay for itself from now on," he said. "Until this year, the cafeteria has been operated at a loss."

In the second larger room, about 35 new tables will be set up. Each table will seat six pupils.

Boost Forced In Royersford Teaching Staff

With this year's enrolment already 156 over the past year's, Royersford school district is being forced to add more teachers and provide more classrooms.

Most of the increase is being felt in the Junior-Senior High school, where one room has been divided into two in an effort to accommodate more classes.

Several teachers are being added to the High school faculty too, including one who has been transferred from the elementary school.

School will begin for the pupils on Sept. 9, with total enrolment in Grades 1 to 12 reaching 938 at least.

Dr. Oliver C. Kuntzleman, supervising principal, thinks there will be even more.

"That's because pupils will be enrolling up to the time the term begins," he said.

The principal added that he hoped those who haven't registered will do so as soon as possible.

"They should come to my office at the High school, Seventh avenue and Washington street," he said, "and bring along birth and vaccination certificates and transfer cards."

Admission and grade placement cards will be handed to pupils when they register.

SO FAR, elementary enrolment is 450; High school enrolment 488.

School safety patrol members will be stationed at every intersection on Fourth avenue (which leads to the two grade schools from Spring to Main street on the first day of school).

Pupils headed for the elementary schools will follow the street on which they live to Fourth avenue, and then follow the patrol signals.

Teachers will spend much of the first day explaining school regulations and procedures, and in organizing classes.

There will be a teachers' meeting in the High school at 9 a. m. the day before school starts.

AMONG the new faculty members this year are Kenneth Randall, Norrisville, a graduate of Millersville State Teacher's college.

Randall comes to Royersford from the Lancaster schools.

He will teach Grade 6 in the Adams building, replacing Arling Fox.

Fox is the teacher who has been transferred to the High school for this year.

A new teacher who will be added because of increased High school enrolment is Mrs. Lucy Malloy, Georgetown, Del.

A graduate of Temple university, Philadelphia, she will teach English and social studies.

In the absence of Alice Schimpf, music supervisor, Richard Strange, of Pottstown, will teach vocal and instrumental music.

Strange is a graduate of West Chester State Teachers college.

Miss Schimpf has a one-year leave of absence to study at Temple university.

MRS. JUSTINE Delwijer, Phoenixville, a graduate of Elizabethtown college, will replace Margaret Bourdette in the High school commercial department.

Other new teachers are:

Anella Miraldo, Hazleton, a graduate of Pennsylvania State college.

Formerly a teacher for two years at Wisconsin, she will teach commercial subjects in the High school.

Mrs. Janice Heiser, Norrisville, also a Penn State graduate. She formerly taught at Krutz Creek Valley, York county, for two years. She will teach home economics.

A new secretary to the principal has been appointed. She is Mrs. Frank Rodenbaugh, 730 Main street, Royersford.

The school board will hire an additional clerk for the High school staff, to assist Mrs. Sarah M. Buzard, secretary to the supervising principal and the school board.

Many improvements have been made to the school buildings and grounds during the past Summer.

Workmen for the district completed the following jobs:

1. Converted coal-burning heating system to oil in the High school.

2. Put new roof on High school.

3. Reset parapet wall and waterproofed areas around it.

4. Repaired a lightning-damaged chimney.

5. Put up partition in High school Classroom B to form two rooms.

6. Painted the art room, home economics room and four other classrooms in the High school.

7. Painted three classrooms in the Adams elementary building.

8. Installed furniture in classrooms, including desks in two High school and two elementary school rooms.

9. Laid tile floors in two High school classrooms and one grade school room.

10. Poured new concrete sidewalk and curbing in front of the High school.

The school board has also contracted to have the High school auditorium, two stairways and the basement corridor painted.

When all painting is complete, new stage curtains, draperies and cyclorama will be installed in the auditorium, all before school opens.

Joint School Not Ready for Classes

Pupils in Upper Frederick and New Hanover townships will have to bear with their old one-room schools for a little while yet.

School starts in the joint district on Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. but the new, 12-classroom brick school won't be ready by that time.

Members of the Upper Frederick-New Hanover joint board are hoping they may be able to put a few of the rooms in use then, but they don't hope to have the rest of the building ready until January.

Failure of heating and plumbing equipment to arrive has held up completion of the school.

NEW TEACHERS at New Hanover this Fall are Josephine Bowman, Sassamansville; Mrs. Rebecca Schwenk, Colebrookdale; Stephen Yura, New Hanover, and Elizabeth Goldsmith (music supervisor), Perkiomenville.

Upper Frederick teachers will be the same as those of the past year. The teachers will meet with the county superintendent on Sept. 8 and be assigned to classes then.

One vacancy on the teaching staff still is to be filled.

Total pupil enrolment in the two townships this Fall is 348—Mrs. Thelma Schmoock, school board secretary, reported.

Both townships have more pupils than the number the past year, she noted.

Some New Hanover pupils will be housed in two rented rooms at the Congo school, Douglass township.

Richard Dix's Son Killed in Accident

REDDING, Calif., Sept. 1 (AP)—Deputy Coroner Lloyd B. Noble Jr. said today that Richard Dix, 18, son of the late screen actor of the same name, was killed in a logging accident yesterday.

Young Dix was crushed to death by logs which slipped from a truck. He was working in a logging camp at Pondosa, about 100 miles northeast of Redding.

The youth planned to quit work tomorrow to return home.

A student at Santa Barbara college, he was the son of Mrs. Virginia Van De Camp of Hollywood. An identical twin brother also survives.

With this year's enrolment already 156 over the past year's, Royersford school district is being forced to add more teachers and provide more classrooms.

Most of the increase is being felt in the Junior-Senior High school, where one room has been divided into two in an effort to accommodate more classes.

Several teachers are being added to the High school faculty too, including one who has been transferred from the elementary school.

School will begin for the pupils on Sept. 9, with total enrolment in Grades 1 to 12 reaching 938 at least.

Dr. Oliver C. Kuntzleman, supervising principal, thinks there will be even more.

"That's because pupils will be enrolling up to the time the term begins," he said.

The principal added that he hoped those who haven't registered will do so as soon as possible.

"They should come to my office at the High school, Seventh avenue and Washington street," he said, "and bring along birth and vaccination certificates and transfer cards."

Admission and grade placement cards will be handed to pupils when they register.

SO FAR, elementary enrolment is 450; High school enrolment 488. School safety patrol members will be stationed at every intersection on Fourth avenue (which leads to the two grade schools from Spring to Main street on the first day of school).

Pupils headed for the elementary schools will follow the street on which they live to Fourth avenue, and then follow the patrol signals.

Teachers will spend much of the first day explaining school regulations and procedures, and in organizing classes.

There will be a teachers' meeting in the High school at 9 a. m. the day before school starts.

AMONG the new faculty members this year are Kenneth Randall, Norrisstown, a graduate of Millersville State Teacher's college.

Randall comes to Royersford from the Lancaster schools. He will teach Grade 6 in the Adams building, replacing Arling Fox.

Fox is the teacher who has been transferred to the High school for this year.

A new teacher who will be added because of increased High school enrolment is Mrs. Lucy Malloy, Georgetown, Del.

A graduate of Temple university, Philadelphia, she will teach English and social studies.

In the absence of Alice Schimpf, music supervisor, Richard Strange, of Pottstown, will teach vocal and instrumental music.

Strange is a graduate of West Chester State Teachers college. Miss Schimpf has a one-year leave of absence to study at Temple university.

MRS. JUSTINE Detwiler, Phoenixville, a graduate of Elizabethtown college, will replace Margaret Bourdette in the High school commercial department.

Other new teachers are:

Anella Miraldo, Hazelton, a graduate of Pennsylvania State college. Formerly a teacher for two years at Wisconsin, she will teach commercial subjects in the high school.

Mrs. Janice Heiser, Norrisstown, also a Penn State graduate. She formerly taught at Krutz Creek Valley, York county, for two years. She will teach home economics.

A new secretary to the principal has been appointed. She is Mrs. Frank Rodenbaugh, 730 Main street, Royersford.

The school board will hire an additional clerk for the High school staff, to assist Mrs. Sarah M. Buzard, secretary to the supervising principal and the school board.

Many improvements have been made to the school buildings and grounds during the past Summer. Workmen for the district completed the following jobs:

1. Converted coal-burning heating system to oil in the High school.
2. Put new roof on High school.
3. Reset parapet wall and waterproofed areas around it.
4. Repaired a lightning-damaged chimney.
5. Put up partition in High school Classroom B to form two rooms.
6. Painted the art room, home economics room and four other classrooms in the High school.
7. Painted three classrooms in the Adams elementary building.
8. Installed furniture in classrooms, including desks in two High school and two elementary school rooms.
9. Laid tile floors in two High school classrooms and one grade school room.
10. Poured new concrete sidewalk and curbing in front of the High school.

The school board has also contracted to have the High school auditorium, two stairways and the basement corridor painted.

When all painting is complete, new stage curtains, draperies and cyclorama will be installed in the auditorium, all before school opens.

The PTA raised money to buy the new curtains.

Richard Dix's Son Killed in Accident

REDDING, Calif., Sept. 1 (AP)—Deputy Coroner Lloyd B. Noble Jr. said today that Richard Dix, 18, son of the late screen actor of the same name, was killed in a logging accident yesterday.

Young Dix was crushed to death by logs which slipped from a truck. He was working in a logging camp at Pondosa, about 100 miles northeast of Redding.

The youth planned to quit work tomorrow to return home.

APPOINTMENT ANNOUNCED
NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Henry W. Kumm of Chocoma, N. H., as director of research for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was announced today.

CHARLES BIXLER, architect for Sanders and Thomas, looks over plans while standing in one of the four new classrooms that have been made from the auditorium at St. Aloysius Catholic school.

The rooms will be ready for occupancy when school opens.

Joint School Not Ready for Classes

Pupils in Upper Frederick and New Hanover townships will have to bear with their old one-room schools for a little while yet.

School starts in the joint district on Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. but the new, 12-classroom brick school won't be ready by that time.

Members of the Upper Frederick-New Hanover joint board are hoping they may be able to put a few of the rooms in use then, but they don't hope to have the rest of the building ready until January.

Failure of heating and plumbing equipment to arrive has held up completion of the school.

NEW TEACHERS at New Hanover this Fall are Josephine Bowhe, housed in two rented rooms at the Congo school, Douglass township, Sassamansville; Mrs. Rebecca Schwenk, Colebrookdale; Stephen Yura, New Hanover, and Elizabeth Goldsmith (music supervisor), Perkiomenville.

Upper Frederick teachers will be the same as those of the past year. The teachers will meet with the county superintendent on Sept. 8 and be assigned to classes then.

One vacancy on the teaching staff still is to be filled.

Total pupil enrolment in the two townships this Fall is 348—Mrs. Thelma Schmoock, school board secretary, reported.

Both townships have more pupils than the number the past year, she noted.

Some New Hanover pupils will be housed in two rented rooms at the Congo school, Douglass township, Sassamansville; Mrs. Re-

17 New Teachers to Greet Pupils in Boyertown Schools

Boyertown schools will have 17 new teachers and a record enrollment of pupils when classes start there on Sept. 9.

"The number of new teachers is higher than usual this fall," George B. Swinehart, supervising principal, commented.

"As for enrollment, we expect 1000 to 1100 pupils in the High school on this first year of the jointure with surrounding districts," he added.

In addition, the principal noted, about 200 Seventh and Eighth graders in the member districts will be supervised in their old schools by the new jointure.

BOTH THE HIGH and grade schools in Boyertown will open at 8:30 a. m. on the first day, which will be a half-day session.

The list of new teachers, as released to the Mercury yesterday by Swinehart, includes those already approved by the joint board and those who will be recommended.

The board will meet tonight to consider the recommendations, Swinehart said.

Already elected are the following High school teachers: Alexander Campbell, Robert S. Fisher, Clarence G. Gerhart, Barbara Keller and Kenneth Weisel.

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS and the grades for which they have been recommended are: Harry D. Steckel, Sixth; Mrs. Eleanor C. Weiss, Fourth; and Mrs. Ruth W. Howell, First.

Recommended to teach in the High school are James Ervin, Jerome M. Merke, Nicholas Noel,

NEW PLAN SET FOR CLASSES

Teaching Staff Same In East Coventry

All teachers who served during the past year will be back when the Fall school term opens in East Coventry township.

Pupils will return to the eight-grade consolidated school on Sept. 9, school board President Frank E. Elliott said.

The first day will have a half session only, for registration.

Teachers will go on duty one day before the pupils return, the board president said.

Enrollment this year will be 235 pupils, about the same as the past year.

Returning pupils will find a big and welcome improvement in the school building when they return—a brand new cafeteria, put in during the Summer.

The cafeteria will open on Sept. 14, Elliott said.

Upper Providence will send most of its older school pupils to Royersford and Norristown Junior High schools this fall.

The move is part of a plan to avoid overcrowding in the township's three elementary schools.

In other years the Oaks, Mont Clare and Consolidated schools each housed eight grades.

This year, with 560 pupils to take care of, the school board will send Seventh and Eighth graders of the Oaks and Consolidated schools to the neighboring High schools.

Another part of the plan is the dividing of First graders into two sections with a teacher for each.

SCHOOL will get underway in the township on Sept. 8 with a half-day session, Board Secretary Harold Benfield said.

Three new teachers and a new music supervisor will join the faculty when the term begins.

Mary Nies, of Ephrata, will supervise music instruction in the three schools.

New teachers include one former teacher, Mrs. Ruth Eltinger, of Mont Clare, and two recent college graduates.

Ruth Stillman, Chambersburg, and William Bowers, Boyertown RD 1, are the other two.

Bowers, Miss Stillman and Miss Nies all were graduated from West Chester the past June.

Improvements to the township schools during the Summer include painting the outside of the Mont Clare school, installing some new fluorescent lights, and cafeteria improvements.

Benfield said the board is now

EARL TOWNSHIP ADDS TEACHER

Plans Construction Of New School

Earl township will have one new teacher when school opens there Sept. 8.

He is H. Lewis Coates, Boyertown RD 2, formerly a teacher in Lancaster county schools.

Coates will teach the six grades in the Levensgood school.

Enrollment in the township's five one-room schools will be about 125 when school starts, Ralph Spencer, school board vice president, estimated.

High school pupils will go to Boyertown High school, as Earl township is a member of the new Boyertown jointure.

Spencer said that the present township schools are in "a very good state of repair" but the board is planning a new consolidated school.

"We are required to build because of our membership in the new jointure," he explained.

He said the new building, still in the rough sketch stage, would be built in "a couple of years."

It will have seven or eight rooms, he estimated.

New power developments at Niagara Falls will operate at night and in the off season to cut the flow over the falls to about one-fourth of the normal volume, but will permit almost full flow when sightseers are likely to be present.

With the large enrollment in its history, the joint High school will put every available foot of space to good use.

Even the stage of the auditorium will do double duty. When not being used for dramatics, it will serve as a home room.

The rest of the auditorium, as well as the cafeteria and the electrical shop, will be pressed into service as study halls as well as home rooms.

BOYERTOWN HIGH pupils will have a shorter lunch period this year—30 minutes instead of 40. This will allow one more class period to be added to the daily schedule, making a total of seven classes a day.

Lunch periods will be staggered to accommodate more pupils in the cafeteria. Junior High pupils will eat from 11:30 a. m. to noon and Senior High pupils from 12:30 to 1 p. m.

Improvements made during the Summer to the present High school building include division of Supervising Principal Swinehart's office into two parts. One part will be reserved for working on plans for the new Joint High school.

Halls and floors were newly painted during the vacation months.

Improvements to the cafeteria include a new electric hot food tray to speed up serving and a window to the wash room to speed up handling of dirty dishes.

Colebrookdale, Douglass (Berks county), Washington, Bally and Bechtelsville expect to send their Seventh and Eighth graders to Boyertown when rooms become available.

Angry Parents Keep Pupils From School

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 1 (AP)—Angry parents kept some 160 pupils away from school today in protest against portable buildings being used at one location because of the rapid population increase here.

Only 140 of the expected 300 pupils enrolled at the portable wooden school. Parents complained that their children would have to walk along a road without sidewalks, bordered by a canal and adjacent to a water-filled quarry.

Hoping to solve the problem, school authorities offered bus transportation but a mother declared: "What good is a bus when the area is surrounded by snakes?"

The portable classrooms themselves also met strong objections.

No solution to the problem has been found immediately.

"AUTOMATIC COOK" ELECTRIC RANGE

Here is the finest electric range money can buy... not only does it offer "Pico-Heat" Controls and "Double-Duty" Surface Units but look at these other luxury features:

- Completely Automatic Oven Controls.
- "Bake-it" Surface Unit that brings a pint of water to boil in 2 1/2 minutes.
- "Up-Down" Unit—Up, it's a fourth surface unit; Down, a deepwell cooker.
- Electric Minute Timer, provides accurate timing up to 60 minutes.
- Radiant Broiler, with reflector, gives chare coal-like broiling results.
